Hurricane Lurks Off Carolina Coastline, East Seaboard Alerted to Cape Cod Area

New York May Get Winds to 54 MPH

New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—The populous east coast, alerted for a hurricane as far north as Cape Cod, battened down today and warily watched the advance of the season's first big blow.

Coastal residents, who learned caution from three bad storms last year, began to prepare for Hurricane Connie as soon as the first warning was flashed yesterday. Many along the shore moved to higher, inland safety. Anything that might blow away was tied down or brought indoors.

For New York city the Weather Bureau forecast winds of 25 to 35 miles per hour by tonight, reaching gale force tomorrow. The bureau said that by gale force it meant 39 to 54 miles per hour.

THE COAST GUARD canceled all leaves in the Third District which covers Delaware, New York, New Jersey and parts of Pennsylvania and Connecticut.

Navy ships put out to sea to escape or ride out the storm rather than risk being battered at their docks. At military airfields planes were run into hangars or flown to safer, inland spots.

At Norfolk, Va., two pilots were killed when their plane crashed into the bay. The twin-engine aircraft had just taken off on a flight to safety from the hurricane.

CONSTRUCTION men worked through the night to make as secure as possible a 10-million-dollar radar tower being built at sea 100 miles off the tip of Cape Cod. A coast guard cutter stood by to take the men aboard in case it became necessary to evacuate the long-legged structure.

Along the Carolina coast all highway patrolmen were standing by for emergency duty.

Navy aircraft carriers put to sea from Norfolk, Va., and Quonset Point, R. I., the supercarrier Forrestal, not quite finished in a shipyard at Newport News, Va., was made as secure as possible in her berth.

THE STORM was preceded by heavy surf along the shoreline. At Jones Beach on Long Island bathing was stopped at noon yesterday.

In Washington the Federal Civil Defense Administration puts its units on a 24-hour operating basis in the District of Columbia, Delaware, Kentucky, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia.

The American Red Cross announced that 37 hurricane disaster experts are stationed at strategic points along the coast and it is prepared to open shelters in the Carolinas.

THE NEW YORK WING of the Civil Air Patrol ordered pilots to standby duty. Some 250 senior rescue flyers were put on a two-hour alert for liaison and

2 Charged With Frias Gun Death

Admit Plot, Deny Pulling Trigger

Middletown, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP)—Two New York city men have been charged with the murder of Al Frias, small-time New England boxer, in an alleged $6,000 robbery and counterfeit money hoax.

Authorities said George Ruocco, 25, of 642 Columbus avenue, and Joseph Marsala, 25, of 442 W. 48th street, Manhattan, admitted the fatal shoting but that each denied pulling the trigger.

CHARGES against the two men, who had been picked up in New York city, were announced late yesterday.

Marsala was held for grand jury action last night after he waived examination here. Ruocco's case was adjourned for a week.

Frias's body was found April 22 beside a highway near Monroe, N. Y., in Orange county. The 26-year-old boxer from Fall River, Mass., had been shot through the back of the head the day before.

STATE POLICE Inspector John Quinn gave this account of the slaying after questioning the prisoners:

Frias, a welterweight, first met Ruocco and Marsala while he was working in a Manhattan bar. He thought Marsala had connections in counterfeit circles, and asked him if he could find some bogus bills for him because he had $6,000 to invest in that line for a "New England syndicate."

Marsala and Ruocco—neither of whom had any counterfeit connections—stole a car in New York city, ostensibly to take Frias to a contact from whom he could buy counterfeit money. Frias was shot to death and robbed in the car, near the spot where his body was found. The car was abandoned the next day in New York city.

150 Get Polio Shots; More Due on Thursday

Approximately 150 children in Grades 1 through 4 in the city of Kingston and the towns of Ulster, Kingston, Esopus and Hurley, received polio vaccine shots during a three-hour period this morning at the Kate Walton Field House.

The inoculations will be continued from 9 a. m. until 12 noon tomorrow.

Dr. Dudley W. Hargrave, Ulster county health commissioner, said the inoculations had "gone off smoothly," with most of the children, accompanied by their parents, drifting in a few at a time.

Five doctors, including Dr. Hargrave, eight nurses and four mothers from School 6 were on hand this morning as the inoculations commenced. Three doctors will be at the Field House tomorrow morning.

Dr. Hargrave assured parents of children not available for shots at this time that all children would be inoculated when school reopens next month.

Other clinics for the remainder of the county will be announced.

Assisting at the clinic this morning were Drs. Harry McNamara, Elbert MacFadden, Leon S. Gray, Irving Josephson. Nurses assisting were Miss Kathleen Shurter, Kingston High School and the following from the Ulster County Health Department: Miss Esther Schisa, director of public health nursing; Miss Ann Hayes, supervising nurse; Miss Judith Maxson, Mrs. Rosemary Grimaldi, Miss Agnes Mormile, Miss Mary Lou Wygant and Mrs. Janet Lassi.

Four health department clerks also assisted: Miss Edna Ten Hagen, Miss Ann Weisenberger,

Gas, Water Turn Back Korea Riot

Storm Directed At Red Billets

Seoul, Aug. 10 (AP)—Three hundred shouting Koreans, ignoring a "no violence" edict by their president, stormed the causeway to Wolmi Island again today but were turned back by U. S. troops manning tear gas guns and fire hoses.

The milling demonstrators, continuing South Korea's campaign to drive out Communist members of neutral inspection teams, broke up quickly before the determined stand.

Waving banners and chanting slogans, the mob drove as far as barbed wire barricades thrown up by the Americans, then faltered and retreated.

THEY WERE trying to reach the billets of Czech and Polish members of the inspection groups stationed on the island just outside the port of Inchon.

It was the third attempt to storm the island in five days. The disorders began last Saturday with an ultimatum for the Communist inspectors to get out by midnight next Saturday.

Twenty-two Americans and 80 Koreans have been injured, none seriously.

THE INCHON demonstration contrasted sharply with the comparative quiet that settled over the other four ports where the inspectors operate.

At Kunsan on the west coast, Pusan on the southeast tip of the peninsula, Kangnung on the East coast, and Taegu in south central Korea mild demonstrations were reported.

Crowds of Korean army veterans moved through the streets shouting "The Communists must get out of Korea." They carried signs and placards but no clashes were reported with troops guarding inspection team billets.

THE CALMER atmosphere followed an announcement by President Syngman Rhee that he disapproved "acts of violence." He called the demonstra-

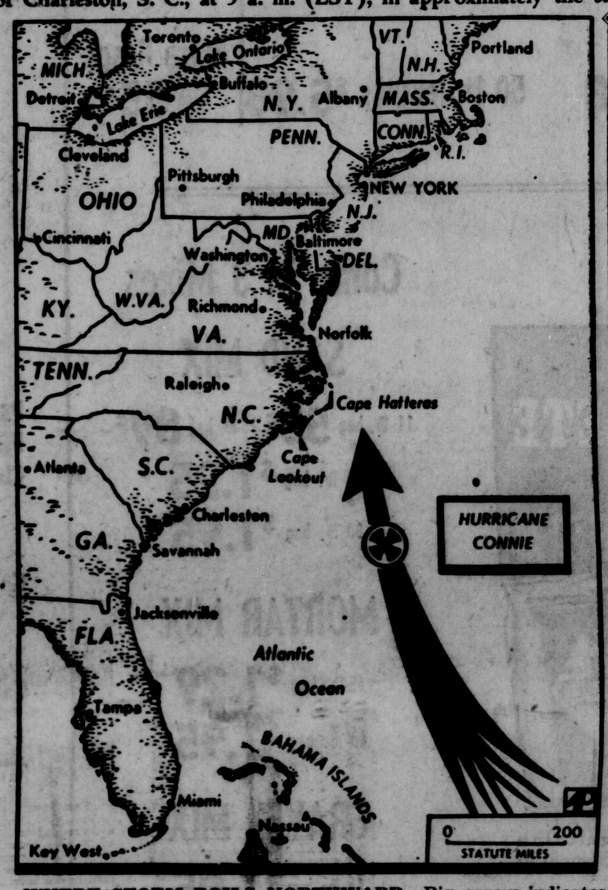
Erratic Movements Keeping Coast Mark in Doubt for Time

Hatteras, N. C., Aug. 10 (AP)—The swirling, 135-mile winds of Hurricane Connie moved slowly off the Carolina coast today, menacing a section of the mainland shattered only last October by Hurricane Hazel.

Its northward course already had brought out storm warnings and frantic preparations all along the eastern seaboard from Savannah, Ga., to Provincetown, Mass. Her erratic movements kept her coastal target in doubt.

The Miami Weather Bureau hurricane staff placed Connie at about 260 miles east southeast of Charleston, S. C., at 5 a. m. (EST), in approximately the same position occupied by Hazel last October when she suddenly gained speed and struck inland.



WHERE STORM BOILS NORTHWARD—Big arrow indicates path of Hurricane Connie as storm pointed toward Cape Hatteras area of North Carolina. A big section of the eastern seaboard was under hurricane warnings. (AP Wirephoto Map).

Connie's speed toward the northwest was set at about 7 M.P.H. No increase in this rate of forward movement was foreseen for some 12 hours. But the Weather Bureau added, "this movement could bring the hurricane winds dangerously close to the coast of the Carolinas in several hours and all precautions should be continued."

Already, however, the impact of this, the first of the season's big blows, could be felt as Connie slowly inched her way forward.

IN ADVANCE of her, gale-force winds whipped the seas into a frenzy, pounding the Carolinas shores heavily at points freshly bulwarked after last year's three heavy blows. Tides were running abnormally high—2 to 4 feet above normal—and were forecast to go higher today.

Hurricane - hardened coastal residents watched the ominous storm flags that fluttered violently in steadily mounting winds all the way from Savannah, Ga., to the Virginia Capes and northward to Provincetown, Mass., and rushed their preparations to meet the blow. The three dangerous hurricanes of last season hadn't been forgotten.

EVERYWHERE there were signs of activity. The Red Cross announced it had put its new "comprehensive coastal disaster plan" into effect in seven Carolina cities. Forty-one disaster specialists were assigned to eight towns—Charleston, S. C., Wilmington, Elizabeth City, Washington, Morehead City, New Bern, Manteo and Beaufort, all in North Carolina.

Connie changed her directions slightly early last night and she slowed down from her previous 11 to 12-mile forward movement. Her new course set her sights on Wilmington, North Carolina's principal port, which suffered heavy damage from Hazel.

The altered course also raised a threat to the South Carolina coastal vacationland which is still rebuilding after the winds and water of Hazel.

THOUSANDS of vacationers were evacuated during the afternoon yesterday. Others planned to ride out the storm in emergency centers set up at key points.

North Carolina highway patrolmen more than 150 strong were posted at key spots with radio-equipped cars. Civil Air Patrol personnel and coast guardsmen were placed on 24-hour alert.

The high winds whipped water across coastal highways along the North Carolina outer banks. The 40-mile highway from here to Ocracoke southward was covered by more than three feet of water.

The coast guard said some 300 residents and vacationers on Ocracoke Island, a fishing and summer resort south of bleak Cape Hatteras, were isolated but in no immediate danger.

Another 100 people, including many vacationists, were bedded down in a special disaster center at the fishing village of Buxton north of here. They too expected to ride out the storm

Parnett Site Is Voted Back In Residential Zone Tuesday

A 1952 business-zone designation on a 12th ward property owned by Alex Parnett was voided by Common Council action last night on the apparent basis of public demand.

A unanimous council vote, with one alderman absent, adopted a report of the laws and rules committee and reclassifies as a residential property a parcel at Lucas avenue and Miller's Lane on which Parnett had recently started construction of a building to house two stores and two professional offices.

Parnett had been granted a business zone designation for the site in February, 1952, and last night's action followed petitioning in behalf reclassifying it as a residential property.

Harry Gold, attorney for Parnett, had argued that sentiment against fulfillment of Parnett's plans, arose largely from reports that the site was to be used for a gas station, and Louis G. Bruhn, representing residents of the neighborhood, held that the area had become more pronounced in residential character since the business-zone designation in 1952.

Voting on the committee report came after a long recess at the session which was a continuation of last Tuesday's regular meeting at which the aldermen were unable to decide on a vote because of the absence of Corporation Council James J. Abernethy, who was on vacation. He ruled last night that it was a question to be decided by a council vote.

Comment of two aldermen before voting indicated that some of the councilmen found the decision a difficult one to make, and that there is sentiment in

Boy, 13, Tries to Save Father Unable to Swim

Efforts of a 13-year-old son to save his father from drowning in Burden Lake near Albany were in vain early yesterday morning as Curtis H. Clay, 40, of Milton, fell from a motorboat and sank in almost 50 feet of water.

The body of Mr. Clay, who was unable to swim, was recovered with grappling hooks about 8:45 p. m. yesterday, about 12 hours after he fell from the boat. The body was about 200 feet from the southern end of the lake.

Mr. Clay was widely known in the Tri-City area as the manager of a supermarket.

Officials said he and his son, Jerry, left their camp about 8 a. m. in two motor-powered boats to cruise about the lake.

His father suddenly fell into the water and Jerry, realizing he couldn't swim and was not wearing a life preserver, jumped into the lake in an attempt to reach his father who started to sink. The boy, in his haste to save his father, forgot to shut off the outboard motor on his boat which continued to circle

Farms Are Stabilizing Force in Area; Kurdt

The importance of agriculture in the economic life of Ulster county was traced briefly yesterday by Albert C. Kurdt, executive secretary of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, in an address before the weekly luncheon meeting of the Lions Club at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Agriculture employs more people than any other industry in the county and is the largest source of income, he pointed out. It has been one of the basic stabilizing forces in the economy of the area.

Mr. Kurdt called attention also to the interdependence of the rural agricultural population of the county and the business and professional people. Sometimes, he said, it is difficult to know how to distinguish between the two groups. He said everything possible should be done to promote better understanding between farmers and city people, to encourage a closer relationship.

Mr. Kurdt said the county lost about 18 per cent of its population during the years immediately preceding 1920 and that since that time there had been a gradual recovery in which agriculture played no small part.

Sewer, Traffic Reports Are Adopted by Council

A committee report favoring two sewer projects and another calling for several new traffic regulations were adopted last night by the Common Council, which recessed, for the second time this month, to Aug. 23.

An appropriation for sewer and street work in a projected development area off Pearl street extension will be considered at the recessed meeting, Second Ward Alderman Benjamin A. Storms said, in moving for the Aug. 23 session.

The council last night approved a finance report calling for a $5,000 sewer project for Jervis street and one of $9,000 on Clifton avenue between Meade street and Flatbush avenue.

NO ACTION was taken on a proposed $30,000 project to improve a sewer in Broadway between East Chester street and Delaware avenue. This had been forwarded from the Board of Public Works with the others at the July meeting.

PW Accused as Bully That Tossed Men Out in 40-Below Winter to Die in Korea

New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—Testimony of former POWs has pictured an American sergeant as a prison camp bully who caused three deaths during a bitter North Korean winter.

The court-martial of Sgt. James C. Gallagher yesterday turned to the deaths of two fellow prisoners. Hut-mates of Gallagher said he tossed the sick and enfeebled men out of the hut and left them to die in 40-degree-below-zero weather.

The case of a third prisoner who died after allegedly being beaten by Gallagher was told in Monday's testimony.

Gallagher, a tall, 23-year-old red blond with a boyish-looking face, is the only American ever tried on charges of having directly caused the death of GI prisoners in North Korea. He is accused of unpremeditated murder, which is classed as second degree, and of collaborating with his Red captors.

Witnesses against Gallagher, whose home is in Brooklyn, said he curried favor with the Reds and got warm clothing and extra food while they shivered in regular army fatigue uniforms and were ill from malnutrition. They said they were too sick to oppose Gallagher when he allegedly threw John W. Jones of Detroit and Donald T. Baxter of Waukon, Iowa, into the cold.

Walter J. Bolinsky, a 23-year-old former POW from Bloomsburg, Pa., said he knew the men were alive at the time because he saw them move.

"Did you hear a--- of the prisoners say anything?" He was asked. Bolinsky answered:

"I heard one ask to come back inside. Then Gallagher stuck his head out and said he wouldn't

Farms Are Stabilizing Force in Area; Kurdt

The importance of agriculture in the economic life of Ulster county was traced briefly yesterday by Albert C. Kurdt, executive secretary of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, in an address before the weekly luncheon meeting of the Lions Club at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Agriculture employs more people than any other industry in the county and is the largest source of income, he pointed out. It has been one of the basic stabilizing forces in the economy of the area.

Mr. Kurdt called attention also to the interdependence of the rural agricultural population of the county and the business and professional people. Sometimes, he said, it is difficult to know how to distinguish between the two groups. He said everything possible should be done to promote better understanding between farmers and city people, to encourage a closer relationship.

Mr. Kurdt said the county lost about 18 per cent of its population during the years immediately preceding 1920 and that since that time there had been a gradual recovery in which agriculture played no small part.

Sewer, Traffic Reports Are Adopted by Council

A committee report favoring two sewer projects and another calling for several new traffic regulations were adopted last night by the Common Council, which recessed, for the second time this month, to Aug. 23.

An appropriation for sewer and street work in a projected development area off Pearl street extension will be considered at the recessed meeting, Second Ward Alderman Benjamin A. Storms said, in moving for the Aug. 23 session.

The council last night approved a finance report calling for a $5,000 sewer project for Jervis street and one of $9,000 on Clifton avenue between Meade street and Flatbush avenue.

NO ACTION was taken on a proposed $30,000 project to improve a sewer in Broadway between East Chester street and Delaware avenue. This had been forwarded from the Board of Public Works with the others at the July meeting.

TEXAS TOWER MAY BE IN PATH OF HURRICANE — Navy Cdr. John J. Albers, in charge of construction of nation's first radar "island" 120 miles off Cape Cod, looks over 6,000-ton structure Aug. 9. The construction firm said in Boston, the Navy is considering evacuation of the 82 persons aboard the tower in face of threat of Hurricane Connie, now churning up Atlantic seaboard. The tower rests on temporary legs and two of three permanent legs in 50 feet of water on George's Bank, a fishing shoal. It is about 100 feet above water surface. A Navy vessel is pumping fresh water into tanks of tower. (AP Wirephoto).

PW Accused as Bully That Tossed Men Out in 40-Below Winter to Die in Korea

New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—Testimony of former POWs has pictured an American sergeant as a prison camp bully who caused three deaths during a bitter North Korean winter.

The court-martial of Sgt. James C. Gallagher yesterday turned to the deaths of two fellow prisoners. Hut-mates of Gallagher said he tossed the sick and enfeebled men out of the hut and left them to die in 40-degree-below-zero weather.

The case of a third prisoner who died after allegedly being beaten by Gallagher was told in Monday's testimony.

Gallagher, a tall, 23-year-old red blond with a boyish-looking face, is the only American ever tried on charges of having directly caused the death of GI prisoners in North Korea. He is accused of unpremeditated murder, which is classed as second degree, and of collaborating with his Red captors.

Witnesses against Gallagher, whose home is in Brooklyn, said he curried favor with the Reds and got warm clothing and extra food while they shivered in regular army fatigue uniforms and were ill from malnutrition. They said they were too sick to oppose Gallagher when he allegedly threw John W. Jones of Detroit and Donald T. Baxter of Waukon, Iowa, into the cold.

Walter J. Bolinsky, a 23-year-old former POW from Bloomsburg, Pa., said he knew the men were alive at the time because he saw them move.

"Did you hear any of the prisoners say anything?" He was asked. Bolinsky answered:

"I heard one ask to come back inside. Then Gallagher stuck his head out and said he wouldn't

Meeting on Atom Test of Wisdom Or Folly of Man

By JAMES MARLOW
(AP News Analyst)

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP)—If you lived on a star and had been watching man on earth through the ages you could not help but cross your fingers as you looked down upon the world's atomic scientists meeting this week in Geneva.

You might wish them well. But you'd have to wonder: "Will they make it this time?" For many times from the perspective of a star, as you watched the generations of man, you must have said aloud: "Why does he always have to make a fool of himself?"

THERE WERE the empires that withered—the Egyptian, the Greek, the Roman, the French, the German, the British. With them were their wars, always fresh testimonials to man's inability to get along with man.

But now man—driven by his conceits and inferiorities, his primal urges and studied cunning, his neuroses, and the endless restlessness that blessed and cursed him through the ages—at last has reached a peak.

Now at last man, in the knowledge of the atom that he holds in his head, has the power to destroy himself and every other living thing on the face of the earth if he cannot finally learn to live peacefully.

IT IS ALMOST as if the whole history of man's combined wisdom and folly has been heading inevitably for the mid-20th Century when, because he has learned too much, he is faced with the last choice between living and dying altogether.

Delegations from 72 countries—including leading atomic scientists from the United States, Russia, Britain, France, Canada—opened their atoms-for-peace conference in Geneva this week.

The meeting had its origin in President Eisenhower's invitation—delivered before the United Nations on Dec. 8, 1953—to the world's nations to pool their knowledge of the atom's peaceful uses for the good of mankind.

IF THE NATIONS can go on from this point and exchange their knowledge of what the atom can do—in creating power, in medicine, in agriculture, in industry—man has a future undreamed of before the bomb fell on Hiroshima in 1945.

But will they go into a real exchange of ideas? And, if they do, will they be able to continue to do it? At the moment they meet, other scientists back home in the United States and Russia are devising uses for the atom in war.

The Geneva meeting is being held during a strange lull in the cold war—a period of almost cordial relations between the east and west—when the big powers are talking of keeping the atom for peace only and abolishing it for war.

It is not this meeting, important as it is and could be, that will decide whether man has found real wisdom at last or is a complete fool. The many meetings which decide that will be those which seek a way to outlaw atomic weapons and atomic war and leave the atom thereafter only for peace.

Diesels Take Over

Decatur, Ill. (AP)—The Wabash Cannon Ball has blown its last head of steam. Steam power on the Wabash Railroad ended with the retirement of a 56-year-old locomotive, No. 573. The road now as completely dieselized. At one time, the Wabash had 850 steam locomotives in service, an official of the road said. Since dieselization began in 1939, the railroad has scrapped or disposed of approximately 300 steam locomotives.

Meeting on Atom Test of Wisdom Or Folly of Man

By JAMES MARLOW
(AP News Analyst)

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP)—If you lived on a star and had been watching man on earth through the ages you could not help but cross your fingers as you looked down upon the world's atomic scientists meeting this week in Geneva.

You might wish them well. But you'd have to wonder: "Will they make it this time?" For many times from the perspective of a star, as you watched the generations of man, you must have said aloud: "Why does he always have to make a fool of himself?"

THERE WERE the empires that withered—the Egyptian, the Greek, the Roman, the French, the German, the British. With them were their wars, always fresh testimonials to man's inability to get along with man.

But now man—driven by his conceits and inferiorities, his primal urges and studied cunning, his neuroses, and the endless restlessness that blessed and cursed him through the ages—at last has reached a peak.

Now at last man, in the knowledge of the atom that he holds in his head, has the power to destroy himself and every other living thing on the face of the earth if he cannot finally learn to live peacefully.

IT IS ALMOST as if the whole history of man's combined wisdom and folly has been heading inevitably for the mid-20th Century when, because he has learned too much, he is faced with the last choice between living and dying altogether.

Delegations from 72 countries—including leading atomic scientists from the United States, Russia, Britain, France, Canada—opened their atoms-for-peace conference in Geneva this week.

The meeting had its origin in President Eisenhower's invitation—delivered before the United Nations on Dec. 8, 1953—to the world's nations to pool their knowledge of the atom's peaceful uses for the good of mankind.

IF THE NATIONS can go on from this point and exchange their knowledge of what the atom can do—in creating power, in medicine, in agriculture, in industry—man has a future undreamed of before the bomb fell on Hiroshima in 1945.

But will they go into a real exchange of ideas? And, if they do, will they be able to continue to do it? At the moment they meet, other scientists back home in the United States and Russia are devising uses for the atom in war.

The Geneva meeting is being held during a strange lull in the cold war—a period of almost cordial relations between the east and west—when the big powers are talking of keeping the atom for peace only and abolishing it for war.

It is not this meeting, important as it is and could be, that will decide whether man has found real wisdom at last or is a complete fool. The many meetings which decide that will be those which seek a way to outlaw atomic weapons and atomic war and leave the atom thereafter only for peace.

Diesels Take Over

Decatur, Ill. (AP)—The Wabash Cannon Ball has blown its last head of steam. Steam power on the Wabash Railroad ended with the retirement of a 56-year-old locomotive, No. 573. The road now as completely dieselized. At one time, the Wabash had 850 steam locomotives in service, an official of the road said. Since dieselization began in 1939, the railroad has scrapped or disposed of approximately 300 steam locomotives.

THROTTLING DOWN A NOTCH

Some alarm has been shown in recent weeks over the great expansion in consumer credit, which is feeding the country's record business boom. So now the government has acted to put the brakes on in one important field—home-buying.

The steps were not severe. Veterans who up to now have been able to buy homes without a down payment will hereafter be required to put at least two per cent down. Purchases under FHA will call for a seven per cent down payment instead of the present five per cent.

Both the Veterans Administration and FHA reduced the maximum term for repaying a mortgage loan from the present 30 to 25 years.

Indications from builders are that this tightening will affect the housing market. Authorities had concluded that under the old terms buying a house had become too easy and painless.

But the credit expansion, of course, goes far beyond the housing field. Installment sales covering a wide variety of products, from automobiles to household appliances to TV sets, have been pushing to new highs. Commercial bank loans to consumers rose about one billion dollars in the first half of 1955.

The total of consumer credit in all forms climbed to a record 31½ billion dollars in May of this year.

Some economic specialists have argued that there need be no great apprehension as this total rises, since the history of the country shows that the average American—the fellow who is piling up this monumental debt—is a superior credit risk. The percentage of defaulters is normally very, very small.

Nevertheless, that same history suggests that if we would avoid serious ups and downs we must be particularly alert at the critical moment when a boom is soaring freely on credit wings. This is the time to show full resolve to control the upward spiral. For if credit is too easy, some people will overreach themselves. And that dangerous process can only go on so long. Then will come a heavy retrenchment that will affect us all.

There are many, many elements of stability in the economy which did not exist in the boom of the late 1920's. But there is no economy which is proof against unbridled, thoughtless expansion of credit.

In its housing action the government has taken beginning steps toward reasonable control of this boom. Raising the discount rates in some areas was another. Still more moves may be called for in the future. If the situation dictates, they should be made fearlessly, in the interest of the whole nation.

GAY MAIL BOXES

United States mail boxes are beginning to blossom out in new colors ordained by the postmaster general—red and blue, with "U. S. Mail" in white. They look fine, bright and cheerful.

It isn't unpatriotic, though, to pay brief respects to the old sombre green as it passes into oblivion. For many years that color has been a symbol of fast, dependable service. All the red, white and blue boxes have to do is maintain that reputation. Then everyone will be happy.

A NEEDED REFORM

Summer, naturally, is the time for entertaining visitors. Friends of past years and traveling relatives drop in for a few days.

With vacation and all its preparations sandwiched in between these visits, Mom, as usual, finds that her work load increases to an even higher peak in the summer months.

So we're plugging for something called Family Week. This is a seven-day period during the summer which the family selects. Visitors are shooed away and all activities keyed to what Mother wants to do. The family eats out, helps with the housework, keeps the diggings picked up.

Pop gets a breather, too. One of the rules is that whatever he's slaving at—painting the house or building a patio—comes to a dead halt during Family Week.

Instead of scurrying around, the family just does what comes naturally—loaf.

'These Days'

HERBERT HOOVER, 81

On a blistering, hot Sunday afternoon, I watched Pierre Monteux conduct the Boston Symphony Orchestra at Tanglewood in an all Brahms program. I say, watched, because I would not take my eyes off this man of 80, fresh, fluent, exciting, more youthful in spirit than many of the youngsters who suffer from Weltschmerz in these days of uncertainty. That afternoon, I dropped in to see Fritz Kreisler, 80, and his wife, Harriet, 85. We talked of Herbert Hoover, who today is 81 years old.

Age seems to be unrelated to years among men and women who live full lives. Perhaps they are too busy to grow old. Herbert Hoover has spent the busiest year of his life during 1954-55, heading up the Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government. He worked about 16 hours every day, seven days a week, read every word of each Task Force report, did most of the writing of the reports which were sent to Congress, attended meetings at all hours and never said quit.

Shortly before the Commission went out of existence, I lunched with Herbert Hoover in New York. With clarity and succinctness, he gave me a run-down of the work of his Commission and what he sought to accomplish and the nature of the conflict of ideas involved in some of his proposals. In these days of foggy thinking and diplomacy by press agents and legislative confusion, it is exciting to discover a public figure who bases his actions upon a philosophy of life rather than upon some temporary political advantage.

Of course, for Herbert Hoover there is no longer any temporary political advantage; therefore he can afford to view public problems with complete objectivity. For at least a decade, I have heard him say that "this will be the last job I undertake. I shall probably be dead before it is completed." The man who is not afraid of death is not afraid of the consequences of life. And therein perhaps lies also the advantage of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, 79, who is proving himself the wisest statesman in Europe. It can mean so little to him if he is unpopular. What has he to lose personally, but what has he to gain for his country?

These older men can well afford to submerge themselves for their country, because they have discovered by long life the great experience that self does not matter too much. What is it that one can give to self, or take for self at such a great age? What men call popularity is empty laudation that has lost all value. I presume that Toscanini, 88, listening to the roar of the crowd at the end of a concert must wonder why they are so excited that he has done well. What did they expect of him? Is the applause really significant or is it that at his age the brain is so fresh that he can conduct Beethoven's Ninth without a score before him, for chorus and soloists? That used to be a feat for younger men; yet I have listened to Herbert Hoover recite the details of America's waterpower with a fullness that is hard to find in dozens of reports.

And so, on Herbert Hoover's birthday, I like to greet America's most revered citizen. It was not always so and that does not matter, either. The years pass and history makes its own record. For Hoover, it is perhaps a glorious day when he can begin to sense what history's verdict will be on his career of more than 40 years of public service, with so little reward of any kind.

But an orthodox, old-fashioned Quaker does not expect a reward and would hardly know what to do with it. As the word, reward, runs through this paragraph, I cannot but think of that night in 1914 when Herbert Hoover and his wife, Lou Henry, prayed until morning for guidance and decided that it was God's will that they give up the pursuit of wealth to devote the rest of their lives to public service. Herbert Hoover since that day never kept for himself or his family any compensation that came his way. It was God's will that it be so.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

AGING PARENTS

"If illness or accident suddenly struck, would you put your parent or grandparent in a nursing home?" This begins an extremely timely article in Red Book Magazine. No one willingly answers "Yes" to this question, doubtless because of the appalling condition of many nursing homes. Neglect, criminal exploitation, even abuse of elderly patients is common enough to discourage many young people from attempting to place their loved ones in these homes. Yet, unfortunately, many young people with no place else to turn, must depend on nursing homes, the bad as well as the good, to shelter their parents. Old age may be cruel and unrelenting, leaving a loved one physically disabled and mentally confused. It can prevent him from handling his most elementary needs; sometimes makes him a menace to himself. When this happens, the younger person responsible for his care must decide whether to go on a 24-hour alert—always ready for nursing or care—or board the parent in some kind of home.

Kenneth Robb, author of the article "How Your Parents Can Get Decent Care" gives ten tips on how to judge a nursing home which should be a great help should this difficult task happen.

1. How does the neighborhood look? Is there a place to sit outdoors? To go walking?
2. How long has the home been operated. Why is the operator in this business? Does he belong to any professional organization? Who is in charge when he (or she) is away?
3. How many are on the staff and what training have they had?
4. Does each bedroom contain a bedside table, lamp, easy chair, drawer space, closet, buzzer beside the bed? Are residents permitted personal possessions?
5. Do more than six persons have to share their toilet? Are there nonslip materials on bathroom floors and stairways, handrails beside tubs and showers?
6. When was the last fire inspection? Is there an automatic fire alarm, sprinkler system, extinguishers?
7. Are the patients neatly dressed? What kind of expression do you see on their faces? Do they participate in any activities? How do they spend an average day? Are the ones who are able to be up and about separated from the bedridden?
8. How do the menus compare with what your parent has been eating? Is the dining room attractive? Is tray service available for bed patients?
9. Can patients have personal physicians? If not, who is the staff doctor or doctor on emergency call?
10. What are the rules about visiting, delivery and despatch of mail? What is the basic cost and what services are NOT included in this cost?

It is suggested that the individual seeking a nursing home memorize this list so as to remember what to ask on the first visit. It is also suggested that before a choice is finally made, a second visit be paid to confirm first impressions.

"If War Comes We'll Be Ready"

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington—(NEA)—Among other things, this first session of the 84th Congress, now adjourned, might also be called the one which decided to let things alone.

This appraisal is not based on anybody's list of what the President asked for, or what congressional leaders of either party wanted to give him. The characterization is based entirely on the spirit of the session.

In the customary interchange of compliments on what a great Congress this really was, it must not be forgotten that the honorable congressmen just got tired of hanging around Washington.

There is plenty more work they could have done if they had decided to stick it out. They could have labored till Labor Day and still not cleaned up the docket.

They decided instead, to heck with it. Let things go till next year. Or at least till fall, if the President wants 'em back in special session.

THE IDEA OF LETTING THINGS ride is perfectly understandable. Prosperity for nearly everyone was never greater. Business is booming. Stock market is wonderful. Predictions for the rest of the year and maybe next year—never higher.

With the international tension supposedly eased and no domestic crisis at hand, there was no urge to try making things better. Let well enough alone. There hasn't been a Congress in years with less desire to reform the government.

There was some feeling that there had been too much of that anyway, in the New Deal days. Maybe the people were tired of too much government. A legislative rest seemed to be in order. So the list of things that Congress in its infinite wisdom decided to do nothing about this year is no longer than ever.

Ex-President Herbert Hoover's Commission on Government Organization turned out a two-foot shelf of reports on things that needed fixing and how billions could be saved. Nearly 200 bills were introduced in Congress to carry out Hoover commission recommendations. Not one of them was acted on.

MEYER KESTNBAUM'S Commission on Intergovernmental Relations brought out another block-busting report to change the Federal-State government setup. It sank without a trace.

It looked for a time as though some progress would be made in getting the government out of competition with private industry, but Congress effectively blocked that.

On an exactly opposite tack, however, Congress refused to put the government into any new business like the Upper Colorado or Hell's Canyon projects. It authorized instead some 107 dinky little five and 10 million dollar river and harbor projects to satisfy local pressure groups.

Nothing was done to give the country more and better highways—which are really needed.

There was a terrible struggle over whether to kill or continue public housing. The last minute compromise to authorize 45,000 new units for one year satisfies nobody.

A BIG PROGRAM to revise the antitrust laws—long advocated by Republicans — was barely touched on in two spots.

Amendment of the Natural Gas Act proved to be too controversial for either side to do anything about.

The Trade Agreements Act was renewed after a struggle, but approval of the Organization for Trade Cooperation to make it work was completely bypassed.

The farm price support program was not changed and the cotton and sugar blocs couldn't even muster enough strength for more government aid and subsidy.

Action on the long-standing aid to education, health insurance and Taft-Hartley labor law revision was put off.

The draft act was extended but the President's plan to build up military reserves was greatly watered down.

One positive thing Congress did do was raise its own pay and that of almost every other government employe. That was one they decided not to delay till next year.

Eisenhower Attitude Called Sensible Toward Race in '56

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 10—President Eisenhower is adopting a sensible attitude toward the question of whether or not he should accept renomination next year—and he is putting veteran politicians to shame by his approach.

For, as the President sees it—and he has hinted at it again and again in remarks to various groups——there is no indispensable man in America. He is right. If a major political party depends for success solely on the candidacy of one man, it may wind up with the discovery that the party's record is so weak that even a "popular candidate can't win on it.

IT IS A STRANGE myth which has wide currency that elections for the Presidency are won on the basis of the popularity of a man. If this were so, William Jennings Bryan should have won at least once out of the three times he ran. A half century ago he pulled the biggest crowds ever known, and there wasn't any radio or television in those days. He was beaten not because of his lack of personality or popular appeal but because his radical views were unacceptable to the majority of the voters.

Few more popular figures have run for President than James Cox, three times governor of Ohio, Democrat, and a great campaigner who drew large crowds from coast to coast. He was defeated in a landslide by Sen. Harding, who spoke a few times from the front porch of his Ohio home in the summer and autumn of 1920 and never made a speech anywhere else in the whole campaign. It wasn't any lack of personality in Cox or Harding's "popularity" that swung the election, as the Ohio senator was scarcely known throughout the country. It was the unpopularity of the record of the Democratic administration of President Wilson which turned the voters toward the Republican party in such great numbers.

MR. EISENHOWER won in 1952 not because of his own popularity but because of the unpopularity of the Truman administration on the issues known as "communism Korea and corruption." This correspondent in pre-convention days wrote that Eisenhower should be chosen as against Taft for the nomination on the theory that Taft couldn't win. But an examination of the election returns in November brought convincing evidence to the contrary—that Taft could have won in 1952, because it was primarily a negative verdict against the Truman administration which the voters recorded. The peace and integrity issues were strong enough to overcome even the "prosperity" issue, as times were good in 1952.

Do 50,000,000 voters really come to know any Presidential candidate well enough to "like" him in a personal sense? They really like or dislike his views or the record he has made, and mostly they are swayed by three major issues—peace or the lack of it, prosperity or recession, integrity in public office or corruption.

President Eisenhower could win hands down, and so could any other Republican nominee if the election were held tomorrow. That's because, in the political sense, there's peace and there's prosperity and integrity in public office.

A YEAR HENCE, if there's an economic recession and unemployment—as there was during the Congressional campaign of 1954, when the Democrats won the House and tied the Senate—even President Eisenhower would have a hard time winning. Likewise, if the peace situation is messed up and the "breaks" go against the President, he could be in political trouble in 1956.

Mr. Eisenhower is right in being dubious about running again. He might ask himself why if he has made a good record, a successor Republican could not benefit by it? He might ask why, if there's peace and prosperity and integrity in office, any Republican shouldn't win. The Republican party organization leaders think their task will be easier if Ike runs, but actually they are revealing an inferiority complex and a bit of defeatism in emphasizing so much their concern over whether Eisenhower is or isn't the candidate.

IT HAS BEEN said that Ike ought to have a good man in the Vice-Presidency to succeed him if anything happens to him during a second term. Richard Nixon is probably better equipped to be President and better informed about the job than any Vice-President who has succeeded a President in office in 100 years. He has, of course, earned the undying enmity of the Communists, as well as various Left Wingers, New Dealers and Fair Dealers, but they will be found in the minority no matter who the Republican candidates are—provided there's peace and prosperity and integrity in office for the present Administration to crow about in 1956.

The Republican party in its four years either will have established itself as strong enough to win both houses of Congress and the Presidency on the basis of the condition of the country internally and externally, or else the presence of seriously adverse conditions will defeat any Republican candidate, including Eisenhower in 1956. That's why the Democrats are trying to exaggerate the Dixon-Yates controversy and why they would have made capital out of the Talbott case if it hadn't been disposed of promptly.

THE BIGGEST single fact about elections which is borne out by the record is that the electorate votes "against things" and, if they have nothing serious about which to protest, they either vote for the party in power or stay away from the polls and don't vote for their own party. That's what happened in England this year, when the "indispensable" Churchill didn't run and Eden, relatively untrained in domestic affiairs, was victorious on a peace and prosperity platform, as millions of Socialist Labor party voters stayed at home on Election Day.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Geneva—The Duke of Kent, a harum-scarum kid of 19, scrambled another automobile recently, and took some divots out of his own corpus, as he was driving back to the British Royal Military Academy at Sandhurst after a night of it. The duke is a cousin of young Queen Elizabeth and this was the third time he had piled up so the academy, the war office and the police of the little town of Camberly, where it happened, all tried to suppress the story. But, for all its faults, the English press, and specially the cheap, scandal-mongers which drench the country with slime, usually spraddles all over any piece involving amy member of the royal family in an unpleasant way, so this accident got the works. The kid was lucky to live through it because his rod was badly scrambled and he had a dent in the back of his head which kept him on sheets until just before his graduation show, which is known as the passing-out parade. However, like the Roosevelt kids who made a similar record back in the "thirties, this boy has a way with the public. The net result to anyone familiar with the life at West Point is that contrast between the British Army's notion of the spartan life and ours.

The Sunday Pictorial, which came out two days later, said two Sandhurst senior officers visited the Duke in the post hospital but that he was neither reprimanded nor blamed. However. "the view was held that unwanted publicity had been directed at the academy."

This is the elite school of the British Army. Winston Churchill "passed out" sixty years ago and most of their field marshals and generals have been Sandhurst men. There is another royal academy at Woolwich, but, as Noel Monks, a special writer, put it in the Daily Mail, this was for a lower order of officers called "tradesmen," including gunners, engineers and signallers. Sandhurst, until recently, has been the dude camp. Sandhurst men went only to the guards and other infantry and the cavalry until 1947 when it was decided that all regular officers must go through Sandhurst. By an interesting paradox, however, back in Churchill's day, Sandhurst was a dump for wild, stupid, otherwise burdensome, kids and only sons of the well-to-do could go there because the "fees" were almost $500 a term.

The side-long comments of the papers, some of the officers and the neighboring public will fascinate a West Pointer. Annapolis is a tight school, too, but has always been relatively lax by comparison with the U. S. Military Academy.

The Sunday pictorial said "The Duke's latest crash has sparked off protests about 'crazy' and 'high-spirited' driving by cadets. A duty officer confirmed that several 'critical letters' have been received. Local residents talk of 'high jinks', of cars being turned on their sides as 'pranks' and of early morning noisiness. There was a party on the grounds Friday night. Bagpipes wailed for open air dancing well into the early hours of yesterday. Local residents complain, too, about the way young men, dressed in mufti, drive up and down the high street, shouting and banging on the sides of home-made cars. The Duke of Edinburgh, husband of Queen Elizabeth, himself a keen driver, was previously reported to have 'ticked off' the Duke of Kent over his driving."

The Duke of Edinburgh once met up with Frank Sinatra and kindred characters in Hollywood and, before the night was over, invited Sinatra and Ava Gardner to do a command performance in London and meet the Queen. They duly showed up and there was hell to pay in Buckingham Palace where the Queen's social secretary is supposed to check the social standing of characters who meet her majesty. This was not too long after Sinatra's grand binge with Lucky Luciano, the Fischettis and similar celebrities in Havana. Nevertheless, the Duke of Edinburgh is a synthetic field marshall and, as such, he was the guy who took the salute as the kid cousin and his graduating class "passed out" of Sandhurst a few days later.

At West Point, the old verboten reads that a cadet shall have no horse, dog, moustache or wife. It now ineludes automobiles. He is never allowed to play around in the post town of Highland Falls and the smell of booze on his breath is ground for summary punishment if not court martial. A few years ago, a cadet with a single, social drink under his belt was advised to gargle Listerine to kill the breath. He misunderstood, swallowed a couple of draughts and fell absolutely blotto at the superintendent's feet. He was canned without his commission.

In June when Red Cagle was to have "passed out" we met at Goofeycrest, Gus Wilson's training camp where Jack Sharkey was training for some fight. Red had been thrown out for marrying his sweetheart on Christmas leave the year before. By convenient chance, the athletic establishment failed to learn of this until he had played his last season of football. Red wanted to go back and visit Buster Perry, Messinger, Carlmark and other football men so we drove to Highland Falls, stopping at a saloon for beer and hard-boiled eggs just this side of the portal. The bartender and the barflies all were his friends and Red, with a Juvenile smirk, disclosed that he and a couple of other brash adventurers had rustled their old civvies out of the trunkroom a number of nights and gone helling around roadhouse speakeasies. To get out they had to climb the hill behind the buildings. They always got back, changed into uniform and made it into ranks when the Hell-Cats, with bugles and drums, roused the corps for reveille.

THROTTLING DOWN A NOTCH

Some alarm has been shown in recent weeks over the great expansion in consumer credit, which is feeding the country's record business boom. So now the government has acted to put the brakes on in one important field—home-buying.

The steps were not severe. Veterans who up to now have been able to buy homes without a down payment will hereafter be required to put at least two per cent down. Purchases under FHA will call for a seven per cent down payment instead of the present five per cent.

Both the Veterans Administration and FHA reduced the maximum term for repaying a mortgage loan from the present 30 to 25 years.

Indications from builders are that this tightening will affect the housing market. Authorities had concluded that under the old terms buying a house had become too easy and painless.

But the credit expansion, of course, goes far beyond the housing field. Installment sales covering a wide variety of products, from automobiles to household appliances to TV sets, have been pushing to new highs. Commercial bank loans to consumers rose about one billion dollars in the first half of 1955.

The total of consumer credit in all forms climbed to a record 31½ billion dollars in May of this year.

Some economic specialists have argued that there need be no great apprehension as this total rises, since the history of the country shows that the average American—the fellow who is piling up this monumental debt—is a superior credit risk. The percentage of defaulters is normally very, very small.

Nevertheless, that same history suggests that if we would avoid serious ups and downs we must be particularly alert at the critical moment when a boom is soaring freely on credit wings. This is the time to show full resolve to control the upward spiral. For if credit is too easy, some people will overreach themselves. And that dangerous process can only go on so long. Then will come a heavy retrenchment that will affect us all.

There are many, many elements of stability in the economy which did not exist in the boom of the late 1920's. But there is no economy which is proof against unbridled, thoughtless expansion of credit.

In its housing action the government has taken beginning steps toward reasonable control of this boom. Raising the discount rates in some areas was another. Still more moves may be called for in the future. If the situation dictates, they should be made fearlessly, in the interest of the whole nation.

GAY MAIL BOXES

United States mail boxes are beginning to blossom out in new colors ordained by the postmaster general—red and blue, with "U. S. Mail" in white. They look fine, bright and cheerful.

It isn't unpatriotic, though, to pay brief respects to the old sombre green as it passes into oblivion. For many years that color has been a symbol of fast, dependable service. All the red, white and blue boxes have to do is maintain that reputation. Then everyone will be happy.

A NEEDED REFORM

Summer, naturally, is the time for entertaining visitors. Friends of past years and traveling relatives drop in for a few days.

With vacation and all its preparations sandwiched in between these visits, Mom, as usual, finds that her work load increases to an even higher peak in the summer months.

So we're plugging for something called Family Week. This is a seven-day period during the summer which the family selects. Visitors are shooed away and all activities keyed to what Mother wants to do. The family eats out, helps with the housework, keeps the diggings picked up.

Pop gets a breather, too. One of the rules is that whatever he's slaving at—painting the house or building a patio—comes to a dead halt during Family Week.

Instead of scurrying around, the family just does what comes naturally—loaf.

'These Days'

HERBERT HOOVER, 81

On a blistering, hot Sunday afternoon, I watched Pierre Monteux conduct the Boston Symphony Orchestra at Tanglewood in an all Brahms program. I say, watched, because I would not take my eyes off this man of 80, fresh, fluent, exciting, more youthful in spirit than many of the youngsters who suffer from Weltschmerz in these days of uncertainty. That afternoon, I dropped in to see Fritz Kreisler, 80, and his wife, Harriet, 85. We talked of Herbert Hoover, who today is 81 years old.

Age seems to be unrelated to years among men and women who live full lives. Perhaps they are too busy to grow old. Herbert Hoover has spent the busiest year of his life during 1954-55, heading up the Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government. He worked about 16 hours every day, seven days a week, read every word of each Task Force report, did most of the writing of the reports which were sent to Congress, attended meetings at all hours and never said quit.

Shortly before the Commission went out of existence, I lunched with Herbert Hoover in New York. With clarity and succinctness, he gave me a run-down of the work of his Commission and what he sought to accomplish and the nature of the conflict of ideas involved in some of his proposals. In these days of foggy thinking and diplomacy by press agents and legislative confusion, it is exciting to discover a public figure who bases his actions upon a philosophy of life rather than upon some temporary political advantage.

Of course, for Herbert Hoover there is no longer any temporary political advantage; therefore he can afford to view public problems with complete objectivity. For at least a decade, I have heard him say that "this will be the last job I undertake. I shall probably be dead before it is completed." The man who is not afraid of death is not afraid of the consequences of life. And therein perhaps lies also the advantage of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, 79, who is proving himself the wisest statesman in Europe. It can mean so little to him if he is unpopular. What has he to lose personally, but what has he to gain for his country?

These older men can well afford to submerge themselves for their country, because they have discovered by long life the great experience that self does not matter too much. What is it that one can give to self, or take for self at such a great age? What men call popularity is empty laudation that has lost all value. I presume that Toscanini, 88, listening to the roar of the crowd at the end of a concert must wonder why they are so excited that he has done well. What did they expect of him? Is the applause really significant or is it that at his age the brain is so fresh that he can conduct Beethoven's Ninth without a score before him, for chorus and soloists? That used to be a feat for younger men; yet I have listened to Herbert Hoover recite the details of America's waterpower with a fullness that is hard to find in dozens of reports.

And so, on Herbert Hoover's birthday, I like to greet America's most revered citizen. It was not always so and that does not matter, either. The years pass and history makes its own record. For Hoover, it is perhaps a glorious day when he can begin to sense what history's verdict will be on his career of more than 40 years of public service, with so little reward of any kind.

But an orthodox, old-fashioned Quaker does not expect a reward and would hardly know what to do with it. As the word, reward, runs through this paragraph, I cannot but think of that night in 1914 when Herbert Hoover and his wife, Lou Henry, prayed until morning for guidance and decided that it was God's will that they give up the pursuit of wealth to devote the rest of their lives to public service. Herbert Hoover since that day never kept for himself or his family any compensation that came his way. It was God's will that it be so.

That Body of Yours

AGING PARENTS

"If illness or accident suddenly struck, would you put your parent or grandparent in a nursing home?" This begins an extremely timely article in Red Book Magazine. No one willingly answers "Yes" to this question, doubtless because of the appalling condition of many nursing homes. Neglect, criminal exploitation, even abuse of elderly patients is common enough to discourage many young people from attempting to place their loved ones in these homes. Yet, unfortunately, many young people with no place else to turn, must depend on nursing homes, the bad as well as the good, to shelter their parents. Old age may be cruel and unrelenting, leaving a loved one physically disabled and mentally confused. It can prevent him from handling his most elementary needs; sometimes makes him a menace to himself. When this happens, the younger person responsible for his care must decide whether to go on a 24-hour alert—always ready for nursing or care—or board the parent in some kind of home.

Kenneth Robb, author of the article "How Your Parents Can Get Decent Care" gives ten tips on how to judge a nursing home which should be a great help should this difficult task happen.

1. How does the neighborhood look? Is there a place to sit outdoors? To go walking?
2. How long has the home been operated. Why is the operator in this business? Does he belong to any professional organization? Who is in charge when he (or she) is away?
3. How many are on the staff and what training have they had?
4. Does each bedroom contain a bedside table, lamp, easy chair, drawer space, closet, buzzer beside the bed? Are residents permitted personal possessions?
5. Do more than six persons have to share their toilet? Are there nonslip materials on bathroom floors and stairways, handrails beside tubs and showers?
6. When was the last fire inspection? Is there an automatic fire alarm, sprinkler system, extinguishers?
7. Are the patients neatly dressed? What kind of expression do you see on their faces? Do they participate in any activities? How do they spend an average day? Are the ones who are able to be up and about separated from the bedridden?
8. How do the menus compare with what your parent has been eating? Is the dining room attractive? Is tray service available for bed patients?
9. Can patients have personal physicians? If not, who is the staff doctor or doctor on emergency call?
10. What are the rules about visiting, delivery and despatch of mail? What is the basic cost and what services are NOT included in this cost?

It is suggested that the individual seeking a nursing home memorize this list so as to remember what to ask on the first visit. It is also suggested that before a choice is finally made, a second visit be paid to confirm first impressions.

"If War Comes We'll Be Ready"

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington—(NEA)—Among other things, this first session of the 84th Congress, now adjourned, might also be called the one which decided to let things alone.

This appraisal is not based on anybody's list of what the President asked for, or what congressional leaders of either party wanted to give him. The characterization is based entirely on the spirit of the session.

In the customary interchange of compliments on what a great Congress this really was, it must not be forgotten that the honorable congressmen just got tired of hanging around Washington.

There is plenty more work they could have done if they had decided to stick it out. They could have labored till Labor Day and still not cleaned up the docket.

They decided instead, to heck with it. Let things go till next year. Or at least till fall, if the President wants 'em back in special session.

THE IDEA OF LETTING THINGS ride is perfectly understandable. Prosperity for nearly everyone was never greater. Business is booming. Stock market is wonderful. Predictions for the rest of the year and maybe next year—never higher.

With the international tension supposedly eased and no domestic crisis at hand, there was no urge to try making things better. Let well enough alone. There hasn't been a Congress in years with less desire to reform the government.

There was some feeling that there had been too much of that anyway, in the New Deal days. Maybe the people were tired of too much government. A legislative rest seemed to be in order. So the list of things that Congress in its infinite wisdom decided to do nothing about this year is no longer than ever.

Ex-President Herbert Hoover's Commission on Government Organization turned out a two-foot shelf of reports on things that needed fixing and how billions could be saved. Nearly 200 bills were introduced in Congress to carry out Hoover commission recommendations. Not one of them was acted on.

MEYER KESTNBAUM'S Commission on Intergovernmental Relations brought out another block-busting report to change the Federal-State government setup. It sank without a trace.

It looked for a time as though some progress would be made in getting the government out of competition with private industry, but Congress effectively blocked that.

On an exactly opposite tack, however, Congress refused to put the government into any new business like the Upper Colorado or Hell's Canyon projects. It authorized instead some 107 dinky little five and 10 million dollar river and harbor projects to satisfy local pressure groups.

Nothing was done to give the country more and better highways—which are really needed.

There was a terrible struggle over whether to kill or continue public housing. The last minute compromise to authorize 45,000 new units for one year satisfies nobody.

A BIG PROGRAM to revise the antitrust laws—long advocated by Republicans — was barely touched on in two spots.

Amendment of the Natural Gas Act proved to be too controversial for either side to do anything about.

The Trade Agreements Act was renewed after a struggle, but approval of the Organization for Trade Cooperation to make it work was completely bypassed.

The farm price support program was not changed and the cotton and sugar blocs couldn't even muster enough strength for more government aid and subsidy.

Action on the long-standing aid to education, health insurance and Taft-Hartley labor law revision was put off.

The draft act was extended but the President's plan to build up military reserves was greatly watered down.

One positive thing Congress did do was raise its own pay and that of almost every other government employe. That was one they decided not to delay till next year.

Today in Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 10—President Eisenhower is adopting a sensible attitude toward the question of whether or not he should accept renomination next year—and he is putting veteran politicians to shame by his approach.

For, as the President sees it—and he has hinted at it again and again in remarks to various groups——there is no indispensable man in America. He is right. If a major political party depends for success solely on the candidacy of one man, it may wind up with the discovery that the party's record is so weak that even a "popular candidate can't win on it.

IT IS A STRANGE myth which has wide currency that elections for the Presidency are won on the basis of the popularity of a man. If this were so, William Jennings Bryan should have won at least once out of the three times he ran. A half century ago he rallied the biggest crowds ever known, and there wasn't any radio or television in those days. He was beaten not because of his lack of personality or popular appeal but because his radical views were unacceptable to the majority of the voters.

Few more popular figures have run for President than James Cox, three times governor of Ohio, Democrat, and a great campaigner who drew large crowds from coast to coast. He was defeated in a landslide by Sen. Harding, who spoke a few times from the front porch of his Ohio home in the summer and autumn of 1920 and never made a speech anywhere else in the whole campaign. It wasn't any lack of personality in Cox or Harding's "popularity" that swung the election, as the Ohio senator was scarcely known throughout the country. It was the unpopularity of the record of the Democratic administration of President Wilson which turned the voters toward the Republican party in such great numbers.

MR. EISENHOWER won in 1952 not because of his own popularity but because of the unpopularity of the Truman administration on the issues known as "communism Korea and corruption." This correspondent in pre-convention days wrote that Eisenhower should be chosen as against Taft for the nomination on the theory that Taft couldn't win. But an examination of the election returns in November brought convincing evidence to the contrary—that Taft could have won in 1952, because it was primarily a negative verdict against the Truman administration which the voters recorded. The peace and integrity issues were strong enough to overcome even the "prosperity" issue, as times were good in 1952.

Do 50,000,000 voters really come to know any Presidential candidate well enough to "like" him in a personal sense? They really like or dislike his views or the record he has made, and mostly they are swayed by three major issues—peace or the lack of it, prosperity or recession, integrity in public office or corruption.

President Eisenhower could win hands down, and so could any other Republican nominee if the election were held tomorrow. That's because, in the political sense, there's peace and there's prosperity and integrity in public office.

A YEAR HENCE, if there's an economic recession and unemployment—as there was during the Congressional campaign of 1954, when the Democrats won the House and tied the Senate—even President Eisenhower would have a hard time winning. Likewise, if the peace situation is messed up and the "breaks" go against the President, he could be in political trouble in 1956.

Mr. Eisenhower is right in being dubious about running again. He might ask himself why if he has made a good record, a successor Republican could not benefit by it? He might ask why, if there's peace and prosperity and integrity in office, any Republican shouldn't win. The Republican party organization leaders think their task will be easier if Ike runs, but actually they are revealing an inferiority complex and a bit of defeatism in emphasizing so much their concern over whether Eisenhower is or isn't the candidate.

IT HAS BEEN said that Ike ought to have a good man in the Vice-Presidency to succeed him if anything happens to him during a second term. Richard Nixon is probably better equipped to be President and better informed about the job than any Vice-President who has succeeded a President in office in 100 years. He has, of course, earned the undying enmity of the Communists, as well as various Left Wingers, New Dealers and Fair Dealers, but they will be found in the minority no matter who the Republican candidates are—provided there's peace and prosperity and integrity in office for the present Administration to crow about in 1956.

The Republican party in its four years either will have established itself as strong enough to win both houses of Congress and the Presidency on the basis of the condition of the country internally and externally, or else the presence of seriously adverse conditions will defeat any Republican candidate, including Eisenhower in 1956. That's why the Democrats are trying to exaggerate the Dixon-Yates controversy and why they would have made capital out of the Talbott case if it hadn't been disposed of promptly.

THE BIGGEST single fact about elections which is borne out by the record is that the electorate votes "against things" and, if they have nothing serious about which to protest, they either vote for the party in power or stay away from the polls and don't vote for their own party. That's what happened in England this year, when the "indispensable" Churchill didn't run and Eden, relatively untrained in domestic affiairs, was victorious on a peace and prosperity platform, as millions of Socialist Labor party voters stayed at home on Election Day.

The Sunday Pictorial, which came out two days later, said two Sandhurst senior officers visited the Duke in the post hospital but that he was neither reprimanded nor blamed. However. "the view was held that unwanted publicity had been directed at the academy."

This is the elite school of the British Army. Winston Churchill "passed out" sixty years ago and most of their field marshals and generals have been Sandhurst men. There is another royal academy at Woolwich, but, as Noel Monks, a special writer, put it in the Daily Mail, this was for a lower order of officers called "tradesmen," including gunners, engineers and signallers. Sandhurst, until recently, has been the dude camp. Sandhurst men went only to the guards and other infantry and the cavalry until 1947 when it was decided that all regular officers must go through Sandhurst. By an interesting paradox, however, back in Churchill's day, Sandhurst was a dump for wild, stupid, otherwise burdensome, kids and only sons of the well-to-do could go there because the "fees" were almost $500 a term.

The side-long comments of the papers, some of the officers and the neighboring public will fascinate a West Pointer. Annapolis is a tight school, too, but has always been relatively lax by comparison with the U. S. Military Academy.

The Sunday pictorial said "The Duke's latest crash has sparked off protests about 'crazy' and 'high-spirited' driving by cadets. A duty officer confirmed that several 'critical letters' have been received. Local residents talk of 'high jinks', of cars being turned on their sides as 'pranks' and of early morning noisiness. There was a party on the grounds Friday night. Bagpipes wailed for open air dancing well into the early hours of yesterday. Local residents complain, too, about the way young men, dressed in mufti, drive up and down the high street, shouting and banging on the sides of home-made cars. The Duke of Edinburgh, husband of Queen Elizabeth, himself a keen driver, was previously reported to have 'ticked off' the Duke of Kent over his driving."

The Duke of Edinburgh once met up with Frank Sinatra and kindred characters in Hollywood and, before the night was over, invited Sinatra and Ava Gardner to do a command performance in London and meet the Queen. They duly showed up and there was hell to pay in Buckingham Palace where the Queen's social secretary is supposed to check the social standing of characters who meet her majesty. This was not too long after Sinatra's grand binge with Lucky Luciano, the Fischettis and similar celebrities in Havana. Nevertheless, the Duke of Edinburgh is a synthetic field marshall and, as such, he was the guy who took the salute as the kid cousin and his graduating class "passed out" of Sandhurst a few days later.

At West Point, the old verboten reads that a cadet shall have no horse, dog, moustache or wife. It now includes automobiles. He is never allowed to play around in the post town of Highland Falls and the smell of booze on his breath is ground for summary punishment if not court martial. A few years ago, a cadet with a single, social drink under his belt was advised to gargle Listerine to kill the breath. He misunderstood, swallowed a couple of draughts and fell absolutely blotto at the superintendent's feet. He was canned without his commission.

In June when Red Cagle was to have "passed out" we met at Goofeycrest, Gus Wilson's training camp where Jack Sharkey was training for some fight. Red had been thrown out for marrying his sweetheart on Christmas leave the year before. By convenient chance, the athletic establishment failed to learn of this until he had played his last season of football. Red wanted to go back and visit Buster Perry, Messinger, Carlmark and other football men so we drove to Highland Falls, stopping at a saloon for beer and hard-boiled eggs just this side of the portal. The bartender and the barflies all were his friends and Red, with a Juvenile smirk, disclosed that he and a couple of other brash adventurers had rustled their old civvies out of the trunkroom a number of nights and gone helling around roadhouse speakeasies. To get out they had to climb the hill behind the buildings. They always got back, changed into uniform and made it into ranks when the Hell-Cats, with bugles and drums, roused the corps for reveille.

Carvel Hearing Slated at 8 P. M.

Attorney Joseph Avis, chairman of the local zoning board, today announced that the hearing which opened last week on application of the Carvel Corp., for a business zone designation on a property at Albany and Foxhall avenues, will be resumed at 8 p. m., today in the city court room, city hall.

An advertisement in yesterday's Freeman said the hearing would reopen at 7 p. m.

Common Council action recently refused the desired designation, mainly on the basis of a petition bearing the names of 23 persons who opposed further commercial use of the property.

Hurricane

should it hit this area.

IN MOST AREAS police and civil defense workers reported an atmosphere of calm. Beaches were thronged with curious who had decided to weather the storm. They watched high waves batter artificial sand barriers thrown up at several resorts after last year's Hazel.

Connie grew to a major threat some six days after she formed far out in the Atlantic ocean. She quickly took the same general path taken by her three older sisters last year.

HURRICANE CAROL, which formed in Florida in August, last year, waited until it got to Long Island before it smashed ashore and into New England, killing 68 persons. Hurricane Edna hit the Cape Cod area Sept. 1 and then moved over eastern Maine and parts of Canada, killing 12.

It was Hazel that was the top killer. She formed in the Caribbean sea, hit Haiti and then fell into the northward grove already oiled by her earlier sisters.

She hit the Carolinas coast Oct. 15 and drove a path of destruction across most eastern states, causing damage which has never been fully estimated, and killing 177 persons.

Girl Tractor Victim

Greene, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP)—Betty Parks, 15, of Greene, was killed yesterday when a farm tractor she was driving on her parents' farm near here struck a tree and flipped over on her. Police said a sister, Sheila, 10, was riding in the trailer behind the tractor but was not hurt. It was the third child fatality in two days resulting from upstate farm-tractor accidents. Two boys were killed Monday when a tractor overturned near Maplecrest in the Catskills.

2 Charged

say have criminal records—came after intensive investigation over a wide area.

State police gave these details:

Marsala was arrested last Friday morning by state police and New York city detectives as he left a subway station in Brooklyn. They took Marsala to the state police barracks at Hawthorne, N. Y., where they said he admitted taking part in the slaying and implicated Ruocco.

Ruocco had been questioned in the Frias slaying on May 9, and to keep him handy New York city authorities put him in Rikers Island penitentiary as a parole violator at that time.

RUOCCO'S WIFE, Dorothy, 23, was held as a material witness in the case. Already held in $50,000 bail each as material witnesses were Ernest Bonnoyer of Fall River and Byron McKenny of Passaic, N. J.

Quinn said McKenny contacted Bonnoyer several months ago and asked him where he could get some counterfeit money. Then, Quinn aded, Bonnoyer contacted Frias and Frias in turn contacted Marsala and sought $6,000 worth of bogus money.

Shortly after Frias' slaying, police found $1,410 in cash in his New York hotel room. Relatives said he had come to New York with only $60. Also found in the room was a note addressed to an uncle in which Frias said he was repaying a $300 loan and was starting to "get a break."

around the pair in the water. The boy told officials his father's motor stalled when he fell out of the boat.

The boy, who only learned to swim last summer, told troopers he saw his father come to the surface again and made another desperate effort to reach him. The father disappeared the second time and the boy shed his pants and shirt in the lake and started to swim around in a futile attempt to locate him.

His cries attracted the attention of Mrs. Daniel J. Conners, who has a summer home at the far end of the lake, and she summoned her husband who, in turn, aroused Patrick Igoe and Kenneth Marsh Jr., of Albany, who have camps nearby.

When they reached the youngster he was completely exhausted and almost unconscious, it was reported.

Briton Says

answer to a question as to whether it was possible to control the fusion reaction:

"It will come in the end—its bound to come. The ingenuity of engineers is so great that I'm convinced that any proposition you can put to them and that does not deny any physical principle will be solved in a relatively short time."

Asked what he meant by a relatively short time, Sir George replied:

"A generation, shall we say."

Dr. Homi Bhabha, head of India's atomic energy project, said Monday that a way will be found to control fusion energy "within the next two decades."

Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the American Atomic Energy Commission has so far declined to comment on Bhabha's prediction.

Cockroft directs Britain's Harwell Atomic Energy Establishment.

In a report to the Atomic Conference, he said Britain hopes to so improve the nuclear power process that by the end of the century a ton of uranium will do the work of a million tons of coal.

He said developments in "breeding" of atomic fuel would play a key role in the program. A "breeder" reactor is one in which at least as much fissionable material is created as is consumed in keeping the atomic reaction going.

"The possible United Kingdom requirements in the year 2000 for the equivalent of 250 million tons of coal a year would be met by burning 250 tons of uranium or thorium a year if breeding is by then fully developed," Cockroft said.

Carvel Hearing Slated at 8 P. M.

Attorney Joseph Avis, chairman of the local zoning board, today announced that the hearing which opened last week on application of the Carvel Corp., for a business zone designation on a property at Albany and Foxhall avenues, will be resumed at 8 p. m., today in the city court room, city hall.

An advertisement in yesterday's Freeman said the hearing would reopen at 7 p. m.

Common Council action recently refused the desired designation, mainly on the basis of a petition bearing the names of 23 persons who opposed further commercial use of the property.

55 Degrees No Record for Aug. 10

High for both Monday and Tuesday was 104 on both Aug. 8 and 9, 1949, and the 11th that year produced a high of 102 degrees. Yesterday's high was 85 at 5 p. m.

Hurricane

should it hit this area.

IN MOST AREAS police and civil defense workers reported an atmosphere of calm. Beaches were thronged with curious who had decided to weather the storm. They watched high waves batter artificial sand barriers thrown up at several resorts after last year's Hazel.

Connie grew to a major threat some six days after she formed far out in the Atlantic ocean. She quickly took the same general path taken by her three older sisters last year.

HURRICANE CAROL, which formed in Florida in August, last year, waited until it got to Long Island before it smashed ashore and into New England, killing 68 persons. Hurricane Edna hit the Cape Cod area Sept. 1 and then moved over eastern Maine and parts of Canada, killing 12.

It was Hazel that was the top killer. She formed in the Caribbean sea, hit Haiti and then fell into the northward grove already oiled by her earlier sisters.

She hit the Carolinas coast Oct. 15 and drove a path of destruction across most eastern states, causing damage which has never been fully estimated, and killing 177 persons.

Girl Tractor Victim

Greene, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP)—Betty Parks, 15, of Greene, was killed yesterday when a farm tractor she was driving on her parents' farm near here struck a tree and flipped over on her. Police said a sister, Sheila, 10, was riding in the trailer behind the tractor but was not hurt. It was the third child fatality in two days resulting from upstate farm-tractor accidents. Two boys were killed Monday when a tractor overturned near Maplecrest in the Catskills.

2 Charged

say have criminal records—came after intensive investigation over a wide area.

State police gave these details:

Marsala was arrested last Friday morning by state police and New York city detectives as he left a subway station in Brooklyn. They took Marsala to the state police barracks at Hawthorne, N. Y., where they said he admitted taking part in the slaying and implicated Ruocco.

Ruocco had been questioned in the Frias slaying on May 9, and to keep him handy New York city authorities put him in Rikers Island penitentiary as a parole violator at that time.

RUOCCO'S WIFE, Dorothy, 23, was held as a material witness in the case. Already held in $50,000 bail each as material witnesses were Ernest Bonnoyer of Fall River and Byron McKenny of Passaic, N. J.

Quinn said McKenny contacted Bonnoyer several months ago and asked him where he could get some counterfeit money. Then, Quinn aded, Bonnoyer contacted Frias and Frias in turn contacted Marsala and sought $6,000 worth of bogus money.

Shortly after Frias' slaying, police found $1,410 in cash in his New York hotel room. Relatives said he had come to New York with only $60. Also found in the room was a note addressed to an uncle in which Frias said he was repaying a $300 loan and was starting to "get a break."

around the pair in the water. The boy told officials his father's motor stalled when he fell out of the boat.

The boy, who only learned to swim last summer, told troopers he saw his father come to the surface again and made another desperate effort to reach him. The father disappeared the second time and the boy shed his pants and shirt in the lake and started to swim around in a futile attempt to locate him.

His cries attracted the attention of Mrs. Daniel J. Conners, who has a summer home at the far end of the lake, and she summoned her husband who, in turn, aroused Patrick Igoe and Kenneth Marsh Jr., of Albany, who have camps nearby.

When they reached the youngster he was completely exhausted and almost unconscious, it was reported.

Briton Says

answer to a question as to whether it was possible to control the fusion reaction:

"It will come in the end—its bound to come. The ingenuity of engineers is so great that I'm convinced that any proposition you can put to them and that does not deny any physical principle will be solved in a relatively short time."

Asked what he meant by a relatively short time, Sir George replied:

"A generation, shall we say."

Dr. Homi Bhabha, head of India's atomic energy project, said Monday that a way will be found to control fusion energy "within the next two decades."

Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the American Atomic Energy Commission has so far declined to comment on Bhabha's prediction.

Cockroft directs Britain's Harwell Atomic Energy Establishment.

In a report to the Atomic Conference, he said Britain hopes to so improve the nuclear power process that by the end of the century a ton of uranium will do the work of a million tons of coal.

He said developments in "breeding" of atomic fuel would play a key role in the program. A "breeder" reactor is one in which at least as much fissionable material is created as is consumed in keeping the atomic reaction going.

"The possible United Kingdom requirements in the year 2000 for the equivalent of 250 million tons of coal a year would be met by burning 250 tons of uranium or thorium a year if breeding is by then fully developed," Cockroft said.

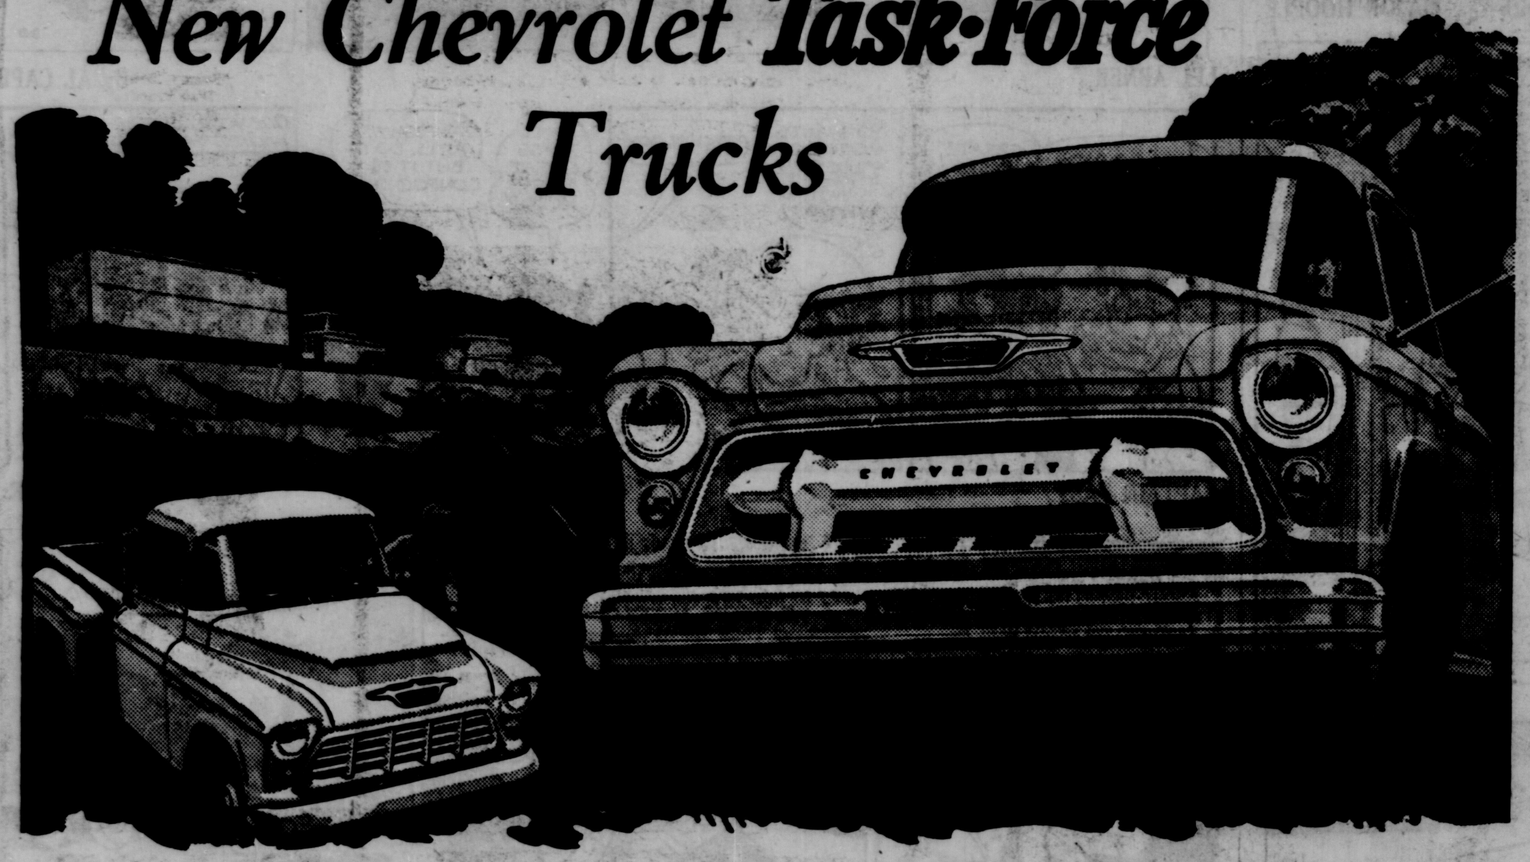
Step in . . . and command the most modern truck power on any job!

New Chevrolet Task-Force Trucks



Seven new "high-voltage" high-compression valve-in-head engines!

Here's hour-saving, dollar-saving power for your job . . . the biggest choice of engines in Chevrolet truck history! And they're the most modern engines in the industry!

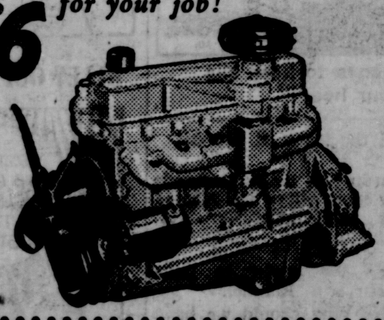
You've got it good under the hood with a new Chevrolet Task-Force truck! With two new V8's and five new sixes to choose from, you can pick the power that's tailor-made to do your kind of hauling.

Shortest stroke V8's in any leading truck! Both of Chevrolet's new truck V8's have an ultra-short stroke—shortest of any V8 in any leading truck. They're of modern oversquare design, which means that the piston stroke is smaller than the bore. The result is less piston travel per mile . . . longer engine life. Also, Chevrolet's compact truck V8's deliver exceptionally high horsepower per pound of engine weight. More power is actually available for hauling your loads!

Modern 12-volt electrical system! You get this great development in all new Chevrolet truck engines—both V8's and sixes. The 12-volt electrical system delivers twice the punch for quicker cold-weather starting (up to 30% faster cranking speed). It also provides a hotter, fatter spark for better ignition.

Come in and command the most modern truck power for your job!

V8 or 6 you get the right power for your job!



Year after year . . . America's best-selling truck! CHEVROLET

Shoemaker Takes Advice of Father, Stops at $32,000

New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—Shoemaker Gino Prato—still accustomed to following his father's advice at the age of 55—has taken his $32,000 and given up on "the $64,000 question."

A cable from Papa Prato in Italy advised: "Stop where you are. That's enough this way. Regards, Daddy."

AND THAT's what the Bronx cobbler, with the pleasing ways and amazing operatic lore, did last night.

Before a jammed studio and a vast television audience, Prato took a check for the $32,000 he had won so far. He translated the cable from Genoa, and said:

"Because I take by Daddy's advice all my life, I accept."

PRATO SAID he received the cable from his 92-year-old father this week, in the midst of a dilemma over a deluge of "do" and "don't" advice from well wishers.

No one yet has tried for the grand prize on the CBS-TV Giveaway show.

If Prato had taken a chance and lost, he would have received an expensive automobile as a consolation prize.

Prato mentioned the income tax angle as he explained his decision to give up. After income taxes on the $32,000, he will net roughly $21,600. If he had taken a chance and won the $64,000, he would have received about $13,480 additional after taxes. Prato said he was not worried about the income taxes, but was influenced by the cable from his father.

Under the policy of the show, the opera question Prato would have faced last night will remain a secret.

Bond Scurry

Raleigh, N. C. (AP)—The General Assembly wanted to regulate out-of-state health and accident insurance underwriters and proposed a measure calling for a $500 bond for non-resident salesmen. Somehow non-resident wasn't written into the bill which passed. All salesmen have been scurrying about getting bonded.

Social Security Act 20 Years Old Sunday, August 14

It was 20 years ago, on August 14, 1935, that the Social Security Act became law, George J. Johnson, district manager of the local social security office, reminded people in this area today.

Generally, when people refer to social security, they are talking about the old-age and survivors insurance program under the Social Security Act, he said. In commemorating the 20th anniversary of the signing of this law, Mr. Johnson indicated how it is now affecting the lives of almost all of us. He said that almost eight million persons are now receiving over 400 million dollars every month in benefits under the program. Over 70 million people are now under the law so that in the event of retirement or death, they or their families will be eligible for benefits.

THE AVERAGE retired worker is now receiving $60 a month. However, the average for those who have retired in the past few years is $80 a month and their wives' benefits average $41 a month. Moreover, Mr. Johnson said that an important part of the old-age and survivors insurance program is the protection given to widows and children in the event of the workers' death. Today, the average benefit for a young widow with two minor children is $185 a month. Total family benefits can be as much as $200 a month. In addition, lump-sum death payments range from $80 to $255.

Looking ahead 20 years to 1975, Mr. Johnson predicted that by then 93 million Americans will be insured under the program. It is expected that of the 20 million persons over 65 at that time, four out of five will be eligible for benefits.

THE AVERAGE retired worker is now receiving $60 a month. However, the average for those who have retired in the past few years is $80 a month and their wives' benefits average $41 a month. Moreover, Mr. Johnson said that an important part of the old-age and survivors insurance program is the protection given to widows and children in the event of the workers' death. Today, the average benefit for a young widow with two minor children is $185 a month. Total family benefits can be as much as $200 a month. In addition, lump-sum death payments range from $80 to $255.

Looking ahead 20 years to 1975, Mr. Johnson predicted that by then 93 million Americans will be insured under the program. It is expected that of the 20 million persons over 65 at that time, four out of five will be eligible for benefits.

Will Return to Sweden

Hollywood, Aug. 10 (AP)—The girl who came here to become Miss Universe says she's going back to Sweden, where she's just Hillevi Rombin. But blonde, statuesque Hillevi says she'll come back to Hollywood Sept. 12, when she's due to resume work as an actress at Universal-International Studios. "I want to see my family, my boy friend, and my other friends," Miss Rombin, 21, said yesterday when she announced that she is leaving by plane tonight.

Baruch Advises A-Weapon Control In Present Time

New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—Bernard M. Baruch, addressing himself to the Soviet leadership, says "whatever opportunity still exists to bring atomic weapons under control should be seized now."

Baruch says that "the longer nations have to produce fissionable materials, the more difficult it becomes to devise adequate safeguards against the diversion of these materials to war."

Baruch, who gave a recorded address last night on the CBS radio program "Age of the Atom," said he was aiming his plea at the "new" Soviet leaders.

THE ATOMIC control advocate, financier and adviser to Presidents said:

"Do not wait so long that atomic energy becomes uncontrolable. Do not lose for the world what opportunity still exists to bring atomic weapons under control and to prevent the fallout of perpetual fear from settling on each of us."

Saying that lack of effective world control is the chief obstacle to a "magical expansion" of peaceful atomic uses, Baruch added:

"Unless the fear of atomic catastrophe can be stilled by a system of foolproof control, there can be no basis for lasting peace.

THE GOAL of the United States consistently has been the widest possible peaceful use of atomic energy, Baruch said, adding:

"That was the objective of the proposals for international control of atomic energy which were formulated during the administration of President Harry Truman and which I was privileged to present to the United Nations."

"Behind these proposals was the realization that atomic energy was truly like a giant—powerful enough to lift mankind to new heights of material welfare, but also powerful enough to pound the world into ruins—a lifting hand or a crushing fist."

URGING "a balanced reduction of all armaments," Baruch said:

"That, in turn, requires a safe and foolproof system of inspection, control and punishment for infringement so each nation can be assured that every other country is living up to the agreement."

The American atom control plan presented to the United Nations by Baruch was rejected by the Russians at that time, mainly because of provisions for international inspection of atomic resources.

35 YMCA Boys Visit Bear Mountain Park

Thirty-five boys of the YMCA made their sixth trip of the summer season when they visited Bear Mountain Park on Monday. The trip included a softball game, climbed mountains and visited the zoo and museum. The day was topped off with a swim in the Bear Mountain pool.

Remaining trips are scheduled for Monday, Aug. 15 to the Western Printing Company and Spring Lake in Red Hook, Aug. 22 to the YMCA Day Camp at DeWitt Lake Aug. 20 to Lake Taconic.

AFL Refuses Merger

Chicago, Aug. 10 (AP)—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor has refused to approve the merger of a member union with the Fur and Leather Workers Union. Now independent, the 60,000-member Fur and Leather Workers Union was ousted from the Congress of Industrial Organizations on charges of Communist domination. The 282,000-member AFL Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen yesterday announced that it has taken control of the Fur Workers Union and has forced out 11 officials the AFL considered "objectionable."

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Parnassus Galleries Will Have Lecture

Woodstock, Aug. 10—The public is invited to the next lecture at Parnassus Square Galleries in connection with the Writers' Workshop. On Saturday, at 8:30 p. m., Peter Neagoe will speak on "The Word."

Peter Neagoe is one of the important writers of our time. He also bridges the new world with the old world that he had left behind when at the age of 20 he left Transylvania, then part of Hungary. "Although quite an advanced sapling," he writes, "I believe I struck roots in American soil, for now my heart is here. Then, too, while I know four other languages well, I think and write in English. When I started to dream in English, I realized this was my language."

His novels, Eastern Sun, There Is My Heart, A Time To Keep, and Winning a Wife (short stories) have been translated into French, German, Dutch, Scandinavian, Romanian, and other languages.

The critics say this about Winning A Wife: "These stories are village gossip, and high art," —Lewis Gannett, N. Y. Herald Tribune; "They are as natural as the sun,"—Whit Burnett, Books; As psychological studies they are of value, as examples of modern realism nothing better has been done,"—Boston Transcript.

The critics say this about Eastern Sun: "Neagoe" is a patient and almost prayerful evoker of natural sights and sounds, and his style brings them forth so freshly and simply and precisely that the pages move with the wind in the wheat field,"—Whit Burnett, Books; "For the richness of its color, its gentle beauty and exceptional sense of life, this novel deserves to be read."—New York Times.

Plan International Folksongs Program

Woodstock, Aug. 10—Wednesday, Aug. 17, Robert and Louise DeCormier will present a program of International Folksongs at Parnassus Square at 9 p. m. These folk singers have performed at Vassar College, Brandeis University, for the New York City Museum of Modern Art, the Brooklyn Museum of Art, and will appear at the Macmillan Theatre for Columbia University's folk music series, during the 1955-56 season.

Recently they completed a 10-inch L.P. record "Folksong and Ballads" to be released by Stinson Records in the fall of 1955, as well as another record "Folksongs of the Catskills."

Robert DeCormier was graduated from the Juilliard School of Music. He composed music for Rachel Productions, "The World of Shokm Abeichem" and a TV film "The Railsplitter." He trained and conducted the chorus for the Phoenix Theatre production of "Sandhog."

Louise De Cormier was graduated from the Neighborhood Playhouse School of the Theater; studied dance with Martha Graham and appeared in the 1949 road company of Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Allegro."

Postpone Poetry Talk

Woodstock, Aug. 10 — The scheduled talk at Parnassus Square by Helen Wolfert, on Poetry Readings, announced for Saturday, Aug. 20, has been changed to Friday, Aug. 19, at 8:30 p. m. The program was changed because of the dance for the benefit of the Woodstock Artists Association building fund, will be held Saturday, Aug. 20, at the Art Students League.

Dance Postponed

Woodstock, Aug. 10 — The dance scheduled for Aug. 13, at the Wittenberg Sportsmen's Club, has been postponed to Saturday, Aug. 20, owing to a conflict with a dance being held at the Bearsville Lodge by the Mt. Tobias Sportsmen's Club. It has been announced that 156 were served at the clambake of the Sportsmen's Club on Sunday.

Pressman Gallery Open

Woodstock, Aug. 10 — The Michel Pressman Primitive Gallery, on Neher street is now open to the public. The hours are Fridays, 8 to 10 p. m., Saturdays, 3 to 6 p. m., and Sundays from 3 to 5 p. m. Admission is free to the public.

The gallery has been enlarged and included many paintings not exhibited heretofore in Woodstock, and also includes a number of paintings loaned by the following collectors: Mr. and Mrs. T. Jarvis, Woodstock—The Snow Man, Walls of Jericho, Jacob's Dream; Mr. and Mrs. H. Epstein, Bayside, L. I.—Sukoth Chanukah; Mrs. L. Sanders, Brooklyn—Early Spring; George Lawton, New York—David and Goliath; Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Lethbridge, Woodstock — The Fishermen.

Village Notes

Woodstock, Aug. 10—Mr. and Mrs. George Berk entertained at a party at their home on Glasco Turnpike Saturday night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Barnett Byman, following the concert in which Mrs. Byman appeared at the Maverick Concert Hall. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Rush Harp, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Graf, Alexander Semmler, Dr. and Mrs. Boris Paul and Dr. and Mrs. Peretz Halpern, and Mrs. Byman's mother, Mrs. Block.

Mrs. Aurel S. Holumzer is at Kingston Hospital.

Carol and Elaine Cousins, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Cousins, arrived home Sunday afternoon after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Alton Hoyt of Poughkeepsie. The Cousins family, the Hoyts and Mrs. Mollie Higgins Smith went to North Lake Sunday evening.

Woodstock, Aug. 10 — Mrs. Gladys Reynolds, aunt of Miss Joan Mower, gave a shower for Miss Mower, Thursday evening, August 4. The shower was held at Mrs. Reynolds' home on the Bearsville road and 20 friends attended.

The baseball game played at Phoenicia last Thursday with the Jones Boys from Woodstock, brought victory to Phoenicia with a score of 10 to 1.

Doodles to Jail

Lansing, Mich. (AP)—A young burglar doodled his way into jail while ransacking a Lansing office. Among his loot was a fountain pen with which he doodled his name on an office scratch pad. Police ran down the name in the city directory. The boy confessed.

20-Year Fight Gives Washington Vote in Primary

By JAMES C. MUNN
AP Special Washington Service

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—A scrappy, cigar-smoking New Yorker, 59-year-old John P. Mullen, has just won a 20-year fight. And like the good Irishman he is, he's spoiling for another.

Largely because of Mullen's efforts, Congress passed a bill last week to give residents of the District of Columbia a vote in the selection of delegates to presidential nominating conventions.

"IT'S BEEN more than 20 years, if you please," said Mullen, "since I wrote the presidential primary bill first introduced by the late, Lord bless his soul, Sen. (Royal S.) Copeland."

(Copeland, a New York city Democrat, died in 1938 while still a senator.)

Mullen, a native of Albany who still retains his distinctive Albany-Irish accent, swears "by all the saints above" that he will not rest content until full suffrage is accorded citizens of Washington.

"'Tis only 59 I am," he told a visitor to his law office, "and I have many a good scrap left in me."

Mullen, who candidly admits that politics and the law "are life's blood for me," said his paternal grandfather—a mason by trade—assisted "the dignitaries" in the laying of the cornerstone for the New York state capitol.

MULLEN IS a graduate of Georgetown University. He made his first big plunge into politics when, in 1921, he became secretary to the late Rep. Peter Ganesvoort Ten Eyck, Albany Democrat.

Ten Eyck declined remonination for another term but Mullen remained in Washington after being offered the job of secretary to the then chief judge of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

"I was overwhelmed by the offer," Mullen recalls, "and I couldn't accept fast enough."

FROM THERE he entered the practice of criminal law.

Mullen said he became interested in getting Washingtonians a primary vote because local political bosses were able to perpetuate themselves as delegates to the presidential conventions.

After Copeland first introduced the primary bill, he said, "nothing happened."

"It was introduced in every session thereafter," Mullen said, "but, until this year, it got nowhere."

REFUSING to accept defeat, Mullen hounded members of the House and Senate through the years and appealed constantly to civic leaders for help. He got it.

"But those self-anointed, self-appointed political bosses successfully opposed it," he said. "Every four years they hand-picked and paraded off to the convention certain alleged delegates without the consent of the people, if you please.

"Ah, but now that we have the primary (only President Eisenhower's signature is required to make it law), thanks to the hard work of so many good people, those days are gone."

Most important, Mullen thinks, is that Washington residents now have a chance to demonstrate responsibility at the polls, and "to exercise a vote with decency, dignity and decorum."

He insists the initial victory is a stepping stone to full suffrage for Washington.

"You'll see," he predicts. And he adds:

"I'll join all the other people in the fight for that, even if it takes another 20 years."

Lichens grows more widely over the earth's surface than any other kind of plant.

Baruch Advises A-Weapon Control In Present Time

New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—Bernard M. Baruch, addressing himself to the Soviet leadership, says "whatever opportunity still exists to bring atomic weapons under control should be seized now."

Baruch says that "the longer nations have to produce fissionable materials, the more difficult it becomes to devise adequate safeguards against the diversion of these materials to war."

Baruch, who gave a recorded address last night on the CBS radio program "Age of the Atom," said he was aiming his plea at the "new" Soviet leaders.

THE ATOMIC control advocate, financier and adviser to Presidents said:

"Do not wait so long that atomic energy becomes uncontrolable. Do not lose for the world what opportunity still exists to bring atomic weapons under control and to prevent the fallout of perpetual fear from settling on each of us."

Saying that lack of effective world control is the chief obstacle to a "magical expansion" of peaceful atomic uses, Baruch added:

"Unless the fear of atomic catastrophe can be stilled by a system of foolproof control, there can be no basis for lasting peace.

THE GOAL of the United States consistently has been the widest possible peaceful use of atomic energy, Baruch said, adding:

"That was the objective of the proposals for international control of atomic energy which were formulated during the administration of President Harry Truman and which I was privileged to present to the United Nations."

"Behind these proposals was the realization that atomic energy was truly like a giant—powerful enough to lift mankind to new heights of material welfare, but also powerful enough to pound the world into ruins—a lifting hand or a crushing fist."

URGING "a balanced reduction of all armaments," Baruch said:

"That, in turn, requires a safe and foolproof system of inspection, control and punishment for infringement so each nation can be assured that every other country is living up to the agreement."

The American atom control plan presented to the United Nations by Baruch was rejected by the Russians at that time, mainly because of provisions for international inspection of atomic resources.

AFL Refuses Merger

Chicago, Aug. 10 (AP)—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor has refused to approve the merger of a member union with the Fur and Leather Workers Union. Now independent, the 60,000-member Fur and Leather Workers Union was ousted from the Congress of Industrial Organizations on charges of Communist domination. The 282,000-member AFL Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen yesterday announced that it has taken control of the Fur Workers Union and has forced out 11 officials the AFL considered "objectionable."

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Parnassus Galleries Will Have Lecture

Woodstock, Aug. 10—The public is invited to the next lecture at Parnassus Square Galleries in connection with the Writers' Workshop. On Saturday, at 8:30 p. m., Peter Neagoe will speak on "The Word."

Peter Neagoe is one of the important writers of our time. He also bridges the new world with the old world that he had left behind when at the age of 20 he left Transylvania, then part of Hungary. "Although quite an advanced sapling," he writes, "I believe I struck roots in American soil, for now my heart is here. Then, too, while I know four other languages well, I think and write in English. When I started to dream in English, I realized this was my language."

His novels, Eastern Sun, There Is My Heart, A Time To Keep, and Winning a Wife (short stories) have been translated into French, German, Dutch, Scandinavian, Romanian, and other languages.

The critics say this about Winning A Wife: "These stories are village gossip, and high art," —Lewis Gannett, N. Y. Herald Tribune; "They are as natural as the sun."—Whit Burnett, Books; As psychological studies they are of value, as examples of modern realism nothing better has been done,"—Boston Transcript.

The critics say this about Eastern Sun: "Neagoe" is a patient and almost prayerful evoker of natural sights and sounds, and his style brings them forth so freshly and simply and precisely that the pages move with the wind in the wheat field,"—Whit Burnett, Books; "For the richness of its color, its gentle beauty and exceptional sense of life, this novel deserves to be read."—New York Times.

Plan International Folksongs Program

Woodstock, Aug. 10—Wednesday, Aug. 17, Robert and Louise DeCormier will present a program of International Folksongs at Parnassus Square at 9 p. m. These folk singers have performed at Vassar College, Brandeis University, for the New York City Museum of Modern Art, the Brooklyn Museum of Art, and will appear at the Macmillan Theatre for Columbia University's folk music series, during the 1955-56 season.

Recently they completed a 10-inch L.P. record "Folksong and Ballads" to be released by Stinson Records in the fall of 1955, as well as another record "Folksongs of the Catskills."

Robert DeCormier was graduated from the Juilliard School of Music. He composed music for Rachel Productions, "The World of Shokm Abeichem" and a TV film "The Railsplitter." He trained and conducted the chorus for the Phoenix Theatre production of "Sandhog."

Louise De Cormier was graduated from the Neighborhood Playhouse School of the Theater; studied dance with Martha Graham and appeared in the 1949 road company of Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Allegro."

Postpone Poetry Talk

Woodstock, Aug. 10 — The scheduled talk at Parnassus Square by Helen Wolfert, on Poetry Readings, announced for Saturday, Aug. 20, has been changed to Friday, Aug. 19, at 8:30 p. m. The program was changed because of the dance for the benefit of the Woodstock Artists Association building fund, will be held Saturday, Aug. 20, at the Art Students League.

Dance Postponed

Woodstock, Aug. 10 — The dance scheduled for Aug. 13, at the Wittenberg Sportsmen's Club, has been postponed to Saturday, Aug. 20, owing to a conflict with a dance being held at the Bearsville Lodge by the Mt. Tobias Sportsmen's Club. It has been announced that 156 were served at the clambake of the Sportsmen's Club on Sunday.

Pressman Gallery Open

Woodstock, Aug. 10 — The Michel Pressman Primitive Gallery, on Neher street is now open to the public. The hours are Fridays, 8 to 10 p. m., Saturdays, 3 to 6 p. m., and Sundays from 3 to 5 p. m. Admission is free to the public.

The gallery has been enlarged and included many paintings not exhibited heretofore in Woodstock, and also includes a number of paintings loaned by the following collectors: Mr. and Mrs. T. Jarvis, Woodstock—The Snow Man, Walls of Jericho, Jacob's Dream; Mr. and Mrs. H. Epstein, Bayside, L. I.—Sukoth Chanukah; Mrs. L. Sanders, Brooklyn—Early Spring; George Lawton, New York—David and Goliath; Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Lethbridge, Woodstock — The Fishermen.

Village Notes

Woodstock, Aug. 10—Mr. and Mrs. George Berk entertained at a party at their home on Glasco Turnpike Saturday night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Barnett Byman, following the concert in which Mrs. Byman appeared at the Maverick Concert Hall. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Rush Harp, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Graf, Alexander Semmler, Dr. and Mrs. Boris Paul and Dr. and Mrs. Peretz Halpern, and Mrs. Byman's mother, Mrs. Block.

The baseball game played at Phoenicia last Thursday with the Jones Boys from Woodstock, brought victory to Phoenicia with a score of 10 to 1.

20-Year Fight Gives Washington Vote in Primary

By JAMES C. MUNN
AP Special Washington Service

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—A scrappy, cigar-smoking New Yorker, 59-year-old John P. Mullen, has just won a 20-year fight. And like the good Irishman he is, he's spoiling for another.

Largely because of Mullen's efforts, Congress passed a bill last week to give residents of the District of Columbia a vote in the selection of delegates to presidential nominating conventions.

"IT'S BEEN more than 20 years, if you please," said Mullen, "since I wrote the presidential primary bill first introduced by the late, Lord bless his soul, Sen. (Royal S.) Copeland."

(Copeland, a New York city Democrat, died in 1938 while still a senator.)

Mullen, a native of Albany who still retains his distinctive Albany-Irish accent, swears "by all the saints above" that he will not rest content until full suffrage is accorded citizens of Washington.

"'Tis only 59 I am," he told a visitor to his law office, "and I have many a good scrap left in me."

Mullen, who candidly admits that politics and the law "are life's blood for me," said his paternal grandfather—a mason by trade—assisted "the dignitaries" in the laying of the cornerstone for the New York state capitol.

MULLEN IS a graduate of Georgetown University. He made his first big plunge into politics when, in 1921, he became secretary to the late Rep. Peter Canesvoort Ten Eyck, Albany Democrat.

Ten Eyck declined renomination for another term but Mullen remained in Washington after being offered the job of secretary to the then chief judge of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

"I was overwhelmed by the offer," Mullen recalls, "and I couldn't accept fast enough."

FROM THERE he entered the practice of criminal law.

Mullen said he became interested in getting Washingtonians a primary vote because local political bosses were able to perpetuate themselves as delegates to the presidential conventions.

After Copeland first introduced the primary bill, he said, "nothing happened."

"It was introduced in every session thereafter," Mullen said, "but, until this year, it got nowhere."

REFUSING to accept defeat, Mullen hounded members of the House and Senate through the years and appealed constantly to civic leaders for help. He got it.

"But those self-anointed, self-appointed political bosses successfully opposed it," he said. "Every four years they hand-picked and paraded off to the convention certain alleged delegates without the consent of the people, if you please.

"Ah, but now that we have the primary (only President Eisenhower's signature is required to make it law), thanks to the hard work of so many good people, those days are gone."

Most important, Mullen thinks, is that Washington residents now have a chance to demonstrate responsibility at the polls, and "to exercise a vote with decency, dignity and decorum."

He insists the initial victory is a stepping stone to full suffrage for Washington.

"You'll see," he predicts. And he adds:

"I'll join all the other people in the fight for that, even if it takes another 20 years."

Debts on Cars Not Too Heavy, 2 Agree

Feel Prosperity Of U. S. Helped By Credit Buying

New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—Those hordes of shiny, brilliantly hued cars flashing by you on the highw re they running on gasoline or on debt?

The unusually large stocks of cars still in the hands of the dealers as the 1955 model year nears the close—will they be sold at a profit, or at big discounts and in increasingly (perhaps dangerously) liberal payment terms?

It's one of the hottest debates today.

NEVER BEFORE have the auto makers turned out so many cars. Never before have Americans bought—or at least signed up to pay for—so many new cars. Never before has the total of automobile installment credit outstanding been so huge.

Before World War 2 Americans owed 1½ billion dollars on their cars, this summer they owe 12½ billion.

THE AUTO MAKERS and the finance companies say there's nothing to worry about. National income has gone up steadily. The debt load isn't too heavy, they say, for prosperous Americans to carry.

And they point out that much of the present prosperity is due to credit buying. This boosts retail sales, makes possible the high industrial production schedules which spark the rising total personal income.

The auto makers and the finance companies also point to the low rate of repossessions, to the American habit of meeting instalment payments even when times tighten up a little.

"OUR AUTO LOAN delinquencies are at an all-time low," says F. R. Wills, president of General Acceptance Corp.

Universal C.I.T. Corp. reports that since the war Americans have financed 84 billion dollars to buy cars and have so far repaid 72 billion. In the first six months of this year 8½ billion dollars worth of credit was extended to car buyers and repayments came to 6½ billion. The finance company thinks 10 million car buyers will complete payments this year—and the big rush this year to borrow to drive a flashy car.

THE FEDERAL Reserve Board is nervous about the total of debt in all fields, and about the rapid rate at which it has been rising.

Consumer debt has been growing at a great pace. Corporate debt has been going up, and bank loans to business have grown at a season when they usually drop. The federal debt creeps higher, and state and local indebtedness swells at a faster rate. The home building boom has been fed by easy mortage terms—and the administration is now putting a mild brake on that.

THE SPOTLIGHT turns on the auto dealers just now because of increasing signs that the drive to get rid of the 1955 models before the new ones appear a couple of months from now may find some dealers relaxing credit terms even more than at present.

The National Automobile Dealers Assn. warns its 30,000 members: "There's nothing smart about too-liberal credit terms. Right now, it's up to dealers to put a stop to crazy credit, and start back on the road to sanity."

The association warns that if a drivers equity in his car gets too low, repossessions will rise. It also contends that if dealers extend payment time from three to five years they keep customers out of the market too long. It notes that their business "depends on repeat trade."

So, there may be one of two answers to that question you hear so often: Where do people get the money to buy all those new cars?

1. The notable gains in wages and salaries make it easier for more people to finance time buying of two-tone hardtops.

Or 2. They didn't get the money—many of them are just riding around on debt.

1,177,068 Shots Of Salk Ready

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—The Health Service yesterday released 1,177,068 shots of Salk anti-polio vaccine for use by state and local agencies or private physicians.

New York state will receive 81,183 shots of the vaccine manufactured by Wyeth Laboratories of Marietta, Pa.

This increased to 2,023,068 one-cubic-centimeter shots the amount assigned to the states under the voluntary allocation plan put into effect July 31. It brought to 6,532,068 cc the amount approved since revised safety and testing standards were adopted May 26.

State shares are governed by the proportion of unvaccinated children a state has in the 5-9 age group, which now has first priority. Under the voluntary control plan the vaccine is distributed to the states through commercial channels.

Each state decides how much of its share will be distributed through public agencies and how much through commercial channels.

More Vaccine Released

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—Another batch of Salk polio vaccine has been released for general use. The Public Health Service announced yesterday 1,177,068 cubic centimeters made by the Wyeth Laboratories of Marietta, Pa., had been released for use by state or local public agencies and by private physicians. Each cubic centimeter is enough for one shot.

On Target

Sandston, Va. (AP)—Dick Steinman, 13, was digging in a flower bed and unearthed a thickly rusted Civil War rifle. He figured it was a relic of the Battle of Seven Pines fought here in 1862. Dick's house is at the corner of Confederate and Union avenues.

THE SPOTLIGHT turns on the auto dealers just now because of increasing signs that the drive to get rid of the 1955 models before the new ones appear a couple of months from now may find some dealers relaxing credit terms even more than at present.

The National Automobile Dealers Assn. warns its 30,000 members: "There's nothing smart about too-liberal credit terms. Right now, it's up to dealers to put a stop to crazy credit, and start back on the road to sanity."

The association warns that if a drivers equity in his car gets too low, repossessions will rise. It also contends that if dealers extend payment time from three to five years they keep customers out of the market too long. It notes that their business "depends on repeat trade."

So, there may be one of two answers to that question you hear so often: Where do people get the money to buy all those new cars?

1. The notable gains in wages and salaries make it easier for more people to finance time buying of two-tone hardtops.

Or 2. They didn't get the money—many of them are just riding around on debt.

1,177,068 Shots Of Salk Ready

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—The Health Service yesterday released 1,177,068 shots of Salk anti-polio vaccine for use by state and local agencies or private physicians.

New York state will receive 81,183 shots of the vaccine manufactured by Wyeth Laboratories of Marietta, Pa.

This increased to 2,023,068 one-cubic-centimeter shots the amount assigned to the states under the voluntary allocation plan put into effect July 31. It brought to 6,532,068 cc the amount approved since revised safety and testing standards were adopted May 26.

State shares are governed by the proportion of unvaccinated children a state has in the 5-9 age group, which now has first priority. Under the voluntary control plan the vaccine is distributed to the states through commercial channels.

Each state decides how much of its share will be distributed through public agencies and how much through commercial channels.

More Vaccine Released

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—Another batch of Salk polio vaccine has been released for general use. The Public Health Service announced yesterday 1,177,068 cubic centimeters made by the Wyeth Laboratories of Marietta, Pa., had been released for use by state or local public agencies and by private physicians. Each cubic centimeter is enough for one shot.

Sandston, Va. (AP)—Dick Steinman, 13, was digging in a flower bed and unearthed a thickly rusted Civil War rifle. He figured it was a relic of the Battle of Seven Pines fought here in 1862. Dick's house is at the corner of Confederate and Union avenues.

MEETING BOY FRIEND'S MOTHER

A mother writes: "My daughter has a steady boy friend, but she is not engaged. I've never met his mother, but have talked with her on the telephone several times when she has called here to speak to her son. The last time she said to me. "You must come over sometime to see us." No date was set, nothing further than that was said. I'd like to meet her, but am I to take this invitation seriously? Would it seem to eager since I'm the girl's mother?"

Having already invited you to come, it is entirely proper for you to telephone her and say you would like to accept her invitation to come to see her, and wonder if that afternoon would be convenient for her.

When On a Budget

Dear Mrs. Post: We live in a big city. Very soon I expect a friend of mine who lives in a distant city to spend part of her vacation with us. I know she will want to take in everything while she is here. I would like to know if we are expected to pay for her entertainment. We are in modest circumstances and have to watch our budget. Might be allowed to pay her own way?

Answer: It is really not expected of any host to go beyond their means in entertaining their guests. If she offers to pay the way and you know she is able to do it, it is quite proper to let her do so. If she can't, you must explain your budget limitation and just not do the things you cannot afford.

Dear Mrs. Post: When fruit cup is served as the first course at dinner in a sherbert glass, could the two pronged oyster fork be served with this, or is a teaspoon the only proper implement?

Answer: The teaspoon would be correct.

Plans $10,000 Reward

Kansas City, Aug. 10 (AP)—The Kansas City Crime Commission sought to build up a $10,000 reward fund today in an effort to solve the brutal killing of Mrs. Wilma Allen. Approximately $3,000 already has been contributed. A lack of tangible clues handicapped police in their attempt to find the slayer of Mrs. Allen whose nude body was found in a pasture 20 miles southwest of here Sunday. Mrs. Allen, wife of wealthy automobile dealer William R. Allen, Jr., and mother of two young sons, had been shot twice in the head. She vanished last Thursday while on a shopping trip.

Joan Warrington Weds Donald Brooks At St. Mary's Church

Miss Joan Warrington and Donald Brooks were joined in marriage Saturday, Aug. 6, in a double ring ceremony at St. Mary's Church in Kingston. The Rev. John A. Flaherty performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Warrington of 55 Trenton street. Mr. Brooks is the son of Mrs. Frank Fahnrick of 48 Abruyn street.

Miss Anne A. Goldrick was organist and Martin Kelly performed the solo.

The bride's gown was floor length, fashioned with a satin bodice covered with rosepoint lace and sequins, with imported illusion net about the portrait neckline. A lace peplum at the waist flared over the layers of nylon tulle of the skirt. The bridal veil of imported illusion was caught to a queen's crown embroidered with sequins. She carried a nosegay of white delphinium, gladioli and carnations. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Linda Netherwood of 106 North Front street, the maid of honor, wore a floor length frock of pink nylon net over taffeta, fashioned with soft pleats of nylon on the bodice. She wore a net stole draped over one arm and her matching hat was a crown of pompons. She carried a nosegay of pink delphinium and blue gladioli and carnations.

Ronald Costello of 96 Newkirk avenue was best man. Ushers were Rodney Carey, 55 Stephan street, and George Bezemer of Stony Hollow.

After a reception for 60 guests at the Alpine Hotel, the couple left for a wedding trip to New York city. The bride wore a traveling costume of pink crystalette with white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Brooks is a 1954 graduate of Kingston High School and is employed by IBM. Her husband is also a Kingston High School graduate and spent three years in the Marine Corps. He is presently employed by National Homes.

The couple will make their home at 98 St. James street.

Merger Is Planned By Jap Conservatives

Karuizawa, Japan, Aug. 10 (AP)—Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama will send his Democrat party secretary, Shinsuke Kishi, to the United States "to assure the American government that Japan's two conservative parties will merge in the near future."

This was decided today by Hatoyama and Kishi at this plush summer resort where the aged prime minister is vacationing.

Kishi told newsmen he would leave for the United States Aug. 25, two days after Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu goes to Washington.

Kishi, as secretary general of the Democrat party, is virtual party boss.

Merger of the Liberal and Democratic parties to form a strong conservative force has been a long-pending issue in Japan.

California farmers raised 9,998,000 turkeys in 1954—more than any other state.

Decision on Buses

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP)—The Public Service Commission made permanent today the authorization of the Rochester-Penfield Bus Co., Inc., to operate buses in Elmira and some of its suburbs. Rochester-Penfield has been serving Elmira, the villages of Elmira Heights and Horseheads and parts of the towns of Horseheads, Elmira and Southport since March under a temporary certificate of public convenience and necessity. The temporary certificate would have expired Aug. 24. Examiner George N. Mack told the commission in a report that the company was making a profit on the operations.

Easier for Small Town Jobs Now

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—Heeding a protest by Sen. Fulbright (D.-Ark.), the government has made it easier for areas of small population to participate in defense contracts.

Defense Mobilizer Arthur S. Flemming advised Fulbright that regulations aimed to getting defense work into unemployment centers have been altered to apply to communities of any size.

Fulbright had protested several weeks ago that as the policy then stood no community with a labor force less than 15,000 could get any share of contracts set aside for areas of high unemployment.

The Arkansas senator said he believes the change will correct the situation he had in mind and will "eliminate obvious inequities and discrimination" against small areas.

It has been administration policy to set aside portions of Defense Department procurement contracts for areas which have labor surpluses. Firms in such areas may negotiate for a part of this set-aside.

Fulbright had told Flemming that small communities were shut out of such contracts, citing the case of a firm at Newport, Ark.

Steel Firms Struggle To Fill Orders

New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—Steel producers, struggling to keep pace with demand, are "wielding a heavy blue pencil on customer allotment," Iron Age, national metalworking weekly, said today.

"Mills are going through one of the worst periods in recent years from a production and customer relations standpoint," said the weekly. "It's as hard on them as it is on consumers."

Both old and new customers are "getting the treatment," Iron Age said, adding: "What it boils down to is this: The steel companies were caught flat-footed by the continued strength of a market they thought would ease during the summer. Incoming orders are still running 10 to 15 per cent ahead of activity."

The publication listed the June 30-July 1 steel strike as an obstacle to high production, along with maintenance problems, summer vacations and a record-breaking heat wave.

No Bear for Davys

Sarasota, Fla. (AP)—The Davy Crockett craze has made it rough on birds, the Sarasota Bird Club says. Modern Davys, not having many chances to shoot a bear, are drawing a bead on them. The bird club is trying to educate parents to supervise their youngsters' activities with BB guns and small rifles, and to limit the shooting to targets.

Is 108 Today

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 10 (AP)—Dan Hughes is 108 today but may take to preaching yet. He's done almost everything else. For Hughes knows "If nothing breaks me down, I'll live another 50 years. I've never been sick in my life and never took doctor's medicine." The "Lord's sparing me for something, and I just can't figure out what it is. It might be preaching," Hughes said in an interview.

Invitation Accepted

Goldsboro, N. C. (AP)—A Goldsboro minister was working in his yard when a small dog ran up and began to bark and snap at his cuffs. The minister scolded the animal, telling him he was the meanest dog he had ever seen and suggesting that he needed to go to church. The following Sunday after the minister had completed his sermon the little dog trotted down the aisle. He paused briefly, turned around and jogged out of the church.

Easier for Small Town Jobs Now

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—Heeding a protest by Sen. Fulbright (D.-Ark.), the government has made it easier for areas of small population to participate in defense contracts.

Defense Mobilizer Arthur S. Flemming advised Fulbright that regulations aimed to getting defense work into unemployment centers have been altered to apply to communities of any size.

Fulbright had protested several weeks ago that as the policy then stood no community with a labor force less than 15,000 could get any share of contracts set aside for areas of high unemployment.

The Arkansas senator said he believes the change will correct the situation he had in mind and will "eliminate obvious inequities and discrimination" against small areas.

It has been administration policy to set aside portions of Defense Department procurement contracts for areas which have labor surpluses. Firms in such areas may negotiate for a part of this set-aside.

Fulbright had told Flemming that small communities were shut out of such contracts, citing the case of a firm at Newport, Ark.

Steel Firms Struggle To Fill Orders

New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—Steel producers, struggling to keep pace with demand, are "wielding a heavy blue pencil on customer allotment," Iron Age, national metalworking weekly, said today.

"Mills are going through one of the worst periods in recent years from a production and customer relations standpoint," said the weekly. "It's as hard on them as it is on consumers."

Both old and new customers are "getting the treatment," Iron Age said, adding: "What it boils down to is this: The steel companies were caught flat-footed by the continued strength of a market they thought would ease during the summer. Incoming orders are still running 10 to 15 per cent ahead of activity."

The publication listed the June 30-July 1 steel strike as an obstacle to high production, along with maintenance problems, summer vacations and a record-breaking heat wave.

No Bear for Davys

Sarasota, Fla. (AP)—The Davy Crockett craze has made it rough on birds, the Sarasota Bird Club says. Modern Davys, not having many chances to shoot a bear, are drawing a bead on them. The bird club is trying to educate parents to supervise their youngsters' activities with BB guns and small rifles, and to limit the shooting to targets.

Is 108 Today

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 10 (AP)—Dan Hughes is 108 today but may take to preaching yet. He's done almost everything else. For Hughes knows "If nothing breaks me down, I'll live another 50 years. I've never been sick in my life and never took doctor's medicine." The "Lord's sparing me for something, and I just can't figure out what it is. It might be preaching," Hughes said in an interview.

Invitation Accepted

Goldsboro, N. C. (AP)—A Goldsboro minister was working in his yard when a small dog ran up and began to bark and snap at his cuffs. The minister scolded the animal, telling him he was the meanest dog he had ever seen and suggesting that he needed to go to church. The following Sunday after the minister had completed his sermon the little dog trotted down the aisle. He paused briefly, turned around and jogged out of the church.

Mamie Resting

But a presidential aide says the first lady is "not ill—merely tired." President Eisenhower himself disclosed yesterday that his wife was in bed, but he added: "She'll be all right."

Parnell

the council for betterment of the city's zoning regulations. Alderman Abram D. Relyea, 11th ward, was absent.

James K. Ryan, (D), 10th ward said he felt that the vote, in effect, was one against the city's present zoning regulations, "or lack of them," and he suggested a study be made to tighten them against such individual problems.

Charles J. Cole, (D) 13th ward, said he felt that "every alderman had a trying decision." He said he considered "both sides ably represented," in discussions before the vote, and he said his final personal reaction was that the argument of Attorney Bruhn carried the most weight.

Cole said he was convinced, however, that the exterior of the building as planned was pleasing, "and I don't think it would be a detriment to the 12th ward, but the people of the neighborhood appeared to be "firmly against a commercial building." He suggested that perhaps Parnett could keep the building of the same exterior design and construct it as a residential property.

Plans for the structure were prepared by Architect Albert E. Milliken of Hurley. They were shown to the aldermen during the recess. Estimated cost of the building as filed with the local building department is $52,000. The building would house a small grocery store, a drug store, a doctor's office and a dentist's office.

ON REQUEST of Alderman Richard V. Roth, 12th ward, Alderman-at-large Joseph Kelly allowed the privilege of the floor to Attorneys Louis G. Bruhn and Harry Gold. About 50 persons, most of them residents of the Lucas avenue-Miller's Lane area, attended the session.

Bruhn said he felt that both sides had been given ample time to present argument and he decided he would take no more unless it were necessary to answer the opposition.

Gold, referring to the claim, at the August 2 meeting, that an agreement guaranteeing specific uses for the property, were just talk, said he now had in writing such an agreement to present to Alderman Roth. It agreed to use of the building only for retail stores and professional offices, and provided for any further or future agreement the opposition might require. He also presented the plans, so that the architect might answer any questions from the alderman or persons interested.

GOLD SAID that if the Roth resolution on reclassification of the property were adopted, the council would be "setting a most dangerous precedent," in that it could lead to change after change in similar future procedures.

The attorney claimed that after circulation of the original petition of about 300 names, which, he held, were largely opposed to use of the property for a gas station, one for Parnett had gained 296 signatures favoring use of the property for store and office purposes. Many, who had signed the first, also signed the second, he said.

Gold also said he had learned that there had been opposition in February, 1952 when the petition for a zoning change was first offered, but they withdrew when they learned of the type building planned.

ATTORNEY BRUHN noted that his opponent had made mention of the fact that gas companies had attempted to negotiate for the property, even though the other plan had been decided upon. He stressed that the area by character now restricts the use of any property for business purposes.

Any action of the council, Bruhn said, against the pronounced residential character of the area, would not give "these people of the 12th ward, the assurance they desire," to prevent business properties in the area.

THE SECTION has changed to the extent of becoming more definitely residential in the past three years, he held, and it would be a dangerous precedent to grant one change the other way.

Zoning, he held, "is by no means static." He argued that any former classification could be changed, and said the council would be "missing the boat," if it failed to vote for a residential classification on the Parnett property. If the change were not made, he said, "the foot is in the door," and he could forsee embarrassment for the aldermen in the future.

The report of the laws and rules committee noted that the area around the Parnett property and "tremendously developed" in residential character since 1952, and more children now reside there.

IT NOTED that recreational facilities at Forsyth Park attracted large crowds of people and vehicles, and that traffic conditions were "residentially" more congested. It felt that a residential zone designation would be to the best interests of public health, safety and welfare.

Last night's retraction of a business zone designation for a property previously so classified by Council action, without official survey of records, is believed to be the first action of that type since zoning laws were effective in the city.

House Stolen

Gainesville, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. Margaret Seay complained to the sheriff's office that someone stole her house. When last seen, the two-room house was wearing white paint and black screens.

Gas, Water

tions "a normal expression of patriotism."

A no-violence warning was also sounded by the South Korean Foreign Ministry.

Meanwhile, the full Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission (NNSC) which includes Swiss and Swedes as well as Czechs and Poles, met at Panmunjom for six hours to ponder the Saturday midnight ultimatum.

A Swedish spokesman said no details of the discussion could be revealed, but an answer to the demand "might be given" Saturday.

IN WASHINGTON, U. S. officials are keeping a close watch on Korean developments. They sympathize with the South Korean resentment of the Communist members of the NNSC, but disagree with the Koreans on what steps should be taken. And, a State Department spokesman said, the U. S. will continue to abide by its obligation to protect all members of the NNSC.

The U. S. favors a patient, gradual reduction of NNSC activities until the body virtually ceases to exist.

Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, U. S. Far East commander, and Gen. Isaac D. White, U. S. Army Forces Far East commander, flew to Seoul.

THEY DESCRIBED their visit as routine. However, Lemnitzer is expected to discuss the problem with President Rhee tomorrow.

The situation remained tense. At Wolmi, U. S. guards were reported for the first time to have armored cars as well as fire trucks, tear gas bombs and clubs.

Koreans said another battalion of troops had been moved into Pusan.

The South Korean government looks upon the Communist truce inspectors as spies. It charges high ranking Russian officers have infiltrated the NNSC, impersonating Polish officers.

Woman Kills Policeman

Chicago, Aug. 10 (AP)—A 43-year-old stenographer last night fatally shot a policeman, her admitted sweetheart, after, she said, he taunted her about being interested in another woman. Police said Mrs. Catherine Lonergan in a statement said she picked up the policeman's revolver from a dresser in a near North Side hotel room, knelt down beside him and fired one bullet into his head. The policeman, John L. Kelly, 48, father of three children, toppled from the bed on which he had been lying and gasped, "What did you shoot me for?"

During the Civil War, Winchester, Va., was taken and retaken 73 times, four times during a single day.

Parnell

the council for betterment of the city's zoning regulations. Alderman Abram D. Relyea, 11th ward, was absent.

James K. Ryan, (D), 10th ward said he felt that the vote, in effect, was one against the city's present zoning regulations, "or lack of them," and he suggested a study be made to tighten them against such individual problems.

Charles J. Cole, (D) 13th ward, said he felt that "every alderman had a trying decision." He said he considered "both sides ably represented," in discussions before the vote, and he said his final personal reaction was that the argument of Attorney Bruhn carried the most weight.

Cole said he was convinced, however, that the exterior of the building as planned was pleasing, "and I don't think it would be a detriment to the 12th ward, but the people of the neighborhood appeared to be "firmly against a commercial building." He suggested that perhaps Parnett could keep the building of the same exterior design and construct it as a residential property.

Plans for the structure were prepared by Architect Albert E. Milliken of Hurley. They were shown to the aldermen during the recess. Estimated cost of the building as filed with the local building department is $52,000. The building would house a small grocery store, a drug store, a doctor's office and a dentist's office.

ON REQUEST of Alderman Richard V. Roth, 12th ward, Alderman-at-large Joseph Kelly allowed the privilege of the floor to Attorneys Louis G. Bruhn and Harry Gold. About 50 persons, most of them residents of the Lucas avenue-Miller's Lane area, attended the session.

Bruhn said he felt that both sides had been given ample time to present argument and he decided he would take no more unless it were necessary to answer the opposition.

Gold, referring to the claim, at the August 2 meeting, that an agreement guaranteeing specific uses for the property, were just talk, said he now had in writing such an agreement to present to Alderman Roth. It agreed to use of the building only for retail stores and professional offices, and provided for any further or future agreement the opposition might require. He also presented the plans, so that the architect might answer any questions from the alderman or persons interested.

GOLD HELD that if the Roth resolution on reclassification of the property were adopted, the council would be "setting a most dangerous precedent," in that it could lead to change after change in similar future procedures.

The attorney claimed that after circulation of the original petition of about 300 names, which, he held, were largely opposed to use of the property for a gas station, one for Parnett had gained 296 signatures favoring use of the property for store and office purposes. Many, who had signed the first, also signed the second, he said.

Gold also said he had learned that there had been opposition in February, 1952 when the petition for a zoning change was first offered, but they withdrew when they learned of the type building planned.

ATTORNEY BRUHN noted that his opponent had made mention of the fact that gas companies had attempted to negotiate for the property, even though the other plan had been decided upon. He stressed that the area by character now restricts the use of any property for business purposes.

Any action of the council, Bruhn said, against the pronounced residential character of the area, would not give "these people of the 12th ward, the assurance they desire," to prevent business properties in the area.

THE SECTION has changed to the extent of becoming more definitely residential in the past three years, he held, and it would be a dangerous precedent to grant one change the other way.

Zoning, he held, "is by no means static." He argued that any former classification could be changed, and said the council would be "missing the boat," if it failed to vote for a residential classification on the Parnett property. If the change were not made, he said, "the foot is in the door," and he could forsee embarrassment for the aldermen in the future.

The report of the laws and rules committee noted that the area around the Parnett property and "tremendously developed" in residential character since 1952, and more children now reside there.

IT NOTED that recreational facilities at Forsyth Park attracted large crowds of people and vehicles, and that traffic conditions were "residentially" more congested. It felt that a residential zone designation would be to the best interests of public health, safety and welfare.

Last night's retraction of a business zone designation for a property previously so classified by Council action, without official survey of records, is believed to be the first action of that type since zoning laws were effective in the city.

House Stolen

Gainesville, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. Margaret Seay complained to the sheriff's office that someone stole her house. When last seen, the two-room house was wearing white paint and black screens.

Gas, Water

tions "a normal expression of patriotism."

A no-violence warning was also sounded by the South Korean Foreign Ministry.

Meanwhile, the full Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission (NNSC) which includes Swiss and Swedes as well as Czechs and Poles, met at Panmunjom for six hours to ponder the Saturday midnight ultimatum.

A Swedish spokesman said no details of the discussion could be revealed, but an answer to the demand "might be given" Saturday.

IN WASHINGTON, U. S. officials are keeping a close watch on Korean developments. They sympathize with the South Korean resentment of the Communist members of the NNSC, but disagree with the Koreans on what steps should be taken. And, a State Department spokesman said, the U. S. will continue to abide by its obligation to protect all members of the NNSC.

The U. S. favors a patient, gradual reduction of NNSC activities until the body virtually ceases to exist.

Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, U. S. Far East commander, and Gen. Isaac D. White, U. S. Army Forces Far East commander, flew to Seoul.

THEY DESCRIBED their visit as routine. However, Lemnitzer is expected to discuss the problem with President Rhee tomorrow.

The situation remained tense. At Wolmi, U. S. guards were reported for the first time to have armored cars as well as fire trucks, tear gas bombs and clubs.

Koreans said another battalion of troops had been moved into Pusan.

Woman Kills Policeman

Chicago, Aug. 10 (AP)—A 43-year-old stenographer last night fatally shot a policeman, her admitted sweetheart, after, she said, he taunted her about being interested in another woman. Police said Mrs. Catherine Lonergan in a statement said she picked up the policeman's revolver from a dresser in a near North Side hotel room, knelt down beside him and fired one bullet into his head. The policeman, John L. Kelly, 48, father of three children, toppled from the bed on which he had been lying and gasped, "What did you shoot me for?"

During the Civil War, Winchester, Va., was taken and retaken 73 times, four times during a single day.

Negotiators Meet On Driver Contract

New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—Negotiators for the AFL Teamsters Union and 23 milk hauling companies meet again today to seek agreement on a new contract for 1,000 milk tank truck drivers.

After a 3½-hour meeting yesterday the union postponed a strike deadline until after today's meeting.

Neither side would comment on what progress, if any, was made at yesterday's session. However, there were indications that a settlement was in prospect.

Wages are the biggest issue in the dispute. The drivers now get from $1.57 to $1.77 an hour. They originally sought increases of 43 to 53 cents an hour but have reported a reduction in these demands in the course of bargaining.

He Files Case

Pierson, Mich. (AP)—Blind Alton Petrie, who operates a small hardware store, was mystified when small amounts of cash disappeared daily from a leather pouch where he kept receipts. He devised his own trap. He filed identifying marks on several coins and asked other merchants to watch for them. The trap bagged three boys, who admitted their raids had netted about $25.

Red Jets Almost Blow Plane Out of Sky, Pliot Declares

Tokyo, Aug. 10 (AP)—The pilot said Tuesday 11 airmen released by Red China last week narrowly escaped being "blown clear out of the sky," when three Communist MIGs attacked their B29 Jan. 12, 1953.

It was the first time the pilot, Capt. Eugene J. Vaadi, Clayton, N. Y., told the press his story of the tense 3 or 4-minute interval from the time the leaflet-dropping B29 was attacked until the crew bailed out into Red captivity in the Korean War.

THE NIGHT attack was in North Korea, 40 miles south of the Yalu river boundary of Red China, the crew says.

"We were under attack before reaching the last of six leaflet targets," Vaadi related. "Between the last two targets they really locked on us with searchlights.

"Then two MIGs almost simultaneously came at us. The first from the left—so close I could almost see the pilot—the second from the right.

"The first apparently knocked out our No. 2 (inside left) engine. The second knocked off a few inches off the right wing tip.

"We tried to get out of the way of the MIGs. I still kept flying toward the sixth target.

"I HAD my hands full flying the aircraft.

"A third MIG passed between the first two and let loose two rockets. Our scanner saw them coming.

"Luckily, I was slightly in a turn, trying to get out of the line of fire. If I hadn't turned, they would have hit our midsection.

"They would have blown us clear out of the sky.

"But they went right by. By now our No. 2 and No. 4 (outside right) engines were knocked out and feathered. And No. 3 (inside right) was burning.

"I TRIED extinguishing the fire, but by then, the aircraft was pretty well battered up, and pulling very much left.

"The engines began falling off.

"I gave the order to bail out. We had stuck aboard for what seemed quite some time, but actually within 3 or 4 minutes we were all out.

"When attacked we were heading almost west. We turned toward the southwest, trying hard to make the coast. It was fortunate we didn't.

Syracuse Woman Shot by Suitor as 3 Relatives Watch

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP)—A 60-year-old disappointed suitor shot a woman to death while three of her relatives watched yesterday and then gravely wounded himself.

Police said John Golembiewski used an automatic pistol to kill Mrs. Naomi Doris Baldwin Spooner, 31, a divorcee, in her apartment.

Golembiewski was taken to Onondaga General Hospital where he underwent surgery for wounds of the abdomen. The hospital early today said he was slightly improved but still in critical condition.

NO CHARGE was placed against Golembiewski. Police said he was in no condition to be questioned.

Police said Mrs. Lenore Frances Niedzwiecki, 22, and her two small brothers watched the shooting. Mrs. Niedzwiecki is a cousin of Mrs. Spooner.

Authorities said Mrs. Spooner had been dating Golembiewski but had decided not to see him any more. She had hung up several times when he telephoned they said.

POLICE QUOTED Mrs. Niedzwiecki as saying that Mrs. Spooner ordered the man from the third-floor apartment after he walked in the unlocked door. Then she reached for the telephone to call police.

He shot three times, Mrs. Niedzwiecki added. After the first shot Mrs. Spooner cried:

"Don't kill me, John. I don't want to die."

Mrs. Niedzwiecki told police she grabbed her brothers and ran from the house. As she fled, she said, she heard at least two more shots.

Mrs. Spooner's son, Harold, 8, was in an adjoining bedroom.

Escapes Unharmed

Detroit, Aug. 10 (AP)—The attractive young wife of a suburban Wayne physician was abducted and forced on a harrowing eight-mile ride last night by a part-time bartender and porter. Mrs. Barbara Ann LeBost, 21, came out of the ordeal unharmed. Robert L. Gates, 23, also of Wayne, was overtaken and disarmed by a sheriff's officer in one of several scout cars that answered an alarm. Held for investigation of kidnaping, he told police, "I don't know why I did it. I just lost my head." Police said Gates is subject to epileptic seizures.

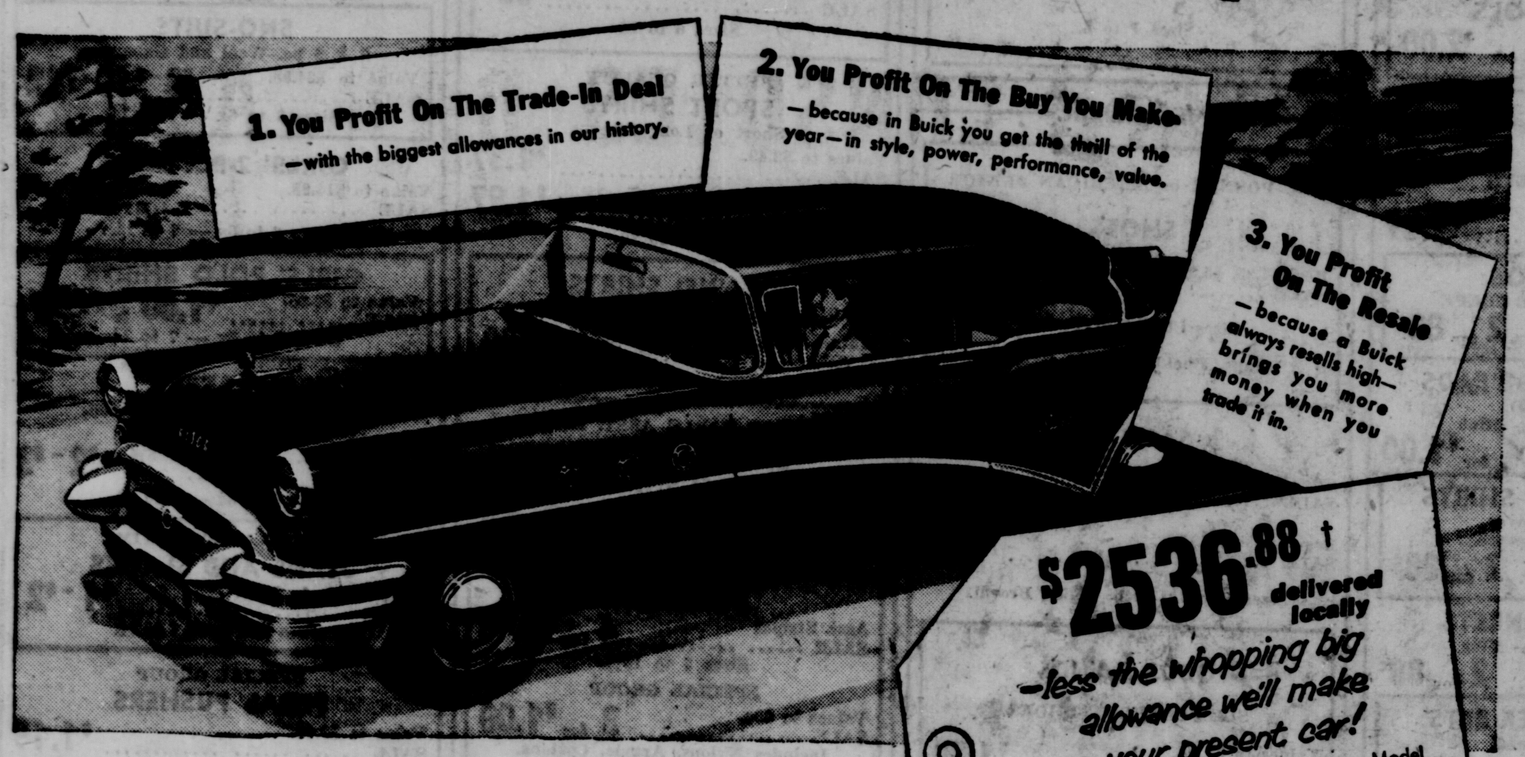
Because Buick sales are soaring past all records—

We're declaring a profit-sharing bonus for you



THIS we've never seen before—a sales year that's shattering every record in the Buick book—a soaring success far greater than the one that moved Buick so solidly into the Big 3 of America's best sellers.

So we're going to share profits with you—by stretching our regular big trade-in allowances to practically our break-even point.

That means you can now buy the most wanted Buick ever built—for less than ever before.

That means you can have Buick style distinction and prestige—Buick room and comfort—Buick size and solidity—for plenty dollars less on the profit-sharing deals we're making now.

And that means you can have, at a terrific buy, the hottest-action Buick in history—with walloping V8 power raised to new highs, and with the spectacular performance of Variable Pitch Dynaflow*—world's first and only transmission using the switch-pitch principle of the modern plane's propeller.

Come in today—tomorrow, for sure—and see for yourself that you can now make the biggest buy of the year on the car that's far and away the thrill of the year.

*Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at modest extra cost on other Series.

Negotiators Meet On Driver Contract

New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—Negotiators for the AFL Teamsters Union and 23 milk hauling companies meet again today to seek agreement on a new contract for 1,000 milk tank truck drivers.

After a 3½-hour meeting yesterday the union postponed a strike deadline until after today's meeting.

Neither side would comment on what progress, if any, was made at yesterday's session. However, there were indications that a settlement was in prospect.

Wages are the biggest issue in the dispute. The drivers now get from $1.57 to $1.77 an hour. They originally sought increases of 43 to 53 cents an hour but have reported a reduction in these demands in the course of bargaining.

He Files Case

Pierson, Mich. (AP)—Blind Alton Petrie, who operates a small hardware store, was mystified when small amounts of cash disappeared daily from a leather pouch where he kept receipts. He devised his own trap. He filed identifying marks on several coins and asked other merchants to watch for them. The trap bagged three boys, who admitted their raids had netted about $25.

Red Jets Almost Blow Plane Out of Sky, Pliot Declares

Tokyo, Aug. 10 (AP)—The pilot said Tuesday 11 airmen released by Red China last week narrowly escaped being "blown clear out of the sky," when three Communist MIGs attacked their B29 Jan. 12, 1953.

It was the first time the pilot, Capt. Eugene J. Vaadi, Clayton, N. Y., told the press his story of the tense 3 or 4-minute interval from the time the leaflet-dropping B29 was attacked until the crew bailed out into Red captivity in the Korean War.

THE NIGHT attack was in North Korea, 40 miles south of the Yalu river boundary of Red China, the crew says.

"We were under attack before reaching the last of six leaflet targets," Vaadi related. "Between the last two targets they really locked on us with searchlights.

"Then two MIGs almost simultaneously came at us. The first from the left—so close I could almost see the pilot—the second from the right.

"The first apparently knocked out our No. 2 (inside left) engine. The second knocked off a few inches off the right wing tip.

"We tried to get out of the way of the MIGs. I still kept flying toward the sixth target.

"I HAD my hands full flying the aircraft.

"A third MIG passed between the first two and let loose two rockets. Our scanner saw them coming.

"Luckily, I was slightly in a turn, trying to get out of the line of fire. If I hadn't turned, they would have hit our midsection.

"They would have blown us clear out of the sky.

"But they went right by. By now our No. 2 and No. 4 (outside right) engines were knocked out and feathered. And No. 3 (inside right) was burning.

"I TRIED extinguishing the fire, but by then, the aircraft was pretty well battered up, and pulling very much left.

"The engines began falling off.

"I gave the order to bail out. We had stuck aboard for what seemed quite some time, but actually within 3 or 4 minutes we were all out.

"When attacked we were heading almost west. We turned toward the southwest, trying hard to make the coast. It was fortunate we didn't.

Syracuse Woman Shot by Suitor as 3 Relatives Watch

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP)—A 60-year-old disappointed suitor shot a woman to death while three of her relatives watched yesterday and then gravely wounded himself.

Police said John Golembiewski used an automatic pistol to kill Mrs. Naomi Doris Baldwin Spooner, 31, a divorcee, in her apartment.

Golembiewski was taken to Onondaga General Hospital where he underwent surgery for wounds of the abdomen. The hospital early today said he was slightly improved but still in critical condition.

NO CHARGE was placed against Golembiewski. Police said he was in no condition to be questioned.

Police said Mrs. Lenore Frances Niedzwiecki, 22, and her two small brothers watched the shooting. Mrs. Niedzwiecki is a cousin of Mrs. Spooner.

Authorities said Mrs. Spooner had been dating Golembiewski but had decided not to see him any more. She had hung up several times when he telephoned they said.

POLICE QUOTED Mrs. Niedzwiecki as saying that Mrs. Spooner ordered the man from the third-floor apartment after he walked in the unlocked door. Then she reached for the telephone to call police.

He shot three times, Mrs. Niedzwiecki added. After the first shot Mrs. Spooner cried:

"Don't kill me, John. I don't want to die."

Mrs. Niedzwiecki told police she grabbed her brothers and ran from the house. As she fled, she said, she heard at least two more shots.

Mrs. Spooner's son, Harold, 8, was in an adjoining bedroom.

Escapes Unharmed

Detroit, Aug. 10 (AP)—The attractive young wife of a suburban Wayne physician was abducted and forced on a harrowing eight-mile ride last night by a part-time bartender and porter. Mrs. Barbara Ann LeBost, 21, came out of the ordeal unharmed. Robert L. Gates, 23, also of Wayne, was overtaken and disarmed by a sheriff's officer in one of several scout cars that answered an alarm. Held for investigation of kidnaping, he told police, "I don't know why I did it. I just lost my head." Police said Gates is subject to epileptic seizures.

Gettysburg Is Taking Eisenhower in Stride

Gettysburg, Pa., Aug. 10 (AP)—One thing this proud but friendly battlefield town means to do: It is doing its best to take in stride its eminent part-time resident, Dwight D. Eisenhower.

You'll hear this determination stated by many of the town's 7,200 people who have found themselves neighbors to the President. Mostly they put it something like this:

"WE'RE GLAD to have Ike living here—delighted, in fact. We're proud he picked Gettysburg, out of the whole country, as the place to buy a farm. And, if you come right down to it, it looks as if he's going to be good for the tourist business.

"But don't forget that Gettysburg was on the map long before any of this happened. We had a battle here—remember? And, much as we like him, Ike is not the first President to honor us with his presence."

And of course he isn't, although others haven't spent as much time here.

GETTYSBURG—and the country—will not forget the November day in 1863 when the lean, melancholy figure of Abraham Lincoln descended from a train (at the gray-painted station still standing here) and delivered a few words:

"Four score and seven years ago . . ."

Other presidents have come to Gettysburg—every one since McKinley in fact.

But Eisenhower is the first Chief Executive to take up residence here. He lives—all this week and most summer weekends—in the roomy, air-conditioned house he rebuilt a little south of the town, a stone's throw from where Pickett's charge carried the Confederacy to its high water mark.

WHAT DOES a town do when it finds a President in its midst?

Gettysburg has done the tactful, dignified thing. It found out what the President wanted, then tried to give it to him.

It made him welcome at the Presbyterian Church, where Lincoln worshipped that memorable day in 1863. The Gettysburg Country Club opened to him, and most good days when he's here see the President happily careening over the golf course in one of the colorfully painted electric go-carts which the club just happened to buy after it found out he liked them. It fixed up a private locker room for him.

GETTYSBURG ENJOYS having Mamie Eisenhower drop in for a round of shopping at the five-and-dime. It understands her husband's visit don't leave much time for such events as Lion's Club luncheons or corn-and-wiener roasts.

So Gettysburg's attitude is, for the most part, to give the President a smile and a wave and then to forget about him. The town knows he likes it that way. The town rather likes it, too.

Some folks here have worked up a lather over a report, published recently in a magazine, that the porches of houses overlooking the golf course are in demand as balcony seats when the President is playing.

Reporters and photographers playing behind the President checked on that one last weekend. The verdict: Not a peeker on any porch.

THE PRESIDENT'S total gallery on the last green consisted of three women and one little girl who wandered down from the swimming pool in bathing suits.

Another example of how Gettysburg takes Eisenhower in stride:

One weekend the President was playing with the club pro, Dick Sleichter. A newcomer approached Melinda Hauser, the pretty little lifeguard at the club pool, and asked which of the golfers was the President.

"Oh" said Melinda casually, without looking up, "he's the fellow that's playing with Dick."

Child Health Clinics Scheduled Aug. 16-17

Child Health conferences conducted by the Ulster County Health Department will be held at the Health Center, 25 East O'Reilly street, Tuesday, August 16 from 1:30 to 3:30 p. m. A similar clinic will be held at the Health Center, Stone Ridge, Wednesday, August 17, from 9 to 11 a. m.

These clinics are limited to infant and preschool children for the purpose of improving child health through early recognition of defects, advice regarding nutrition, instruction of parents in understanding of growth and development, handling of minor behavior difficulties and the administering of immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough.

These are well child clinics for the maintenance of health and prevention of disease, not for the care of the sick child. Children under the regular health supervision of their own physician are not admitted unless the physician desires this service to be taken over by the Child Health Conference. In this manner, duplication of service is avoided, facilitating the work of the private physician.

Electric Power Record Reached

New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—The nation's production of electric power climbed last week to another all-time high, setting a new record for the fourth week in a row, it was reported today by Edison Electric Institute, trade association for the industry.

Output totaled 10,925,000,000 kilowatt-hours. This compared with 10,727,000,000 the week before. It was 20.6 per cent greater than the 9,059,000,000 kilowatt-hours produced in the same week last year.

Stepped-up use of electricity by air-conditioning and refrigeration equipment during the recent heat wave has sent production figures soaring. So has the nation's continued high rate of industrial activity.

All major geographic regions were as follows: New England 13.2, mid-Atlantic 17.2, central industrial 38.3, west central 20.3, southeast 21.7, south central 8.1, Rocky Mountain 5.6, Pacific northwest 12.4, and Pacific southwest 10.1.

Race Against Storm

Boston, Aug. 10 (AP)—A crew of 92 construction men worked at top speed today to tie down a "Texas tower" radar station 100 miles at sea, in a race against possible hurricane weather. The Coast Guard cutter McCulloch stood by a mile from the tower, however, ready to take the 92 workmen to shore and safety. The rush job was on the last of three permanent legs, driven 50 feet into the ocean bottom, on which the 10 million dollar platform will stand as a base for a navy-air force coastal radar station.

Plan Weekend at Camp For Camp Fire Girls

Saugerties, Aug. 10 — The Camp Fire Girls of the Saugerties Council will avail themselves of the facilities of Camp Adrian, one of the Cowhey Camps at Asbury on the weekend of Aug. 26-28.

Local Council leaders announced that approximately 75 girls will attend the special weekend assembly made available through the courtesy of the owners. The regular counselors of the camp will be in attendance to offer the girls an outstanding planned program.

It was announced that the council will pay half the cost for each girl, and if anyone is unable to pay, the girls will be sent to the camp at the expense of the council.

This outing for the girls is one of many of the activities financed by the annual drive which is being conducted at this time.

According to council officials $420 has been collected toward a goal of $1,000 which must be met by Sept. 1.

Set Summer Schedule For Trinity Services

Saugerties, Aug. 10—The Vestry of Trinity Episcopal Church announced that only one service will be held on Sundays for the remainder of the summer.

There are 31 merchants participating with 5 supporting firms in the project which will be conducted each Friday at 8 p. m. for the next year.

Police Charge 37,000 in Italy Deal in Tobacco

Rome, Aug. 10 (AP)—Tobacco in Italy is a state monopoly, and in the last six months the finance police have brought charges of tobacco smuggling or illegal sale against 37,000 persons.

This anticontraband force has seized 60 foreign-flag boats and confiscated tobacco and cigarettes worth nine billion lire (15 million dollars).

Tobacco smuggling, the finance police say, runs into values far exceeding narcotics traffic in Italy.

Most of the cigarettes are American. Some are English. Many come from the black markets of Naples and Leghorn where U. S. military supply bases are located. Others are run in on dark-of-the moon nights by boats from Gibraltar and Tangier.

Some of the ships seized have been converted wartime motor torpedo boats. Crews are usually a mixture of Italians, Spanish, Portuguese and North African colonials. Some of the ship captains have been British.

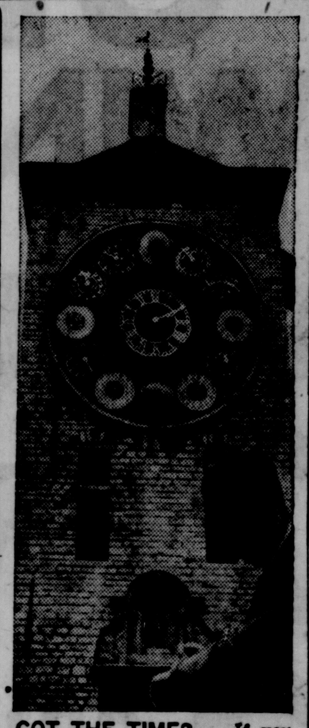
Why the Italian taste for foreign cigarettes?

During he war many Italians took a liking to British or American brands. But the main reason is a matter of price. Italy's common cigarettes are a dark tobacco blend costing the equivalent of 32 cents a pack.

National tobacco stores sell popular American brands, with tobacco imported from America and packaged in Italy, for 64 cents. On the street corner black market, American-made originals are about 40 cents.

Shame for Smokers

New York (AP)—Careless smokers are getting the "shame" technique along the Henry Hudson Parkway. To cut down on fires which have ruined fencing and grass plots bordering the parkway, red and white signs reading "careless smokers caused this destruction" have been erected at obviously ravaged sections.



GOT THE TIME? — If you have, clock tower at Lierre, Belgium, is a clockwork mine of information. Clockwise, from 12 o'clock, faces show: Lunar phases, lunar cycle, time equation, Zodiac, solar cycle, days of week, the earth, months, dates, seasons, tides and age of the moon.

Says Tensions Continue

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Aug. 10 (AP)—The head of Argentina's opposition Democratic party says "tensions have not subsided one iota" since President Juan Peron appealed for political truce following the June 16 revolt. Vicente Solano Lima, provisional president of the Long Moribund group, called last night for an end to restrictions he said are stifling the country. His broadcast over Radio Belgrano's 14-station network was the second by an opposition speaker in two weeks—and in the nine years of the Peron regime.

Hearing in Fall

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP)—The joint legislative committee on wiretapping will hold a public hearing in New York city next fall. Assemblyman Anthony P. Savarese, committee chairman, announced the hearing plan yesterday and said the date would depend on how soon law enforcement agencies and private investigators reply to committee questionnaires. Savarese said the questionnaires sought to determine the type of cases in which wires were tapped and the methods and equipment used. He said he expected the results to be compiled within three weeks.

Asked to Take Lead

Karachi, Pakistan, Aug. 10 (AP)—Chaudhri Mohammed Ali, new head of the Moslem League party, was asked today to form a new Pakistan government. Acting Gov, Gen. Iskander Mirza called on Chaudhri, a key government figure since Pakistan's founding in 1947, to take up the task. Mohammed Ali, previous leader of the Moslem League, resigned as prime minister after the league elected Chaudhri as its head Sunday. Child Health Clinics Scheduled Aug. 16-17

Child Health conferences conducted by the Ulster County Health Department will be held at the Health Center, 25 East O'Reilly street, Tuesday, August 16 from 1:30 to 3:30 p. m. A similar clinic will be held at the Health Center, Stone Ridge, Wednesday, August 17, from 9 to 11 a. m.

These clinics are limited to infant and preschool children for the purpose of improving child health through early recognition of defects, advice regarding nutrition, instruction of parents in understanding of growth and development, handling of minor behavior difficulties and the administering of immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough.

These are well child clinics for the maintenance of health and prevention of disease, not for the care of the sick child. Children under the regular health supervision of their own physician are not admitted unless the physician desires this service to be taken over by the Child Health Conference. In this manner, duplication of service is avoided, facilitating the work of the private physician.

Electric Power Record Reached

New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—The nation's production of electric power climbed last week to another all-time high, setting a new record for the fourth week in a row, it was reported today by Edison Electric Institute, trade association for the industry.

Output totaled 10,925,000,000 kilowatt-hours. This compared with 10,727,000,000 the week before. It was 20.6 per cent greater than the 9,059,000,000 kilowatt-week last year.

Stepped-up use of electricity by air-conditioning and refrighours produced in the same eration equipment during the recent heat wave has sent production figures soaring. So has the nation's continued high rate of industrial activity.

All major geographic regions produced substantially more electricity than in the like week of 1954. Percentage increases were as follows: New England 13.2, mid-Atlantic 17.2, central industrial 38.3, west central 20.3, southeast 21.7, south central 8.1, Rocky Mountain 5.6, Pacific northwest 12.4, and Pacific southwest 10.1.

Race Against Storm

Boston, Aug. 10 (AP)—A crew of 92 construction men worked at top speed today to tie down a "Texas tower" radar station 100 miles at sea, in a race against possible hurricane weather. The Coast Guard cutter McCulloch stood by a mile from the tower, however, ready to take the 92 workmen to shore and safety. The rush job was on the last of three permanent legs, driven 50 feet into the ocean bottom, on which the 10 million dollar platform will stand as a base for a navy-air force coastal radar station.

Police Charge 37,000 in Italy Deal in Tobacco

Rome, Aug. 10 (AP)—Tobacco in Italy is a state monopoly, and in the last six months the finance police have brought charges of tobacco smuggling or illegal sale against 37,000 persons.

This anticontraband force has seized 60 foreign-flag boats and confiscated tobacco and cigarettes worth nine billion lire (15 million dollars).

Tobacco smuggling, the finance police say, runs into values far exceeding narcotics traffic in Italy.

Most of the cigarettes are American. Some are English. Many come from the black markets of Naples and Leghorn where U. S. military supply bases are located. Others are run in on dark-of-the moon nights by boats from Gibraltar and Tangier.

Some of the ships seized have been converted wartime motor torpedo boats. Crews are usually a mixture of Italians, Spanish, Portuguese and North African colonials. Some of the ship captains have been British.

Why the Italian taste for foreign cigarettes?

During he war many Italians took a liking to British or American brands. But the main reason is a matter of price. Italy's common cigarettes are a dark tobacco blend costing the equivalent of 32 cents a pack.

National tobacco stores sell popular American brands, with tobacco imported from America and packaged in Italy, for 64 cents. On the street corner black market, American-made originals are about 40 cents.

Shame for Smokers

New York (AP)—Careless smokers are getting the "shame" technique along the Henry Hudson Parkway. To cut down on fires which have ruined fencing and grass plots bordering the parkway, red and white signs reading "careless smokers caused this destruction" have been erected at obviously ravaged sections.

Says Tensions Continue

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Aug. 10 (AP)—The head of Argentina's opposition Democratic party says "tensions have not subsided one iota" since President Juan Peron appealed for political truce following the June 16 revolt. Vicente Solano Lima, provisional president of the Long Moribund group, called last night for an end to restrictions he said are stifling the country. His broadcast over Radio Belgrano's 14-station network was the second by an opposition speaker in two weeks—and in the nine years of the Peron regime.

Hearing in Fall

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP)—The joint legislative committee on wiretapping will hold a public hearing in New York city next fall. Assemblyman Anthony P. Savarese, committee chairman, announced the hearing plan yesterday and said the date would depend on how soon law enforcement agencies and private investigators reply to committee questionnaires. Savarese said the questionnaires sought to determine the type of cases in which wires were tapped and the methods and equipment used. He said he expected the results to be compiled within three weeks.

Teller Is Charged With Taking $46,000

New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—A young bank teller, who says $46,000 mysteriously disappeared from the bank, is being held on charges of embezzling the money.

William Gerard Gravius, 26, arrested yesterday at a summer bungalow in East Hampton on Long Island, told police the money disappeared after he set it aside to deposit in the bank vault last week. He said he was too scared to tell anyone about it.

The fact that the funds were missing was discovered in a bank audit at the Hillside avenue branch of the Jamaica National Bank. Gravius, who lives at (208 Norman Drive) East Meadow, N. Y., has worked at the bank seven years. His salary was $63 a week.

Writer Selects Betty Grable As Top Un-Actressy Actress

By JAMES BACON

Hollywood, Aug. 9 (AP) — A reader asks: "Who is Hollywood's most level headed, most down to earth, in short, most un-actressy actress?"

This is the kind of question that puts a Hollywood writer out on a limb. Since there are no nicer limbs than Betty Grable's, she is our choice for that title.

"I DON'T KNOW how I've lasted this long, I'm so dull," Betty once told me in a classic understatement. She was referring to her lack of sensational frontpage headlines a la Monroe or Hayworth.

Betty's daily life could be summed up as a race at breakfast with hubby Harry James over who gets to read the sports section; a lot of time spent with her family and her stable of horses; plus a passion for Harry James records.

The James' social life is about as un-Hollywood as can be. Their friends are mostly of the turf set.

IT'S AMAZING how few movie stars we know," she said. "For instance, the closest I ever came to knowing Clark Gable was when we both had the same dentist.

"One day I was in the chair with my mouth wide open and Clark stopped by. The dentist said, 'Clark, want to see some beautiful teeth.' And there I sat while Gable and the dentist looked at my mouth. I never saw him in person before or since."

Betty could well afford to be a conceited actress because she is one of the greatest boxoffice stars in the industry's history. In fact, after Darryl Zanuck had an artistic success but boxoffice flop with "Wilson," he commented:

"I'LL NEVER make another historical picture unless it has Betty Grable in it."

Always cooperative, Betty took every musical role 20th Century-Fox handed her, but she went on suspension rather than to play a heavy dramatic role in "Pickup On South Street."

"I just told them I'm no dramatic actress," she explained. "I know what I can do best—singing and dancing."

ACTUALLY the best thing Betty does is look beautiful in "How to Be Very, Very Popular," she and Sheree North play a couple of burlesque queens.

Betty was a big star when Sheree was going to the kids' matinee on Saturday afternoons, but in the picture, they look the same age. And, what's more, on the street, they still look the same age.

That's no reflection on Sheree—it's just that Betty's face and figure seem ageless.

LIKE ALL STARS who started when they were youngsters, she gets that inevitable greeting from the junior matron set. It usually goes like this:

"I used to play hookey from high school every time one of your pictures came to town."

Most of them still can't figure out how Betty can still look so good. Actually, it is easily explained. Betty still has a few years to go before she hits 40. And when she first became a grownup star, it was at an age when she could have been playing hookey from school herself.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Stoppers Guard Trick Losers

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

There isn't much doubt about the source of the tricks for today's slam contract. South should expect to win four diamond tricks, one heart, one spade, and six trump tricks. The only problem in the hand is in the timing of the play.

Dummy wins the first trick with the ace of spades, and South must plan to ruff two spades in dummy, draw trumps, develop the diamonds, and still lose no trick except one in diamonds. How should all of this be done?

The best technique is to lead a low diamond from the dummy at the second trick! This may seem startling, but a diamond trick must eventually be lost in any case, and this is the most convenient time to lose it.

West wins the diamond and may return a heart, his best defense. South takes the ace of hearts, ruffs a spade in the dummy, leads a trump to the jack, ruffs another spade with dummy's ace of trumps, and leads dummy's last trump to his own hand.

South is now in position to draw all of the trumps, after which dummy takes four diamond tricks. This gives declarer the expected 12 tricks, one spade, one heart, four diamonds, four natural trump tricks, and two spade ruffs.

Five Polio Cases Are Reported at Summer Camp

Boston, Aug. 10 (AP)—Five cases of polio were reported today among 114 boys attending a summer camp at Middleboro, Mass.

The report came as the 1955 polio total in the six New England states rose to 1,189 compared with 240 in the corresponding period last year. The disease has taken 34 lives.

Dr. William Fishman, director of Camp Avoda at Middleboro, which caters to boys from New York and Boston, said he had written the young campers' parents advising them that every precaution is being taken.

"STRENUOUS activities have been curtailed," Dr. Fishman said. "There has been no swimming allowed since polio was reported, and a doctor visits the campers twice a day for examinations."

Meanwhile municipal officials in Boston decided against curtailing the summer playground program by cancelling excursions to museums, concerts and baseball games.

Dr. John H. Cauley, city health commissioner, said after the conference with school officials that "no significant hazard" exists "because . . . most of the Boston children have been exposed (to the disease)."

CLOSE TO one-third of all the New England polio cases have occurred in Boston, where the total climbed yesterday to 351. The city has had 11 deaths from the disease out of 31 in Massachusetts this year.

State totals through yesterday, with comparative figures to the same date in 1954: Massachusetts 927-92; Connecticut 121-102; New Hampshire, 48-14; Rhode Island, 47-13; Vermont, 19-6; Maine, 27-13; six New England states, 1,189-240.

The Massachusetts figures showed 509 cases in the first nine days of August, compared with 17 in the comparable period a year ago.

Confesses Slayings

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 10 (AP)—Nineteen-year-old Robert J. Miller, released this spring from a federal reformatory, was held in city jail today after police said he confessed the bludgeon slayings of his mother and stepfather. Franklin County Prosecutor Samuel L. Devine said Miller may be charged later today or tomorrow, depending on the outcome of further questioning.

Machinists Return

Johnson City, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP) — AFL Machinists headed back to work today after ratifying a two-year contract to end a 15-day strike at the Ozalid Division of the General Aniline and Film Co. The union's Lodge 1807 voted 182-53 last night to approve a contract calling for hourly wage increases of four cents retroactive to July 1, another four cents next March 1 and four cents more Nov. 1, 1956. Company and union negotiators agreed on the contract earlier in the day. About 370 production workers struck July 26. The regular work force is about 700.

The United States has about 5,000 mink farmers.

This is the kind of question that puts a Hollywood writer out on a limb. Since there are no nicer limbs than Betty Grable's, she is our choice for that title.

"I DON'T KNOW how I've lasted this long, I'm so dull," Betty once told me in a classic understatement. She was referring to her lack of sensational frontpage headlines a la Monroe or Hayworth.

Betty's daily life could be summed up as a race at breakfast with hubby Harry James over who gets to read the sports section; a lot of time spent with her family and her stable of horses; plus a passion for Harry James records.

The James' social life is about as un-Hollywood as can be. Their friends are mostly of the turf set.

IT'S AMAZING how few movie stars we know," she said. "For instance, the closest I ever came to knowing Clark Gable was when we both had the same dentist.

"One day I was in the chair with my mouth wide open and Clark stopped by. The dentist said, 'Clark, want to see some beautiful teeth.' And there I sat while Gable and the dentist looked at my mouth. I never saw him in person before or since."

Betty could well afford to be a conceited actress because she is one of the greatest boxoffice stars in the industry's history. In fact, after Darryl Zanuck had an artistic success but boxoffice flop with "Wilson," he commented:

"I'LL NEVER make another historical picture unless it has Betty Grable in it."

Always cooperative, Betty took every musical role 20th Century-Fox handed her, but she went on suspension rather than to play a heavy dramatic role in "Pickup On South Street."

"I just told them I'm no dramatic actress," she explained. "I know what I can do best—singing and dancing."

ACTUALLY the best thing Betty does is look beautiful in "How to Be Very, Very Popular," she and Sheree North play a couple of burlesque queens.

Betty was a big star when Sheree was going to the kids' matinee on Saturday afternoons, but in the picture, they look the same age. And, what's more, on the street, they still look the same age.

That's no reflection on Sheree—it's just that Betty's face and figure seem ageless.

LIKE ALL STARS who started when they were youngsters, she gets that inevitable greeting from the junior matron set. It usually goes like this:

"I used to play hookey from high school every time one of your pictures came to town."

Most of them still can't figure out how Betty can still look so good. Actually, it is easily explained. Betty still has a few years to go before she hits 40. And when she first became a grownup star, it was at an age when she could have been playing hookey from school herself.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Stoppers Guard Trick Losers

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

There isn't much doubt about the source of the tricks for today's slam contract. South should expect to win four diamond tricks, one heart, one spade, and six trump tricks. The only problem in the hand is in the timing of the play.

Dummy wins the first trick with the ace of spades, and South must plan to ruff two spades in dummy, draw trumps, develop the diamonds, and still lose no trick except one in diamonds. How should all of this be done?

The best technique is to lead a low diamond from the dummy at the second trick! This may seem startling, but a diamond trick must eventually be lost in any case, and this is the most convenient time to lose it.

West wins the diamond and may return a heart, his best defense. South takes the ace of hearts, ruffs a spade in the dummy, leads a trump to the jack, ruffs another spade with dummy's ace of trumps, and leads dummy's last trump to his own hand.

South is now in position to draw all of the trumps, after which dummy takes four diamond tricks. This gives declarer the expected 12 tricks, one spade, one heart, four diamonds, four natural trump tricks, and two spade ruffs.

Five Polio Cases Are Reported at Summer Camp

Boston, Aug. 10 (AP)—Five cases of polio were reported today among 114 boys attending a summer camp at Middleboro, Mass.

The report came as the 1955 polio total in the six New England states rose to 1,189 compared with 240 in the corresponding period last year. The disease has taken 34 lives.

Dr. William Fishman, director of Camp Avoda at Middleboro, which caters to boys from New York and Boston, said he had written the young campers' parents advising them that every precaution is being taken.

"STRENUOUS activities have been curtailed," Dr. Fishman said. "There has been no swimming allowed since polio was reported, and a doctor visits the campers twice a day for examinations."

Meanwhile municipal officials in Boston decided against curtailing the summer playground program by cancelling excursions to museums, concerts and baseball games.

Dr. John H. Cauley, city health commissioner, said after the conference with school officials that "no significant hazard" exists "because . . . most of the Boston children have been exposed (to the disease)."

CLOSE TO one-third of all the New England polio cases have occurred in Boston, where the total climbed yesterday to 351. The city has had 11 deaths from the disease out of 31 in Massachusetts this year.

State totals through yesterday, with comparative figures to the same date in 1954: Massachusetts 927-92; Connecticut 121-102; New Hampshire 48-14; Rhode Island, 47-13; Vermont, 19-6; Maine, 27-13; six New England states, 1,189-240.

The Massachusetts figures showed 509 cases in the first nine days of August, compared with 17 in the comparable period a year ago.

Confesses Slayings

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 10 (AP)—Nineteen-year-old Robert J. Miller, released this spring from a federal reformatory, was held in city jail today after police said he confessed the bludgeon slayings of his mother and stepfather. Franklin County Prosecutor Samuel L. Devine said Miller may be charged later today or tomorrow, depending on the outcome of further questioning.

Machinists Return

Johnson City, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP) — AFL Machinists headed back to work today after ratifying a two-year contract to end a 15-day strike at the Ozalid Division of the General Aniline and Film Co. The union's Lodge 1807 voted 182-53 last night to approve a contract calling for hourly wage increases of four cents retroactive to July 1, another four cents next March 1 and four cents more Nov. 1, 1956. Company and union negotiators agreed on the contract earlier in the day. About 370 production workers struck July 26. The regular work force is about 700.

The United States has about 5,000 mink farmers.

Good Wooden Nickels

Mattoon, Ill. (AP)—During the city's centennial celebration, wooden nickels about the size of a half dollar were worth a full five cents paid by local banks.

Bandit Gets $37,000

Ackerman, Miss., Aug. 10 (AP) —A young khaki-clad bandit robbed the Bank of Ackerman of $37,000 early today and fled with an accomplice in a pickup truck. The robbery occurred at 7:50 a. m., when assistant cashier John Keen arrived for work. Keen, a 56-year-old cripple, told officers he found one of the bandits inside when he opened the door of the bank. The bandit, masked wth a white handkerchief and wearing sun glasses, ordered him to open the bank vault. The bandit, in his haste, left a trail of bills from the bank vault to the alley where the truck waited.

Port Ewen Woman Hurt in Mishap

A Port Ewen woman, injured about 4 p. m. Tuesday in a two-car collision on Route 9W about a mile south of the village, was reported in "fairly good" condition today at Benedictine Hospital.

She is Mary Steigerwald, 41, who suffered back and neck injuries.

The injured woman was a passenger in a 1952 sedan operated by John Genther, 28, of Rosendale, Highland State Police said.

The Genther car was traveling north when it applied brakes to avoid hitting a car ahead of it turning right into a driveway, Trooper G. E. Whiting said. The Genther car was struck in the rear by a 1951 sedan operated by Joseph Fay, 28, of 35 Livingston street, Kingston, it was reported.

Car 'Total Loss,' Driver Unhurt In Trailer Crash

The driver of a passenger car miraculously escaped injury in a collision with a tractor-trailer on Route 9W near the Greene county line about 9:45 p. m. yesterday, Kingston State Police reported.

The passenger car, traveling north, and the tractor-trailer, owned by Pilot Freight Carriers, Winston-Salem, N. C., traveling south, were approaching a New York Central railroad underpass, troopers said.

Jack Wilkinson, 19, of Tulsa, Okla., operating the car, and George Faircloth, 27, of Kanapolis, N. C., driving the tractor-trailer, both applied their brakes. The car went into a skid and slid sideways into the oncoming tractor-trailer, according to Trooper Raymond Kowalski who investigated. The car spun around and went off the east shoulder of the highway and down an embankment.

The automobile was listed as "total loss" by the state police. The tractor-trailer received only minor damage.

'Picnic' Opens At Playhouse

Woodstock, Aug. 10—"Picnic" the new offering at the Woodstock Playhouse this week, is concerned with the unexpected arrival of an egotistical young vagrant in a small, whistle-stop Oklahoma town. Hal Carter is not quite so much of a bum as he at first appears as it develops he is a fraternity brother of Alan Seymour, the town's young college intellectual who also possesses a Cadillac.

Carter is really quite a guy, so they say, who won his college scholarship on his football prowess. He also has quite a devastating way with the women —young and old—with the end result that he turns Mrs. Potts' and Mrs. Owens' picnic into a romantic shambles.

THERE ARE undoubtedly specifically gifted males in this world capable of setting the heads of every female in the vicinity spinning, propelling them into uncontrollably foolish action. But the impact of Hal's personality doesn't quite come off, and the spectacle of several women going beserk in the presence of a Don Juan from across the tracks lacks conviction.

There is certainly sympathy for Madge Owens, breathlessly beautiful, yearning to leave her mother's cramped little house for the more exciting life. Peggy Maurer possesses every ounce of the luminous beauty Madge Owens requires to arouse Hal Carter's ardor. Henry Silva is the devastating Hal whose life is frought with one scrape after another.

Phyllis Wynn is the wise little bookish teen-age sister, Millie Owens, and she is vividly alive, impudent and enormously appealing, the one best fitted of them all to escape the drab surroundings.

Virginia Downing as Mrs. Helen Potts, and Jane Lloyd-Jones as Flo Owens, both ably reflect the attitudes of two mature women who have each had their own youthful disappointments.

Farms Are

The vacation business picked up after World War 1 and is now almost equal to argiculture in production of total annual income. The needle trades also came into the area, attracted by the surplus of labor, he said. The construction business grew and the general economy was fairly stable with "business fairly good" but still not good enough to attract outsiders as it does today.

In the old days, Mr. Kurdt said, 80 or 90 per cent of the population was rural but today one farmer can raise foood for approximately 18 people. "Quite a change!" He said there had been a terrific increase in specialization.

He said there were 80 cold storages in the county and that two and a quarter million bushels of apples could be stored at one time.

He called particular attention to the development of "modified" storage of apples in which the storage chambers are sealed airtight and the fruit kept in perfect condition for almost an indefinite time. Ulster county, which has pioneered in this type of storage, has approximately half a million bushels of this "modified" storage—75 per cent of the nation's total storage of that type.

He said there had been an increase in artificial insemination in the county with 700,000 such inseminations annually in Ulster county alone. As a result, the quality of the cattle is "improving rapidly" by the use of selected bulls.

Ulster county ranks second in the state in poultry raising, he said. The county produces more sweet corn for the "fresh" market than any other county in the state, he said. The county has about 6,000 acres in sweet corn.

The county is first in the state in marketed apple production, he said:

Mr. Kurdt called attention to the Ulster County Fair which opens at Forsyth Park, Kingston, Wednesday, August 17, for two days. He said there would be $9,000 in cash prizes offered.

New York May

rescue work.

The CAP also opened its New York state high frequency radio network to carry emergency traffic.

Even though no one knew whether the hurricane would strike the coast or blow itself out at sea, no one questioned the wisdom of precautions. Their value was learned from three hurricanes in late summer and fall last year. In a six-week period these storms took more than 250 lives and caused damage estimated at 1 1/3 billion dollars.

Sewer

avoided at Albany avenue and Broadway through a change in crosswalk zones, was referred to the traffic committee.

The mayor noted that two crosswalks, iron pipes or stanchions create a bottleneck, especially for cars going westward and turning left down Broadway.

Perhaps if these were eliminated and two lanes painted at that point, he said, it might facilitate the movement of traffic.

THE MAYOR also recommended for consideration "the elimination of the diagonal crosswalk, and instead, have only one, and that where the diagonal crosswalk is now located, or at some point in that immediate vicinity."

A long list of adopted traffic committee recommendations included erection of a traffic light at Dunn and Abeel streets, and a hanging light at Clinton avenue and Main street to synchronize with that at Clinton avenue and Pearl street.

Other regulations provide for no left turn into Clinton avenue from Main street, and established eight new areas of restricted parking.

PARKING is forbidden on the north side of Maiden Lane from Broadway to Green street, on the east side of Green street for 75 feet extending from Pearl towards Main street, on the south side of Pearl street for 103 feet extending from Washington avenue toward Green street, on the east side of the unnamed street between Cornell and Thomas street, a distance of 65 feet toward Cornell street.

Also parking is forbidden on the north side of Albany avenue from Roosevelt avenue to the uptown line of Foxhall avenue, on the east side of Grand street from Prince street to the entrance of the A & P parking lot, the south side of Prince street extending 70 feet from the corner of Prince and Grand streets toward Garden street, and on the south side of Hasbrouck avenue for 163 feet extending from Grand street and Hasbrouck avenue toward Garden street.

A stop-sign was approved for Fairmont avenue at Miller's Lane, and a parking meter is to be installed at the corner of Broadway and Field Court in front of the Casablanca.

Alderman James K. Ryan, 10th Ward, before voting on the traffic changes, suggested that action be taken to determine what can be done about 15-minute and one-hour parking signs in the city, which are currently not backed by ordinance.

Ryan said he had observed signs which were apparently not backed by authority, and he said he "would like to know where they come from." He indicated that one person in the city is as entitled as another to use such signs if they are not officially authorized, or backed by ordinance.

Alderman Charles J. Cole, 13th Ward, thanked Alderman Storms and the traffic committee for action that gained a traffic light for Dunn and Abeel streets, and Storms thanked Cole for expressing his appreciation. Cole said he felt the committee must have spent some time observing the trucks which use the intersection.

Brooklyn Dodger Rookies Will Play FYL Stars on August 23

Tryouts Set For Selection Of Local Squad

Karam and Dede Head Brook Group

Brooklyn Dodger Rookies invade Kingston on Tuesday, Aug. 23, for a baseball game against a group of local youths. The contest is scheduled at Dietz Stadium at 8:30 o'clock.

The game is being sponsored by the Fraternal Youth League. Two FYL coaches, Jules Albertini and Frank Nadal, will select the local team.

TRYOUTS for berths on the Kingston squad will be conducted in the near future. All area youths up to and including 19 years old are eligible to compete for places.

The game will continue a series begun six years ago when the Brooklyn team was known as "Brooklyn Against the World.

This year's team was selected from 476 candidates.

THE ROOKIES, under the direction of Brooklyn scouts Turk Karam and Arthur Dede, is touring the northeast during the summer, playing local teams to help raise revenue for youth activities and charity funds in the various communities they visit.

Karam and Dede have declared that the current squad is the strongest yet, especially in the pitching department. The mound staff has three lefthanded and three righthanded hurlers.

Many former Rookies have graduated to the major leagues. The list includes Billy Loes and Sandy Koufax, Brooklyn; Ed "Whitey" Ford and Tom Carroll, New York Yankees; Johnny and Eddie O'Brien, Pittsburgh; and Cal Abrams and Gus Triandos, Baltimore.

Crows	8	3
Wrens	7	4

Eagles	1	11

Scoring seven runs in the ninth inning, the Crows downed the Eagles 16-9 in the completion of a Jaycee Little League game last night at Forsyth Park.

The Crow's triumph, plus the Wrens' 6-5 defeat at the hands of the Hawks in another postponed game, gave the former team sole possession of first place.

THE CROWS-EAGLES game was a continuation of a July 13 tilt called after seven innings with the score tied at 9-9.

Skippy Aiello was the victim of the Crows' onslaught, absorbing his sixth straight loss. He set the Crows down in order in the eighth, but was combed for four hits, plus four walks in the ninth.

THE HAWKS and Wrens, tied 5-5 at the end of the six on July 25, took only one extra inning to decide matters.

Hovert Schult, who pitched the seventh, was the winner. Jim Burns hurled the previous six. Dan Van Wagenen went the route for the losers, striking out 14.

Reading Hurler Clicks in Debut

(By The Associated Press)

Reading, Pa., Aug. 10 (AP)—Glenn Harshbarger, Reading Indians pitcher, has made about an impressive a start in the Eastern League as possible. He won the All-Star game.

Harshbarger, optioned to Reading Monday from Indianapolis in the American Assn., hurled the final five innings last night to give the Indians a 6-5 triumph over the massed stars of the other seven teams.

The new moundsman, gave up two home runs that allowed the All Stars to score all of their runs. But the visitors trailed the Indians for the entire game.

Jim Coates of Binghamton, first of five All-Star pitchers, was charged with the loss. Reading's Don Minnick and Don Nance pitched two shutout innings each before Harshbarger came on.

Engineer Wins

Yonkers, Aug. 10 (AP)—The Engineer, a 5-year-old gelding driven by Ed Kelly took the featured $5,000 Dunwoodie Pace at the Yonkers Raceway last night in 2:04.3. Owned by Kelly and G. P. Berry, Port Norris, N. J., the winner paid $12.40. Duane Hanover was second, a nose ahead of Up Top.

School District No. 8 Juniors Plan First Practice Monday

The first organized practice for the School District No. 8 junor baseball league will be conducted Monday evening. The session will be conducted at the school diamond, beginning at 6 o'clock.

All boys in the 8-15 age group who reside in the school district are eligible to try out for the teams.

At a meeting Monday, plans were formulated for laying out the diamond and for buying equipment.

Brooklyn Dodger Rookies Will Play FYL Stars on August 23

Tryouts Set For Selection Of Local Squad

Karam and Dede Head Brook Group

Brooklyn Dodger Rookies invade Kingston on Tuesday, Aug. 23, for a baseball game against a group of local youths. The contest is scheduled at Dietz Stadium at 8:30 o'clock.

The game is being sponsored by the Fraternal Youth League. Two FYL coaches, Jules Albertini and Frank Nadal, will select the local team.

TRYOUTS for berths on the Kingston squad will be conducted in the near future. All area youths up to and including 19 years old are eligible to compete for places.

The game will continue a series begun six years ago when the Brooklyn team was known as "Brooklyn Against the World.

The Brooklyn National League team each year names 19 metropolitan area high school stars to the Rookies' roster. The squad is chosen by Dodger scouts.

This year's team was selected from 476 candidates.

THE ROOKIES, under the direction of Brooklyn scouts Turk Karam and Arthur Dede, is touring the northeast during the summer, playing local teams to help raise revenue for youth activities and charity funds in the various communities they visit.

Karam and Dede have declared that the current squad is the strongest yet, especially in the pitching department. The mound staff has three lefthanded and three righthanded hurlers.

Many former Rookies have graduated to the major leagues. The list includes Billy Loes and Sandy Koufax, Brooklyn; Ed "Whitey" Ford and Tom Carroll, New York Yankees; Johnny and Eddie O'Brien, Pittsburgh; and Cal Abrams and Gus Triandos, Baltimore.

The largest opening day crowd in major league history was the 73,163 at Cleveland's Municipal Stadium in 1948. The Indians played the Browns.

The Battle Rages

Crows Gain First Place By Routing Eagles, 16-9

Van Wagenen Fans 14 for Wren Nine

Jaycee LL

	W	L
Crows	8	3
Wrens	7	4
Hawks	7	5
Eagles	1	11

Scoring seven runs in the ninth inning, the Crows downed the Eagles 16-9 in the completion of a Jaycee Little League game last night at Forsyth Park.

The Crow's triumph, plus the Wrens' 6-5 defeat at the hands of the Hawks in another postponed game, gave the former team sole possession of first place.

THE CROWS-EAGLES game was a continuation of a July 13 tilt called after seven innings with the score tied at 9-9.

Skippy Aiello was the victim of the Crows' onslaught, absorbing his sixth straight loss. He set the Crows down in order in the eighth, but was combed for four hits, plus four walks in the ninth.

Bill Reardon got the victory with a neat relief job. Reardon hurled the final two innings, striking out four. Rodger Wells worked the previous seven.

THE HAWKS and Wrens, tied 5-5 at the end of the six on July 25, took only one extra inning to decide matters.

In the seventh, Jeff Gerlock reached first on a catcher's balk, took third on Pete Coffey's third single and scored on Berry Bliss' infield roller.

Hovert Schult, who pitched the seventh, was the winner. Jim Burns hurled the previous six. Dan Van Wagenen went the route for the losers, striking out 14.

(Second Half)
City Baseball League

Nalder Motors	1	0

Ferraro Bowlodrome	0	1

The second half standing in the City Baseball League have a slightly different tinge than those of the first half.

And don't let anybody kid you. Those Nadler Motormen can handle the first half champion New York Panthers anytime the occasion presents itself.

They did it again yesterday, 7-6, in the first and only meeting of the two squads in the second round. They led by as much as 6-1 when the Panthers exploded for five runs in the fifth to knot the score at 6-6.

THE MOTORMEN cracked through Jack Houghtaling's air-tight pitching to clinch the game with a run in the bottom of the seventh.

Houghtaling had relieved Bob Maines in the fourth and pitched perfect ball for three innings. But he walked Eric Goercke and it was fatal. The young banker went to second on an infield out and scored on Bob Fay's double.

Nadler's moved ahead 3-0 in the first when Goercke was hit by a pitched ball, Fay walked and Bill Smith and Ward Dunham singled behind a throwing error by Maines.

It went to 6-0 in the third on Fay's walk, Chuck Engle's double, a sacrifice fly and singletons by Dunham and Torm Larsen.

THE PANTHERS got one back in the fourth on Johnny Godwin's triple and an infield out. They made their big bid the next time up with a cluster of five runs. Skip Brodhead, Bill Haber and Houghtaling produced singles, Steve Cea cracked a double and Baumer contributed two boots to make up the flurry.

Jones Dairy meets Ferraro's Bowlodrome in today's game at 6:15 p. m.

Kiwanis took over first place in the red hot Fraternal Youth League pennant race by blanking the Veterans of Foreign Wars, 4-0, on Bill Thomas' four-hitter yesterday at Dietz Stadium.

THOMAS DIDN'T issue a pass and struck out five in the five-inning game. The victory gave Kiwanis a 6-1 record in the standings for a half-game margin over the Volunteer Firemen.

Kiawanis collected eight hits off Ray Radel and Paul Gardner and blew the game wide open with a six-run rally in the fourth.

The winners picked up two unearned runs in the second on walks to Jay Van Loan and Tom Hallinan, an infield out and Marv Williams' miscue.

HOBART ARMSTRONG'S triple to deep center and Frank Sammons single in the third made it 3-0.

Singles by Ward Yerry and Thomas and a fielder's choice quickly loaded the bases in the big fourth. Armstrong singled Yerry and Thomas home. Sammons was safe on Williams' second miscue, Locke scoring and Joe Schrowang followed with a home run to right field. There was more as Hallinan followed with a single and came all the way home when Jerry McDonough misplayed Dave O'Connor's single to center.

Armstrong, with a single and triple, was the only player with two hits.

Nadler Motors Hands Panthers Second Straight Defeat, 7-6

Bob Fay's Double Breaks Up Game In 7th Inning

Chuck Engle Wins On Seven-Hitter

Dobler Beer	1	0
Nalder Motors	1	0
New York Panthers	0	1
Ferraro Bowlodrome	0	1

The second half standing in the City Baseball League have a slightly different tinge than those of the first half.

And don't let anybody kid you. Those Nadler Motormen can handle the first half champion New York Panthers anytime the occasion presents itself.

They did it again yesterday, 7-6, in the first and only meeting of the two squads in the second round. They led by as much as 6-1 when the Panthers exploded for five runs in the fifth to knot the score at 6-6.

THE MOTORMEN cracked through Jack Houghtaling's airtight pitching to clinch the game with a run in the bottom of the seventh.

Houghtaling had relieved Bob Maines in the fourth and pitched perfect ball for three innings. But he walked Eric Goercke and it was fatal. The young banker went to second on an infield out and scored on Bob Fay's double.

Chuck Engle, who went the route for Nadlers and yielded seven hits, was the winning pitcher.

Nadler's moved ahead 3-0 in the first when Goercke was hit by a pitched ball, Fay walked and Bill Smith and Ward Dunham singled behind a throwing error by Maines.

It went to 6-0 in the third on Fay's walk, Chuck Engle's double, a sacrifice fly and singletons by Dunham and Torm Larsen.

THE PANTHERS got one back in the fourth on Johnny Godwin's triple and an infield out. They made their big bid the next time up with a cluster of five runs. Skip Brodhead, Bill Haber and Houghtaling produced singles, Steve Cea cracked a double and Baumer contributed two boots to make up the flurry.

Brodhead rapped three singles in three trips for the Panthers. Smith and Dunham had a pair of hits each for the winners.

Jones Dairy meets Ferraro's Bowlodrome in today's game at 6:15 p. m.

Kiwanis took over first place in the red hot Fraternal Youth League pennant race by blanking the Veterans of Foreign Wars, 4-0, on Bill Thomas' four-hitter yesterday at Dietz Stadium.

THOMAS DIDN'T issue a pass and struck out five in the five-inning game. The victory gave Kiwanis a 6-1 record in the standings for a half-game margin over the Volunteer Firemen.

Kiawanis collected eight hits off Ray Radel and Paul Gardner and blew the game wide open with a six-run rally in the fourth.

The winners picked up two unearned runs in the second on walks to Jay Van Loan and Tom Hallinan, an infield out and Marv Williams' miscue.

HOBART ARMSTRONG'S triple to deep center and Frank Sammons single in the third made it 3-0.

Singles by Ward Yerry and Thomas and a fielder's choice quickly loaded the bases in the big fourth. Armstrong singled Yerry and Thomas home. Sammons was safe on Williams' second miscue, Locke scoring and Joe Schrowang followed with a home run to right field. There was more as Hallinan followed with a single and came all the way home when Jerry McDonough misplayed Dave O'Connor's single to center.

Armstrong, with a single and triple, was the only player with two hits.

SPORTS

By Charles J. Tiano
Sports Editor

Their baseball days are long since over, but the spirit of the Roaring Forties and Dr. Francis O'Connor's Kernels still runs high.

They were the remnants of a golden era of area baseball when every city, town and village in Ulster county had a first rate team.

But in their declining years, when time had laid a heavy hand on their matchless skills, they turned baseball into fun and frivolity and good fellowship. The boxscores of their "games" told the ageless story of man's timeless but futile struggle to recapture his youth. But it was great fun.

Father John Drew, formerly of St. Mary's Church, who heads a Catholic mission at Fung Yuan in Formosa, was a member of that group, although he never took sides with Bill Edelmuth's Roaring Forties or the doctor's Kernels. He remained aloof from partisan squabbles on the field. He was a member of the team, both teams, for that matter.

Today Father Drew is engaged in heart warming struggle for Christianity in an Oriental world which some day might become one of the international hotspots of the world.

It is reassuring to learn that a local committee headed by Edelmuth has raised several hundred dollars to help Father Drey build a new chapel in the Formosa village where he preaches the gospel. And the Roaring Forties and Kernels have been generous contributors to the Father John Drew Fund.

Father Drew has been overwhelmed by the response from among his many friends in Kingston. In a letter to the committee, he wrote:

"It's a well known fact that Oriental politeness far exceeds that of the West where civilization seems to be further advanced. Over here when they express gratitude, they start off in the low ten thousands (reminds me of my last golf score). From this little tidbit of info you can get some idea of the thankfulness that is going out from this area to you and all the others who helped and are helping to make this particular area a bit more cognizant of its spurce and its destiny. In that expression of gratitude I'm going all the way and not merely starting off.

"Have a pretty good idea of how rough it is to run those affairs, especially when you have so many other demands. But you'd be surprised what we can do with the amount you deposited. Will be able to build a complete chapel in the country and have a centrally located place for the peoples from about 10 villages to gather," Father Drew said.

The work of the Father Drew Fund continues in Kingston and the local committee will be happy to hear from the many friends of the padre. The committee roster, besides Edelmuth and Dr. O'Connor, includes Larry Quilty, Bernard Feeney, William Dwyer, Francis Noonan, Leo Schupp, Raymond Schatzel, Joseph Huber, Harry Beck, J. Ellis Briggs, John McManus, Assistant DA, John J. Schick and yours truly.

"It's surprising the amount of good you can do when time is limited," Father Drew concluded. "Spread those thanks around and tell all those fellows to keep smiling."

Basilio 3-1 Over Scortchi

New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—Welterweight champion Carmen Basilio swaps his fishing rod for boxing gloves tonight when he faces Italy's Italo Scortichini in a nontitle 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

The 28-year-old 147-pound king, idle since he lifted the crown from Tony Demarco two months ago, is a 3-1 favorite to whip the stocky middleweight in their third meeting. The bout, starting at 9 p. m. (EST) will be broadcast and telecast by the ABC networks.

BASILIO has been taking bows and loafing since he stopped the hard-hitting Demarca in the 12th round of a dramatic scrap in Syracuse June 30.

Scortichini is in good shape following a successful two-fight trip to Manila he knocked out Young Paulino, the Filipino middleweight king, in four rounds, and stopped Marshall Clayton in eight rounds. Italo's won-lost-draw record is 28-16-6 with 10 knockouts.

Yesterday's Stars

(By The Associated Press)

PITCHING — Willard Nixon, Red Sox, tumbled New York for fourth time in five decisions this season, scattering six hits and fanning five for 4-1 victory in opener of crucial series.

HITTING — Bobby Morgan, Phillies, drove in four runs with homer, triple and single in 9-1 pasting of Pirates.

Dorp Golfers Cop Pro-Senior

Bob Haggerty, assistant pro at the Edison Golf Club, Schenectady and his partner, W. A. Bolster, of the same club, carded a best ball 61, 10 under par, to capture the annual Pro-Senior event Monday at the Antlers Club in Amsterdam.

They put together nines of 31-30. Charlie DeStefano, Poughkeepsie, and Dr. Charles Kovacs were second with 33-30-63.

Five players tied at 72 in the pro division, including Haggerty, DeStefano, Steve Savel, Dick Stennard and Steve Kay. Alex Gerlak of Twaalfskill and J. Carson Hutchins of Woodstock also competed.

Trabert Will Defend National Doubles

Boston, Aug. 10 (AP) — Ailing Tony Trabert will return to defend his national doubles tennis title with Vic Seixas next week and be ready for the Davis Cup challenge round at Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 26-28.

The welcome news to U. S. tennis followers came yesterday from Davis Cup Capt. Billy Talbert at press conference preceding the 75th national doubles tourney at Longwood Cricket Club, Aug. 15-21.

Duke University's football team under coach Bill Murray has won three Atlantic Coast Conference championships in four years.

By Charles J. Tiano

Their baseball days are long since over, but the spirit of the Roaring Forties and Dr. Francis O'Connor's Kernels still runs high.

They were the remnants of a golden era of area baseball when every city, town and village in Ulster county had a first rate team.

But in their declining years, when time had laid a heavy hand on their matchless skills, they turned baseball into fun and frivolity and good fellowship. The boxscores of their "games" told the ageless story of man's timeless but futile struggle to recapture his youth. But it was great fun.

Father John Drew, formerly of St. Mary's Church, who heads a Catholic mission at Fung Yuan in Formosa, was a member of that group, although he never took sides with Bill Edelmuth's Roaring Forties or the doctor's Kernels. He remained aloof from partisan squabbles on the field. He was a member of the team, both teams, for that matter.

Today Father Drew is engaged in heart warming struggle for Christianity in an Oriental world which some day might become one of the international hotspots of the world.

It is reassuring to learn that a local committee headed by Edelmuth has raised several hundred dollars to help Father Drey build a new chapel in the Formosa village where he preaches the gospel. And the Roaring Forties and Kernels have been generous contributors to the Father John Drew Fund.

Father Drew has been overwhelmed by the response from among his many friends in Kingston. In a letter to the committee, he wrote:

"It's a well known fact that Oriental politeness far exceeds that of the West where civilization seems to be further advanced. Over here when they express gratitude, they start off in the low ten thousands (reminds me of my last golf score). From this little tidbit of info you can get some idea of the thankfulness that is going out from this area to you and all the others who helped and are helping to make this particular area a bit more cognizant of its spurce and its destiny. In that expression of gratitude I'm going all the way and not merely starting off.

"Have a pretty good idea of how rough it is to run those affairs, especially when you have so many other demands. But you'd be surprised what we can do with the amount you deposited. Will be able to build a complete chapel in the country and have a centrally located place for the peoples from about 10 villages to gather," Father Drew said.

The work of the Father Drew Fund continues in Kingston and the local committee will be happy to hear from the many friends of the padre. The committee roster, besides Edelmuth and Dr. O'Connor, includes Larry Quilty, Bernard Feeney, William Dwyer, Francis Noonan, Leo Schupp, Raymond Schatzel, Joseph Huber, Harry Beck, J. Ellis Briggs, John McManus, Assistant DA, John J. Schick and yours truly.

"It's surprising the amount of good you can do when time is limited," Father Drew concluded. "Spread those thanks around and tell all those fellows to keep smiling."

Basilio 3-1 Over Scortchi

New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—Welterweight champion Carmen Basilio swaps his fishing rod for boxing gloves tonight when he faces Italy's Italo Scortichini in a nontitle 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

The 28-year-old 147-pound king, idle since he lifted the crown from Tony Demarco two months ago, is a 3-1 favorite to whip the stocky middleweight in their third meeting. The bout, starting at 9 p. m. (EST) will be broadcast and telecast by the ABC networks.

BASILIO has been taking bows and loafing since he stopped the hard-hitting Demarca in the 12th round of a dramatic scrap in Syracuse June 30.

Scortichini is in good shape following a successful two-fight trip to Manila he knocked out Young Paulino, the Filipino middleweight king, in four rounds, and stopped Marshall Clayton in eight rounds. Italo's won-lost-draw record is 28-16-6 with 10 knockouts.

PITCHING — Willard Nixon, Red Sox, tumbled New York for fourth time in five decisions this season, scattering six hits and fanning five for 4-1 victory in opener of crucial series.

HITTING — Bobby Morgan, Phillies, drove in four runs with homer, triple and single in 9-1 pasting of Pirates.

Dorp Golfers Cop Pro-Senior

Bob Haggerty, assistant pro at the Edison Golf Club, Schenectady and his partner, W. A. Bolster, of the same club, carded a best ball 61, 10 under par, to capture the annual Pro-Senior event Monday at the Antlers Club in Amsterdam.

They put together nines of 31-30. Charlie DeStefano, Poughkeepsie, and Dr. Charles Kovacs were second with 33-30-63.

Five players tied at 72 in the pro division, including Haggerty, DeStefano, Steve Savel, Dick Stennard and Steve Kay. Alex Gerlak of Twaalfskill and J. Carson Hutchins of Woodstock also competed.

Trabert Will Defend National Doubles

Boston, Aug. 10 (AP) — Ailing Tony Trabert will return to defend his national doubles tennis title with Vic Seixas next week and be ready for the Davis Cup challenge round at Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 26-28.

The welcome news to U. S. tennis followers came yesterday from Davis Cup Capt. Billy Talbert at press conference preceding the 75th national doubles tourney at Longwood Cricket Club, Aug. 15-21.

Duke University's football team under coach Bill Murray has won three Atlantic Coast Conference championships in four years.

League Nullifies Lone Colonial Win in NY-NJ

Mohawk Protest Upheld on Use Of Player-Ump

Managers Vote Against Playoffs

The Kingston Colonials' only victory in the New York-New Jersey Semi-pro Baseball League was disallowed by league officials last night.

In a lively session at the Hotel Newburgh, the circuit authorities gave the game back to the Indians—the New York Mohawks.

The league also voted three to one against playoffs.

The Mohawks had filed a protest on the July 16 game here, which the Colonials won by a 9-2 score.

THE NEW YORK team charged that Steve Cea, who played right field for Kingston that night, had umpired a previous Mohawk game.

Motioning of the protest was made by Poughkeepsie president Joe Sauter. It was seconded by Newburgh. Since only four clubs were represented, and two could not vote on the measure, the motion carried.

The victory shoved the Mohawks into first place with an 8-2 record, half a game ahead of Poughkeepsie. The Bridge City team plays its final game against Paterson Thursday night. If Poughkeepsie wins, a playoff for first piece will be necessary.

PATERSON HAS three games remaining and must win them all to finish in a deadlock for first. One of the Uncle Sams' remaining tilts is against the Colonials here Saturday night.

The vote over the playoffs saw Kingston, Poughkeepsie and New York vote "no" and Newburgh "yes." Paterson and Brooklyn Brooklyn were not represented.

The revised standing:

	W	L
New York	8	2
Poughkeepsie	7	2
Paterson	5	2
Newburgh	4	4
Brooklyn	1	7
Kingston	0	8

(The Associated Press)

That American League pennant race is really a dilly. Where else could a team lose three straight to the seventh place club, then win one from the fifth place member and still edge upward into second place?

Cleveland did just that in its last four games—blowing a three-game set at Washington that dumped the Indians out of a virtual three-way tie for the lead and then moving up again with a 4-2 decision over Detroit last night.

WHAT'S MORE, while the Indians dropped seven of 13 on their recent eastern swing, they lost only a half game in the frantic pennant scramble.

With the victory at Detroit, Cleveland moved into the runnerup spot ahead of the New York Yankees, beaten by Boston 4-1. The Chicago White Sox stayed out front with a 4-1 success at Kansas City.

Here's the way the Titans line up at the moment:

	W	L	Pct.	GB
Chicago	64	43	.598	...
Cleveland	65	45	.591	½
New York	65	46	.586	1
Boston	64	46	.582	1½

FOUR RUNS in the second inning got the job done for the Indians, who combined a pair of walks, two singles and Gene Woodling's double to beat Ned Garver and the Tigers in the opening game of a three-game set for Detroit.

Southpaw Billy Pierce took over for the White Sox, checking the Athletics on two hits—both by Bill Wilson, who banged a homer with two out in the ninth.

Pierce contributed a run-scoring single ahead of Minnie Minoso's two-run triple as the White Sox shelled Bobby Shantz with three runs in the second.

Boston powered past the Yanks on homers by Billy Klaus and Grady Hatton while Willard Nixon was doin' what comes naturally—scattering six Yank hits for his fourth victory in five decisions against the New Yorkers this season.

THE TWO HOMERS and a single were the only hits Boston got off loser Whitey Ford until the ninth. Then a single and Nixon's double made it 4-1.

A crowd of 61,678—largest night throng in the majors this season and tops at Yankee Stadium since July 21, 1950—sat in as the Red Sox made it four straight in New York.

The other AL action saw Bill Wight four-hit Washington for a 1-0 Baltimore victory in the first game of a twi-night pair; then Roy Sievers homered twice for four runs in a 6-3 Nat success in the nightcap.

IN THE NATIONAL, Brooklyn stayed 14 games out front with a 3-2 decision over New York in 10 innings; Milwaukee smacked St. Louis 6-2; Philadelphia clung to fourth with a 9-1 pasting of Pittsburgh, and Chicago beat Cincinnati 4-3.

The Dodgers spotted the Giants two runs in the first inning on Willie Mays' 36th homer, then nicked Ruben Gomez in the sixth and seventh to tie it. Reliefer Marv Grissom loaded the bases, then walked home the clincher in the 10th.

The Phils stayed a half game up on the Cubs as Bobby Morgan knocked in four runs with a homer, triple and single against the Pirates. Chicago managed to edge the Redlegs with an unearned run in the sixth, after a three-run first.

Softball Sluggers Crack Six Homers in Three Games

City Softball League batters for six home runs in three reported games yesterday.

FRED ORR'S homer and two singles highlighted Les Pommier's 4-2 triumph over Fuller Skyline. Veteran Joe Amato tossed a net seven-hitter for the winners.

George Brinkman and Rod Whitaker unloaded homers for Cedar Rest in a 15-7 win over Turcams. Brinkman also hit a double and single in five trips to give Phil Tesoro the win.

"Please help me... my baby is choking!"

"My baby swallowed a piece of comb," the woman frantically told our telephone operator. "She's choking!"

Calming the woman as best she could, our operator went into action. She called a doctor. He advised the woman what to do temporarily. In the meantime, our operator's switchboard was a beehive of activity. She put in an emergency call for an ambulance. She sent the police speeding to the house. She summoned the woman's next-door neighbor to go over and lend a helping hand. In a matter of minutes the ambulance arrived, and the doctor removed the piece of comb from the little eighteen-month-old's throat.

We wanted to pass along this story because we think it typifies the "spirit of service" of telephone folks everywhere. The spirit that does so much to make telephone service so warm and friendly — so helpful in every way. New York Telephone Company.

This Is Really Giving it Back to the Indians

League Nullifies Lone Colonial Win in NY-NJ

Mohawk Protest Upheld on Use Of Player-Ump

Managers Vote Against Playoffs

The Kingston Colonials' only victory in the New York-New Jersey Semi-pro Baseball League was disallowed by league officials last night.

In a lively session at the Hotel Newburgh, the circuit authorities gave the game back to the Indians—the New York Mohawks.

The league also voted three to one against playoffs.

The Mohawks had filed a protest on the July 16 game here, which the Colonials won by a 9-2 score.

THE NEW YORK team charged that Steve Cea, who played right field for Kingston that night, had umpired a previous Mohawk game.

Motioning of the protest was made by Poughkeepsie president Joe Sauter. It was seconded by Newburgh. Since only four clubs were represented, and two could not vote on the measure, the motion carried.

The victory shoved the Mohawks into first place with an 8-2 record, half a game ahead of Poughkeepsie. The Bridge City team plays its final game against Paterson Thursday night. If Poughkeepsie wins, a playoff for first piece will be necessary.

PATERSON HAS three games remaining and must win them all to finish in a deadlock for first. One of the Uncle Sams' remaining tilts is against the Colonials here Saturday night.

The vote over the playoffs saw Kingston, Poughkeepsie and New York vote "no" and Newburgh "yes." Paterson and Brooklyn Brooklyn were not represented.

The revised standing:

	W	L
New York	8	2
Poughkeepsie	7	2
Paterson	5	2
Newburgh	4	4
Brooklyn	1	7
Kingston	0	8

By ED WILKS
(The Associated Press)

That American League pennant race is really a dilly. Where else could a team lose three straight to the seventh place club, then win one from the fifth place member and still edge upward into second place?

Cleveland did just that in its last four games—blowing a three-game set at Washington that dumped the Indians out of a virtual three-way tie for the lead and then moving up again with a 4-2 decision over Detroit last night.

WHAT'S MORE, while the Indians dropped seven of 13 on their recent eastern swing, they lost only a half game in the frantic pennant scramble.

With the victory at Detroit, Cleveland moved into the runnerup spot ahead of the New York Yankees, beaten by Boston 4-1. The Chicago White Sox stayed out front with a 4-1 success at Kansas City.

Here's the way the Titans line up at the moment:

	W	L	Pct.	GB
Chicago	64	43	.598	...
Cleveland	65	45	.591	½
New York	65	46	.586	1
Boston	64	46	.582	1½

FOUR RUNS in the second inning got the job done for the Indians, who combined a pair of walks, two singles and Gene Woodling's double to beat Ned Garver and the Tigers in the opening game of a three-game set for Detroit.

Southpaw Billy Pierce took over for the White Sox, checking the Athletics on two hits—both by Bill Wilson, who banged a homer with two out in the ninth.

Pierce contributed a run-scoring single ahead of Minnie Minoso's two-run triple as the White Sox shelled Bobby Shantz with three runs in the second.

Boston powered past the Yanks on homers by Billy Klaus and Grady Hatton while Willard Nixon was doin' what comes naturally—scattering six Yank hits for his fourth victory in five decisions against the New Yorkers this season.

THE TWO HOMERS and a single were the only hits Boston got off loser Whitey Ford until the ninth. Then a single and Nixon's double made it 4-1.

A crowd of 61,678—largest night throng in the majors this season and tops at Yankee Stadium since July 21, 1950—sat in as the Red Sox made it four straight in New York.

The other AL action saw Bill Wight four-hit Washington for a 1-0 Baltimore victory in the first game of a twi-night pair; then Roy Sievers homered twice for four runs in a 6-3 Nat success in the nightcap.

IN THE NATIONAL, Brooklyn stayed 14 games out front with a 3-2 decision over New York in 10 innings; Milwaukee smacked St. Louis 6-2; Philadelphia clung to fourth with a 9-1 pasting of Pittsburgh, and Chicago beat Cincinnati 4-3.

The Dodgers spotted the Giants two runs in the first inning on Willie Mays' 36th homer, then nicked Ruben Gomez in the sixth and seventh to tie it. Reliefer Marv Grissom loaded the bases, then walked home the clincher in the 10th.

The Phils stayed a half game up on the Cubs as Bobby Morgan knocked in four runs with a homer, triple and single against the Pirates. Chicago managed to edge the Redlegs with an unearned run in the sixth, after a three-run first.

Softball Sluggers Crack Six Homers in Three Games

City Softball League batters for six home runs in three reported games yesterday.

Dick Chatham slugged a pair and Bob Nash hit one as Krovans routed Local 259, 24 to 4. Nash added a single and a triple to his hit collection.

FRED ORR'S homer and two singles highlighted Les Pommier's 4-2 triumph over Fuller Skyline. Veteran Joe Amato tossed a net seven-hitter for the winners.

George Brinkman and Rod Whitaker unloaded homers for Cedar Rest in a 15-7 win over Turcams. Brinkman also hit a double and single in five trips to give Phil Tesoro the win.

Border Welcome Set For Scouts at Jamboree

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP)—Boy Scouts attending the Eighth World Jamboree at Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont., Aug. 18-25 will receive a friendly welcome from American customs and immigration officials at border check points.

A customs official yesterday said inspectors would show every courtesy to the visiting scouts, and an Immigration Office spokesman said the scouts would be granted liberal border-crossing privileges.

MORE THAN 10,000 scouts from 40 nations are expected to encamp at the Canadian jamboree site on Lake Ontario at the mouth of the Niagara river. Up to 20,000 additional tourists daily are expected to visit the encampment.

Harold R. Becker, Buffalo district customs collector, said customs regulations governing the importation of merchandise would be observed, but he indicated the scouts would have no trouble entering this country with their souvenirs.

Swapping souvenirs is a major activity at all scout jamborees.

A SPOKESMAN for the Buffalo office of the Immigration Service said scout organizations attending the jamboree had been granted waivers of passport and visa requirements. This will permit scouts to enter and leave the United States as easily as visiting Canadian citizens, who have virtually free access to this country.

The key points of entry along the Niagara frontier are the Lewiston Bridge at Lewiston, N. Y., the Peace Bridge here, and the Rainbow and Whirlpool Bridges at Niagara Falls. The Youngstown-to-Niagara-on-the-lake ferry across the Niagara river also was expected to get heavy use by the scouts and tourists.

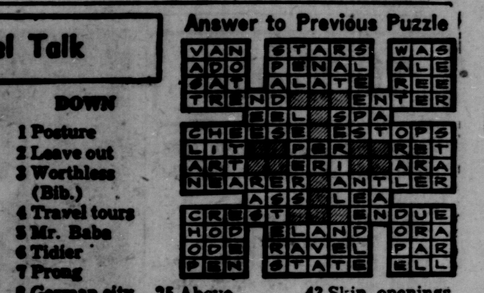
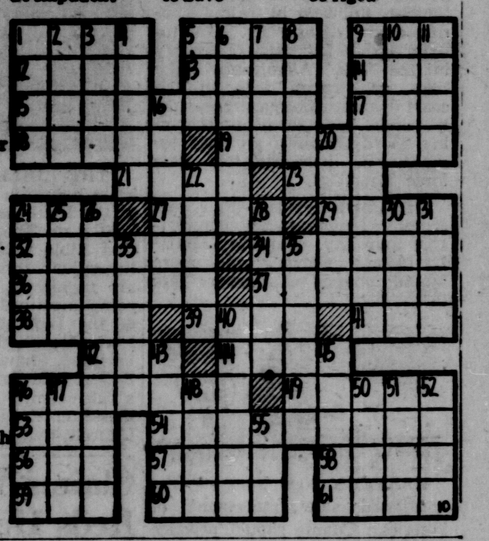
Answer to Previous Puzzle





President to Ask Changes in Law on Military Reserves

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP) — President Eisenhower says he'll ask Congress early next year to make major changes in the new military reserve program, which he signed into law yesterday.

Eisenhower said the measure, product of three months of Congressional wrangling, "falls short" of his recommendation. However, he signed it a few hours before the deadline for presidential action because, he said, it will "definitely strengthen the reserve structure."

THE GOAL of the new program is expansion of the 700,000-man "ready" reserve to 2,900,000 men. Eisenhower wanted this goal met by 1960, saying it was vital to his plan for reducing the active armed forces. But changes made by Congress in effect postponed the full reserve buildup by two years.

In a 600-word statement released by the White House after he signed the bill at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm, Eisenhower made known his plan to ask early amendment of the new law.

HE SAID he is instructing Secretary of Defense Wilson to prepare, for presentation to Congress next year, "amendments necessary to correct the deficiencies in this legislation."

The President complained that the bill fails to grant authority to draft men for the reserves "if sufficient numbers to meet military requirements are not obtained voluntarily."

Border Welcome Set For Scouts at Jamboree

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP)—Boy Scouts attending the Eighth World Jamboree at Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont., Aug. 18-25 will receive a friendly welcome from American customs and immigration officials at border check points.

A customs official yesterday said inspectors would show every courtesy to the visiting scouts, and an Immigration Office spokesman said the scouts would be granted liberal border-crossing privileges.

MORE THAN 10,000 scouts from 40 nations are expected to encamp at the Canadian jamboree site on Lake Ontario at the mouth of the Niagara river. Up to 20,000 additional tourists daily are expected to visit the encampment.

Harold R. Becker, Buffalo district customs collector, said customs regulations governing the importation of merchandise would be observed, but he indicated the scouts would have no trouble entering this country with their souvenirs.

Swapping souvenirs is a major activity at all scout jamborees.

A SPOKESMAN for the Buffalo office of the Immigration Service said scout organizations attending the jamboree had been granted waivers of passport and visa requirements. This will permit scouts to enter and leave the United States as easily as visiting Canadian citizens, who have virtually free access to this country.

The key points of entry along the Niagara frontier are the Lewiston Bridge at Lewiston, N. Y., the Peace Bridge here, and the Rainbow and Whirlpool Bridges at Niagara Falls. The Youngstown-to-Niagara-on-the-lake ferry across the Niagara river also was expected to get heavy use by the scouts and tourists.

Miss Donlon Is Judge

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—Miss Mary H. Donlon, chairman of the New York State Workmen's Compensation Board for 10 years, was sworn in today as a judge of the U. S. Customs Court. She was the first woman to be appointed to a federal bench by President Eisenhower. In her new position, Miss Donlon will receive $22,500 a year for life. As chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Board under former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, she received $17,000.

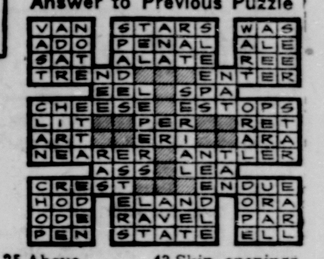
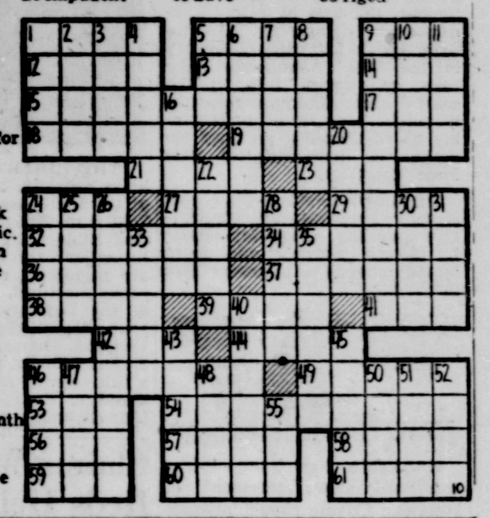
Answer to Previous Puzzle





President to Ask Changes in Law on Military Reserves

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP) — President Eisenhower says he'll ask Congress early next year to make major changes in the new military reserve program, which he signed into law yesterday.

Eisenhower said the measure, product of three months of Congressional wrangling, "falls short" of his recommendation. However, he signed it a few hours before the deadline for presidential action because, he said, it will "definitely strengthen the reserve structure."

THE GOAL of the new program is expansion of the 700,000-man "ready" reserve to 2,900,000 men. Eisenhower wanted this goal met by 1960, saying it was vital to his plan for reducing the active armed forces. But changes made by Congress in effect postponed the full reserve buildup by two years.

In a 600-word statement released by the White House after he signed the bill at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm, Eisenhower made known his plan to ask early amendment of the new law.

HE SAID he is instructing Secretary of Defense Wilson to prepare, for presentation to Congress next year, "amendments necessary to correct the deficiencies in this legislation."

The President complained that the bill fails to grant authority to draft men for the reserves "if sufficient numbers to meet military requirements are not obtained voluntarily."

Claims Wife Told Reds Held Mate As War Prisoner

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—The air force says it sent a telegram and a letter to Mrs. Una Schmidt in June 1954 to notify her that her airman husband, Daniel C. Schmidt, was reported a prisoner in Red China.

Mrs. Schmidt has told reporters that not until November 1954 was she notified Schmidt was a prisoner of war. That was two months after she had married Alford Fine, 21, she said, in the belief Schmidt was dead.

SCHMIDT, 22, is one of 11 American airmen recently released by the Communists. They are scheduled to arrive Friday at Travis Air Force Base near San Francisco.

Mrs. Schmidt's lawyer said she has taken her son, Danny, 2½, whom Schmidt has never seen, and is living apart from Fine, a logging worker. The 20-year-old woman is in seclusion with her son in a house trailer near Nevada City, Calif., and was not available for comment on the air force statement.

An air force spokesman said last night the air force sent a telegram to Mrs. Schmidt on June 22, 1954, telling her her husband was reported a prisoner and had a receipt from Western Union for delivery of the telegram. The spokesman said he did not know who signed the receipt. He said also it had been presumed the letter, sent the next day confirming the information in the telegram, was delivered since it was not returned to the air force. He did not know the addresses to which the communications were sent.

Killed in Barn

Hoosick Falls, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP)—Walter R. Houlton, 48, was killed yesterday when parts of an old barn from which he was ripping timbers collapsed and fell on him. Thomas E. Styles, Rensselaer county coroner, said Houlton had bought the timbers from H. A. Razzack, owner of the barn at nearby North Hoosick. A large wooden beam fell on Houlton while he removed the planks from the barn side and floor. Styles declared the death accidental.

Tractor Victim Is Former Area Resident

Donald De Hoff, eight, one of two boys killed in a tractor mishap Monday in Greene county, formerly resided with his parents in Lake Katrine, it was reported today.

Young De Hoff, who moved with his family to Maplecrest in April, was one of the victims when the farm tractor on which they were riding overturned, pinning them beneath it. Also killed was David George Vining, 12, also of Maplecrest, town of Windham.

The De Hoff youth was the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan De Hoff of 15 Snyder avenue, this city.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. from the Free Methodist Church in Maplecrest.

PW Accuses

let him in until he went on a wood detail.

The next morning, Bolinsky testified, the men were stiff and dead in "approximately the same place they were the night before."

Another ex-serviceman, Miguel Galvan, 26, of Harlinger, Tex., said he heard Gallagher berate the sick men and accuse them of being too lazy to go outside to a toilet.

Galvan said he objected when Gallagher allegedly threw the men out. He said he recalled saying, "don't put those men outside. It's too cold for them to lie outside."

Earlier in the day three other witnesses gave similar accounts of the way Gallagher treated Jones and Baxter. In the courtroom to hear the story was Jones' mother, Mrs. Loretta Jones.

Gallagher's trial began Aug. 3. The prosecution expects to wind up its case in the sixth day of testimony today. Thus far the defense has not indicated how many witnesses it plans to call or whether Gallagher will take the stand in his own defense.

At Waukon, Iowa, Frank W. Baxter, 63, retired farmer, said yesterday he had never heard any details of his son's death until he read accounts of the Gallagher court-martial.

He added:

"That man should be punished to the fullest extent if he did what they say he did."

H-Bomb Security May Depend on Right Home

(Editor's note: If an H-bomb should strike before the city could be evacuated, would you have a chance of survival? This second of four articles on what has been learned since Hiroshima shows how the answer may depend upon the house in which you live.)

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—Four homes tell part of the story of survival against H-bombs.

They stood on Yucca flat in Nevada less than a mile from the center of an atomic blast nearly twice as powerful as the bomb that killed 70,000 Japanese in Hiroshima.

A two-story brick house was demolished. But its basement and its shelters came through intact.

Next door, a one-story frame Rambler was smashed into rubble. It had no basement haven.

BUT PART of this Rambler house did stand up—the bathroom. Inside were two tail-wagging, barking dogs, showing no immediate signs of injury.

This bathroom was specially made. It had thick concrete walls, a blast door and window that recessed into the wall when not needed. The blast door and window had been closed.

The A-blast last May gave a test of this built-in shelter, which cost $500 when the Rambler was constructed.

A SAFE haven for humans? Very probably, at this distance from that powerful A-bomb. Or safe if it were in a house at a five-mile distance from an H-bomb 1,000 times more powerful than the Hiroshima bomb.

Atomic weapons lash out not only with blast, but with heat and with radiation. At this distance of less than a mile from an explosion of this power, the Rambler house probably was bathed with X-rays of 400 to 450 roentgens. That dose of X-rays would be fatal to about half of humans exposed to it.

THE CONCRETE walls of the bathroom shelter soaked up or stopped much of the X-rays. Studies will show whether humans would have been made sick by such X-rays even if they had survived the blast and the heat. The concrete stopped the heat waves.

This X-ray radiation is immediate, and over very quickly, like the X-rays that take a picture of your chest. They did not make the bathroom walls radioactive.

The lesson: This bathroom shelter greatly boosted the human chances of living through that close to an atomic blast of that power.

Next door to the Rambler houses were two other one-story houses, one of pre cast lightweight concrete, the other of reinforced lightweight cinder block.

THEY WERE damaged, structurally, a bit, but easily repairable.

These two houses pointed up one very important survival lesson—the necessity of avoiding flying glass or other objects The windows in these concrete houses were smashed, spreading a lethal gravel of glass that ripped the bodies and clothes of mannequins, slashed the curtains, pitted the walls. Doors blew in, and bits of venetian blinds became dangerous bullets.

But there were places, in corners or in hallways, or behind furniture, where this lethal spray of broken glass and flying objects would not have reached. Humaps who had ducked into such places, or even behind stuffed furniture or into a fireplace, would have stepped up their chances for survival or even escaped from injury, that close to a bomb more powerful than those which burst over Japanese cities.

U. S. production of coal in 1954 averaged 2½ tons for every person in the country.

Hit-Excuse-Run

St. Petersburg, Fla. (AP)—Police are looking for a new kind of hit-run driver — she hit, stopped to make excuses, then ran. Patrolman Al Sevier said Martin Dickinson complained that another car grazed his. The driver stopped only long enough to say: "I haven't any money, I haven't any insurance and I'm a sick woman," Dickinson related.

QUESTION: Is it true that an employer can be held liable for damage resulting from an employee driving his own car in the employer's business even if the employer doesn't know about it?

ANSWER: Yes—and even if the employer has expressly forbidden it. The best out for the employer is to make certain he has adequate limits of Non-Ownership Liability Insurance. The premium is small but the coverage is vitally important.

The answers to everyday insurance problems*
By HERMAN J. EATON

QUESTION: Is it true that an employer can be held liable for damage resulting from an employee driving his own car in the employer's business even if the employer doesn't know about it?

ANSWER: Yes—and even if the employer has expressly forbidden it. The best out for the employer is to make certain he has adequate limits of Non-Ownership Liability insurance. The premium is small but the coverage is vitally important.

* If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be NO CHARGE or OBLIGATION OF ANY KIND.
